ELKS HOME SITE IS SOUGHT FOR THEATRE; ELKS GET PROPOSAL

Membership Of Lodge Will Make Final Decision Next Wednesday

NEW THEATRE WOULD BE BUILT AT ONCE

Elk's Quarters Would Be Included In Projected New Building

Erection of an imposing $250,000 theatre building, seating 1,500 persons, is projected to start on the North Mill street site of the Elks club sometime early in February if final sanction of the plan is given at a meeting of the entire Elks lodge membership, in the home, next Wednesday night, Charles Van Fleet, chairman of a special committee of Elks handling negotiations said today.

With tentative negotiations completed, the signal for construction to commence now rests with the lodge as a whole. The matter will be presented by a special committee which for some time has been handling preliminaries, headed by Mr. Van Fleet.

The proposed theatre home, over which would be commodious lodge rooms, is planned by Paramount Pictures, Inc., of New York, he says.

Representatives Here
Engineers, architects and other representatives of the film corporation have been in the city for several weeks, conferring with designated representatives of the lodge, and investigating the feasibility of the theatre, it was said.

It is understood that Paramount representatives are unanimously in favor of proceeding, if the lodge itself next week gives the necessary approval.

PA NEW OBSERVES

A local man asked Pa New if the First Christian church clock wasn't working, or was it running by Daylight Savings Time!

We are suspicious of this wonderful weather. It would be like Jack Frost to have some mighty heavy snow storms up his sleeve, to serve to us mortals at a future date.

Heard a lady say that she is quite tired of eating rabbit, but that she dares not tell her husband, for he is very proud of his hunting ability and delights in seeing the cooked product on the dinner table every night. This lady has tact!

A man from the district of Warren, Pa., remarked to Pa New the other day that deer had destroyed many bushels of potatoes he had raised. Seems as if the deer are particularly fond of potatoes. But wait until the big game season commences, and the farmer will get even.

Suggestion is made by one of Pa New's observers that traffic signal lights will probably have to be erected at both ends of the North street bridge. Especially at the Croton avenue end of the bridge is one believed necessary, he says. The completion of the North street repaving traffic has increased largely over the North street span.

There seems to be a certain age when little girls act fresh and discourteous. Pa New observed four little girls of that age walking down Allen street Thursday night after the concert at Benjamin Franklin

WILL ROGERS says:
(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 21.—Before the child welfare gang yesterday, Mr. Hoover delivered just about his best speech.

I got my doubts as to what he thinks of politicians, but he must love children, or he couldn't have thought of some of those fine paragraphs. He has never posed as an orator, but he had a lot of things that an orator would have liked to have said.

Chicago University come out yesterday with a terrible radical idea, they proposed to graduate a student as soon as he knew enough. That shows you that higher education is making progress.

It's taken 2,000 years to think of such a thing. Heretofore they have made the smart ones stay there four years just to keep the dumb ones company.

Lecturer Known Here Dies Suddenly

Joel S. McKee Receives Word Of Sudden Death Of Ralph Parlette

Joel S. McKee, cashier of the First National Bank, received word from friends in Chicago this morning, informing him of the death of Ralph Parlette, widely known writer, publisher, and lecturer.

Mr. Parlette is known to a number of New Castle people and will be widely remembered through his address at the convention of the Pennsylvania State Educational Society here last December.

He has been a personal friend of Mr. McKee's for the past 30 years. Mr. McKee, having become acquainted with him while a student at Ohio Northern University at Ada, O., where Mr. Parlette was publisher of the college paper.

Later Mr. Parlette went to Chicago where he engaged in the publishing business, and of late years has spent considerable time on the lecture platform.

Council Hears Plan Of Relief Committee To Give Employment

S. D. Pearson as chairman of the unemployment committee of the Mayor's relief commission today told city council, in session at the city hall, that with $70,000, he could put 400 men to work for a period of 75 days which would go far to alleviate the unemployment question here this winter.

He suggested the sum of $70,000, of the city appropriation of $35,000, of the sum and he would request the county commissioners to appropriate a similar amount.

Council informed Mr. Pearson that they desired time to give consideration to the request and that he should appear again before council Monday when council will probably give Pearson a definite answer.

After Pearson had made the request, Councilman Burns pointed out that "we have to take care of the city. The county would not spend money in the city. I thought the committee was formed to ascertain conditions here."

"You do not need spend this money until you decide how to disburse the fund," Pearson answered. "It is a question if we have enough money to operate for the balance of the fiscal year," said Burns, adding:

"We may have to borrow $100,000 to carry on from January to April

Local Credit Exchange Holds Annual Meeting

Six New Directors Are Elected At Session In Trinity Church Last Evening

Truesdale Gives Interesting Address On Credit Problems And Benefits

With over a hundred members and their friends in attendance, members of the New Castle Credit Exchange observed their fourth anniversary last evening with a dinner in the Trinity church.

Directors were elected to serve the exchange for a period of three years, and an interesting program was presented in connection with the meeting. The address of John R. Truesdale, manager of the Pittsburgh Credit Exchange, was one of the features, while a one-act play "Charge It," showing how the Credit Exchange benefits members, also made a big hit with the audience.

Elect Directors.
The election resulted in the following being named directors: Three years, John Abel, J. C. Miner, Carl Paisley, Ivor V. Davis and Norman F. Clark; two years, F. W. Eakin. Balloting took place during the dinner, after which John Hutten, Charles Weitz and Fred Moser were appointed tellers to conduct the election.

Play Is Staged.
Rev. Philip C. Pearson, pastor of the Trinity church, pronounced the invocation at the opening of the dinner and immediately following the dinner the play was put on by the personnel of the Credit Exchange, assisted by Walter Dietterle and Howard Burckhalter, the latter manager of the Meadville Credit Exchange.

The play was very capably presented, the cast having been assisted in their rehearsals by C. W. Herman Hess. It depicted the benefit secured by Homer Greathart, merchant, after he made use of the services offered by the Credit Exchange, showing him how to stop his credit leaks.

Those in the cast were as follows: Homer Greathart—Ray F. Hall, Miss Tactful—Mrs. E. R. Welch, Henry Ozalot—Walter Dietterle, Miss Protection—Mabel Steinbrink, Mr. Protection—Howard Burckhalter, Mrs. Gozalot—Mrs. Margaret Kirker, I. Foolalot—Ray F. Hall, Miss Perislan—Eva Wimer, Miss Spendalot—Mary Greene.

The address of Mr. Truesdale followed, in which he pointed out the importance of an intelligent knowledge of credit in any business project.

Truesdale Talks.
He stated that many merchants were retrenching at the present time and a great number were making the mistake of retrenching along credit lines, discharging credit managers.

President Of Cuba Becomes Dictator

(International News Service)
HAVANA, Nov. 21.—A bill granting President Machado the power to suspend the rights of all Cuba and thereby invest himself with unqualified dictatorship was passed by the senate during its night session.

The measure passed by a vote of 46 to 4. Its approval by the house will be sought Monday.

The Herald De Cuba meanwhile published a report which said that secret police arrested the student board of directors of the University of Havana on charges of sedition for its recent demand that President Machado resign office.

The request came in an ultimatum to Senator Barreras, who had been appointed to establish peace between the government and students. The names of those allegedly arrested were not published.

Soviet Government Takes Steps To Put Down Rumors Concerning Revolt

STALIN'S RULE TOO OPPRESSIVE

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—The Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, struggling through a morass of economic, political and social difficulties to reduce to reality the aims and ideals of Nicolai Ilyavitch Lenin, thus far has weathered internal storms and external complications.

Today it is battling anew an old enemy. It is running the gauntlet of anti-Bolshevik propaganda. From hostile hot-beds of rumor and hearsay throughout Europe there is being spread a grapevine of anti-Soviet reports, ranging from serious disaffection in the army to counter-revolutionary plots fostered by members of the government themselves and conspiracies against the lives of society leaders.

Denials Made.
The Soviet government has denied them all, or with stinging invective characterized them unworthy of denials.

But recalling the age-old adage that "where there is smoke there is fire," competent international observers have sought to penetrate beneath the surface and determine just what foundation there may be for the sudden flood of rumor and report.

The verdict seems to be that the rumors undoubtedly are the product of growing economic difficulties and increasing dissatisfaction among the masses in Soviet Russia, which is threatening to crack the rigorous discipline of the Soviet party and manifesting itself in growing opposition to the dictatorship of Josef Stalin.

Former Resident Fatally Injured In Auto Accident

Ernest Talbitzer Has Neck Broken When His Car Hits Pole At Side Of Road

Ernest Talbitzer, aged 44, Canfield, O., former well known resident of this city and son of Herman Talbitzer of Eighth street, this city, was instantly killed some time late Wednesday night or nearly Thursday morning, when his neck was broken, as his machine crashed into a telephone pole at the side of the road.

The fatal accident occurred on the improved highway between Niles and Mineral Ridge, O., at what is known as White's hill.

According to the information secured by Herman Talbitzer, the father, his son, who was a painter and decorator, had been working on a job at Warren, O. In order to complete it, he had worked late Wednesday night, doing overtime work in his desire to get through.

It was quite late when he started home in his car and it is believed that he must have fallen asleep at the wheel as he was driving along. As a result, his machine went off the improved part of the highway and crashed into the pole at the side of the road, where it was found with him still at the wheel, but dead, about two o'clock Thursday morning.

When found, the car was out of gear, and the engine of the car was still operating at the rate of about twenty miles an hour. The lights of the car were also on. The only damage done to the machine was the crushing in slightly of the highway radiator of the machine. No glass of the machine had been broken.

On examination, it was found that his neck was broken and according to the authorities there, it is believed that as his car left the road and crashed into the pole, that the sudden and severe jar sustained when the car hit the pole, jerked his head, relaxed in sleep to such an extent that it broke the neck.

Foreign Minister Curtius Makes Stirring Speech Before Federal Council

Accuses Premier Tardieu Of France, With Being Insincere On Disarmament

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—The effect of Foreign Minister Dr. Julius Curtius' speech before the federal council, in which he warned the world that Germany may be forced to declare a moratorium soon because of inability to fulfill reparations obligations, was watched closely today by official circles.

Although he outlined the entire foreign policy of the government, Dr. Curtius primarily stressed the future reparations respite and accused Premier Tardieu of France of insincerity in disarmament problems.

May Call Moratorium.

The address constituted the first official intimation that Germany is likely in the near future to invoke her right under the Young plan to call a moratorium on war debts.

Pursuing a vigorous tone throughout the address, which he read in the Reichsrat council room, the foreign minister also predicted that Germany would demand an early disarmament conference, where each nation must show its colors and its real intentions.

He assured his listeners that Germany had no intention of scrapping the Young plan, but that its feasibility and eventual execution had never been guaranteed by the nation's statesmen.

Editor Of Christian Herald Says President Hoover Never Against Prohibition

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—President Hoover will never come out against prohibition and will reaffirm his allegiance to the Eighteenth Amendment before the 1932 presidential convention. That was the prediction of Stanley High, editor of the Christian Herald, who spoke here yesterday at a meeting of New York Anti-Saloon League.

High said there would be opposition to the president's renomination and he urged the dyes to start at once to back the president for a second term.

At a dinner meeting of the dyes Dr. F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the league in the United States, said that prohibition must be "morally right," because if it were not, "it would have been rejected long ago by the people."

Rocky Mountain Section Buried By Snow Storm

Drop In Temperature Adds To Discomforts Following Heavy Snow Storm

ONE DEATH HAS BEEN REPORTED

Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska Experience Worst Storm In Years

(International News Service)

DENVER, Nov. 21.—A drop in temperature had today added to the discomfort of hundreds of motorists marooned by storms in the Rocky Mountain area. Train traffic was seriously impeded, rural and mining communities isolated and thousands of cattle buried by the snowdrifts.

One death was reported from New Mexico, where Guy Minor, postmaster at Des Moines, N. M., froze to death when he left his stalled car in a blizzard near Dora, N. M.

Snowdrifts were deepest in the vicinity of Trinidad, Colo., where train traffic was held up on the main line of the Santa Fe, and thousands of dollars worth of damage was done when the roof of a garage crashed under the weight of the snow, burying scores of automobiles.

A wing of the Carlyle school in Pueblo, Colo., collapsed and a rural school building near Pueblo was carried away by the force of the wind. The roof of the grandstand at the state fair grounds at Pueblo was blown off.

Motorists Stranded

Many women fainted from cold and hunger when 65 stranded motorists took refuge in a filling station near Colorado Springs.

Snowdrifts near Hugo, Colo., covered the Union Pacific tracks to a depth of 20 feet.

Every main road leading into Cheyenne, Wyo., was blocked by snow. Air mail traffic was resumed yesterday when the skies cleared, after being halted for 36 hours by the storm.

The storm is said to be the worst that has struck eastern Colorado, western Kansas and Nebraska in 25 years. Practically all rail traffic was delayed.

The winds which accompanied the unprecedented heavy snowfall abated yesterday morning and the skies cleared. The thermometer, however, dropped to as low as 20 degrees in many places, causing

Field Club Caddies Have Glorious Time

Given Big Feed And Enjoy An Evening Of Boxing, Billiards And Swimming

EVENT IS HELD AT LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

What is believed to have been the most successful of the annual dinners held for the caddies of the New Castle Field club on Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A., and one hundred and fifty of the boys, who caddied at the Field club golf course during the past year, were the guests of the New Castle Field club on this occasion.

Angelo Monsey, the Field Club Caddie master, was the master of ceremonies for the event and carried out his duties to the satisfaction of the boys and the Golf Committee of the club, the members of which were present.

The first thing on the evenings program was, of course the feed, and an excellent dinner was served, which the boys thoroughly enjoyed. This was followed by two boxing matches, between two of the older and two of the smaller boys of the group. These were three round events and full of real action and afforded the boys much fun. Henry MacNichols, the physical director of the association, acted as referee in these events to the satisfaction of everybody.

The bouts were three rounds each and in the older boy competition, Rudy Campolo won the decision over George Angelo, while in the event for younger boys, Dodo DiMartino won the decision over Dominic Lionelli.

Addresses were given by William M. Nunn, Mike Goldner, a former caddie, who is now a student at Thiel College, Dr. W. P. Felch, Club Professional V. Arthur Smith and Angelo Monsey, caddy master.

Prizes were awarded also at this time to the winners in the caddie tournament, which was held at the close of the past season. The prizes were awarded as follows: In the older group—First, James French, caddie champion; second, Sam Bonapayne; third, Frank Miranda; In the younger group—First, Mike Evangelist; second, Tony Vitto; third, Richard Monsey.

When the above features of the evening's program had been completed, the boys were divided into two groups, half of which went to the boys department, recreation rooms of the association and enjoyed the games and activities of that place, while the other half went to the swimming pool, where they enjoyed swimming, diving and some competition in these events.

After a period of time the groups exchanged places.

In the swimming pool events, Jack Congrove won the event, which was swimming two lengths of the Y. pool, while Sam Rozzi won the event which was for a distance of five lengths of the pool. The fancy diving contest was won by Joe Cozza.

The members of the Golf Committee present and assisting Angelo Monsey, the caddy master, in carrying out the evening's program, consists of Dr. W. P. Felch, P. H. Bridenbaugh, John Offutt, James Matthews and W. M. Nunn.

You're the JUDGE

The Widow Simpson was known for her kind and generous heart. She was also known for a legacy left her by her husband. In addition the widow was known as being quite willing to make loans for stipulated rates of interest.

Messrs. Joyce and Ricks, two gentlemen living just across the state line, asked for a loan on a joint promissory note. The widow Simpson was obliging and the loan was made. When the loan became due the widow reminded the gentlemen of it, but no payment was forthcoming. Meanwhile Mr. Ricks had moved into her state, in fact, into her own town, and so when repeated requests for the money failed to bring it, the widow Simpson filed suit against Mr. Ricks. Mr. Joyce having no domicile in her state.

Upon this suit she recovered judgment, but for some reason the judgment never was satisfied. Then the widow was taken seriously ill and died. The executors of her estate came across the records in that transaction and decided to file suit against Mr. Joyce, the other signer of the note, even though he did not live in the same state. But at the trial Mr. Joyce argued that the fact that the widow Simpson had recovered a judgment in one state against one signer nor barred her executors from suing in another state.

Women Fighting Transfer Plan

Women Fight Against Transfer Of Children's Health Activities

WILL TAKE CASE TO WHITE HOUSE

By PIERCE MILLER International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Though defeated in subcommittee and committee, the women fighting endorsement of a proposal to transfer children's health activities from the children's bureau to the public health service, today threatened to carry the battle to the floor of the White House conference on child health and protection.

As a sequel to the row that broke yesterday at a meeting of the subcommittee on federal health organization, the full committee called in special meeting last night and reaffirmed a previous decision to commend the transfer. Miss Grace Abbott, director of the children's bureau, was the only one to vote against a motion by Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, health commissioner of Detroit. The action resulted in the virtual tabling of a previous motion to substitute a minority report made by Dr. Abbott.

Dr. Joel T. Boone, President Hoover's physician, refused to vote as did Dr. Anna Rude, of Los Angeles. The vote stood 26 to 1.

When the section of public health of the conference meets today efforts will be made to keep the fight over the future of the children's bureau from further marring the success of the conference.

Pearson, saying: "Tell them of your ideas."

"I would like facts," replied Burns. "They are facts," stated White.

Can Proceed "These are the facts," began Pearson. "If we can get $35,000 each from the city and county we can proceed with our employment program. It would put 200 city and 200 county men, making 400, to work. We will have a central place where they can apply for work."

He outlined his plan further by stating that those who apply for work will give their names, state if they have dependents and other pertinent questions will be asked. All the information will be written on a card and investigations will be conducted to ascertain the veracity of the answers.

"Carpetbaggers will not be tolerated. Every man making application will be investigated. A lie will result in his application being thrown out," said Pearson.

"People will not admit they are suffering," White informed council. The question of charity from different organizations developed.

"I am not talking about charity," said Mr. Pearson. "I am 'shooting' at employment and not charity. I am out to help the people who want to work."

"It is too bad that we have this money lying dormant while there is suffering," said Solicitor White.

"We should study this," said Councilman Reeves.

"There should be less talk and more work. We had best stop talking or do something," White declared.

Willing To Help "I am willing to do anything possible to help," Reeves stated.

"Why did you set these sums at $35,000, each?" asked Mayor Gillespie.

"I believe in taking up slack in employment and further believe that $70,000 will take care of it. The money may be spread thin but the workers would be rotated. I can take care of 400 men for three months of 25 working days each month with this," Pearson replied.

He said that if council appropriated this money it would do no particular harm. Pearson said it would require time to get his program going, probably three weeks.

Pearson said that he proposed to interview the county commissioners and again stated that to secure the money, map out the improvement program and other employment conditions to be put in vogue would consume three weeks.

"Give us until Monday to consider this," asked Reeves.

"I am in favor of doing what we can regardless of what the county does," Burns stated.

Pearson said that he anticipates that the fund he has asked for, in his belief will be augmented in many ways.

No doubt Pearson will visit county commissioners today or tomorrow, meet council again Monday and report to the mayor's relief executive committee Monday night at their meeting in city hall.

JOHN BRASHEAR'S SPIDER WEB ILLUSTRATION

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

John Brashear, the grand old man who made his name famous by the manufacture of lenses and mirrors for the largest and most accurate telescope, used to have an illustration of a very striking character that consisted in telling how many tons of spider web it would take to reach from the earth to Alpha Centauri, the nearest star. The writer once heard Brashear give the figure, but does not recall it. However, here is a figure that approaches it. One pound of the finest rayon fiber made by man approximately 4,227.5 miles. The amount sufficient to extend to the nearest star would be about 3 1-10 million tons.

EXCHANGE HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

agers and using a makeshift staff to carry on this work. "Such merchants are doomed to failure," he stated, "because there has never been a time in all history when credit was as important to merchants as now."

Seven of the largest stores in Pittsburgh, he stated, were doing more business and using far more credit reports this year than they have ever done. Many stores were putting more credit on their books, too, he said, in every instance the person applying for credit was carefully investigated through the Credit Exchange.

Mr. Truesdale urged members of the local exchange to report their derogatory information as well as their good information about people they are carrying on their books. He told of a number of instances where such information had been of material benefit to the merchant report cases of this kind, as they were refused credit by other merchants until their old and bad accounts had been paid up.

Analyze Contract.

He urged members to also make use of the collection department of the Credit Exchange, particularly in preference to slick-tongued credit collectors who present ambiguous contracts for the merchant to sign.

In a great many instances the collectors claim they will do this for 20 per cent, but in fine print in the contract they have exorbitant rates outlined, and when the merchants give them old accounts to collect, they get nothing on the first hundred dollars and very little on the remainder.

He urged members to bring any such contracts to Manager Hall of the local Credit Exchange for analysis before signing on the dotted line.

He cited instances of where membership in the Credit Exchange had cost many merchants nothing, because through this agency they were able to clear up old accounts, many of them of long years standing.

Abel Speaks.

In conclusion, Mr. Hall, who acted as chairman of the evening, called on John Abel, president of the Credit Exchange, for a few remarks. In speaking of collections, he told the members of the exchange that they should not present accounts which were practically outlawed and expect results.

"Many merchants do not ask the Credit Exchange to collect any but old bills which they have been unable to collect themselves, and on which very little or nothing can be realized. This is not being fair to the collection department," he said.

He thanked those present for the cooperation in making the Credit Exchange the real institution it now is. He pointed out that the Credit Exchange had collected $9,923.56 from 820 debtors since November 1, 1929, and also called the attention of the members to the financial report of the exchange, which had been placed at each plate for their information.

This report showed assets of $10,331.45 and assets over liabilities of $9,859.74, showing that the Credit Exchange was on a sound business basis.

A meeting of the directors of the Credit Exchange will be held shortly for organization when new officers will be named for the ensuing year.

New Reserve Club To Form At East Brook

East Brook High School Girl Reserve Club Will Be Seventh In County

Constantly the number of Girl Reserve clubs and the number of members in schools and organizations of this city and county are increasing. Hundreds of girls joined the clubs at Benjamin Franklin and George Washington junior high schools and senior high school this year.

On Tuesday morning a new club of Girl Reserves will be organized in East Brook high school. This will be the first time a Girl Reserve club was ever formed at that high school.

Tuesday afternoon activities will commence in the Scioto street Girl Reserve Club and on Thursday the Union high school club will meet. The Elm Street Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserve Club meets regularly and with quite good attendance at each meeting.

discomfort and suffering to persons isolated by the snowdrifts.

Loss of livestock was reported heavy near La Junta and Lamar. The entire Arkansas valley in southeastern Colorado was without electricity when transmission lines snapped under the weight of the snows.

Traffic Resumes

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Although a heavy snowfall held up four through trains in eastern Colorado and New Mexico yesterday, traffic over the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad was practically on scheduled time today, it was announced at the line's general offices here by A. P. Morrison, assistant passenger traffic manager.

The four trains, carrying from 500 to 800 passengers, were blocked from two to six hours yesterday in the vicinity of Trinidad and La Junta, Colo., Morrison said. He characterized the delay as "not material."

Two other through trains, the Chief and the Grand Canyon Limited, were rerouted through Amarillo, Tex.

The line was opened by midnight last night, Morrison stated.

No Appointment To Sanitary Force

Council Takes No Action On Appointment Of Successor To Nat Williams

No successor to the late Nathaniel Williams, sanitary police force, was named today when city council met in formal session at the city hall and Councilman Clayton Reeves stated that for the present no appointment will be made.

Samuel Biven has been filling the position for several months and recently Controller Greer asked City Solicitor White for an opinion as to Biven's status and White ruled that the emergency had ceased to exist.

After stating today that a permanent successor to Williams would be made at present, Reeves, with the consent to councilmanic colleagues, appointed Mr. Biven to perform the duties of Chauncey Davis, a sanitary policeman who is ill.

Today Mr. Reeves asked that a report published stating that he favored Mr. Biven for the permanent position be corrected. He denied this.

His remarks during a recent councilmanic discussion however, tended to furnish this indication.

During that session the civil service list of eligible sanitary policemen was presented and approved.

"What if I do not want a list and want to carry a man there?" Reeves asked.

"It has been six months since he was put there," Burns replied. Solicitor White advised Reeves that he had had sufficient time to fill it.

Reeves stated that "I do not want to carry him unless I have to. I do not want to be surcharged."

"Well, things should be done right, that's all," was Mayor Gillespie's reply.

It was reported today that Councilman Reeves has commenced an investigation of persons who qualified for positions as city sanitary policeman.

But why let the States decide for themselves and deny the same privilege to counties, townships, wards, householders?

Deaths of the Day

Lester Van Natta

Lester Van Natta, of Charleston, Pa., died at 9 p. m. Thursday in his home, following a brief illness of pneumonia.

He is survived by two brothers, William and Harry of Transfer; a half brother, Samuel Stone of Erie and three half sisters, Mrs. B. R. Secrist of Canton, Ohio, Mrs. William Dunlavy, Erie and Mrs. Lottie Rushmore of Sharon.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the home of his brother, William Van Natta, Charleston with Rev. C. C. Baker, of the Methodist church officiating. Interment will be made in Zahniser cemetery.

Jesse L. Badger

Startling and shocking was the news to his friends this morning of the death of Jesse L. Badger, aged 43, 937 Adams street, proprietor of the Badger Meat Market on Highland avenue, who died at 8:30 a. m., his death following an appendicitis operation, which was performed Wednesday in the Jameson Memorial hospital, he having been ill for only one day before entering the hospital.

Mr. Badger was born in Butler county August 16, 1887, the son of David and Ellen Miller Badger, and he had been a resident of New Castle practically his whole life time. He was married twenty-three years ago to Mattie A. Horn. He was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mattie A. Badger; his mother, Mrs. David Badger; two daughters, Mrs. F. S. Davis of Pittsburgh, Miss Elma, a student at Indiana State Normal school; a son, Jesse W., at home; three brothers, Henry Badger, Samuel Badger and William Badger, all of New Castle and a sister, Mrs. Robert Harrison, of Jerome, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Monday, November 24, at 3 p. m. from the residence, 937 Adams street, with Rev. S. B. Copeland in charge. Interment will be made in Savannah cemetery.

alled rulers of the lodge with the present officers in the home last night, the proposal was delivered from every possible angle.

Erection of the theatre would mean the complete razing of the present lodge home, and the acquiring of additional property bordering the Elks' grounds on the south.

Architects' drawings have been completed both for the interior and outside. Spacious quarters for the Elks lodge would be provided upstairs in the new theatre. It would be fireproof throughout.

At next Wednesday's session, the lodge will decide whether or not they shall lease their own property with that to be acquired next door to the Paramount firm. Acceptance of the proposition would mean almost the immediate razing of the present home, and the construction of the new building as soon as possible.

Employment locally would take a boost should the project go through, for the theatre company's plans call for occupancy nine months after construction starts.

Nursing Classes To Start Monday

Classes in home nursing and care of the sick will be started under the direction of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, Monday afternoon, when the first lesson will be taken up by a class of 16.

The course will run eight weeks, and will consist of practical education in home nursing, sanitation, care of the sick, and disease prevention.

At the conclusion of the present course, classes will be organized for a second group, there being a greater demand for the course than was at first anticipated.

The classes will be instructed by Miss Kathryn A. Hite, visiting nurse of the Lawrence County Chapter.

MILDRED DUKES WEDS WAYNE E. PHILLIPS

MME. MERCAT IS ART CLUB GUEST

A wedding of local interest occurred Thursday, November 20, when Miss Mildred Helen Dukes, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Dukes of Park avenue, became the bride of Wayne E. Phillips of Oil City.

The ceremony was performed at Kittanning with the Rev. Norman Liddy officiating with the ring service. The bride who was lovely in a podure blue ensemble, carried a bouquet of white roses and valley lilies and wore accessories to match. The couple were unattended.

Mrs. Phillips is a very popular young girl here, and is a graduate of the local Senior High school in the class of '25. She was connected with the Beauty Shoppe at the New Castle Dry Goods Company until three months ago when she went to Oil City. Mr. Phillips is a graduate of the Meadville High school and of Westminster College. He is affiliated with the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, where he holds a responsible position.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will entertain at a dinner in their newly furnished apartment at Oil City, on Sunday for members of their families, and a few invited guests, numbering approximately fifty.

The young couple will be at home to their many friends in their apartment located at 205 East Fourth street, Oil City.

SAWALLA CLUB HAS EVENING PARTY

A delightful meeting of the Sawalla Club members occurred Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. H. A. Shaffer who resided on Morton street, having all members in attendance. Upon the arrival of everyone, card tables were arranged, and a period of bridge was indulged in as the main diversion. At the close of play, the hostess assisted by her sister, Mrs. W. A. Strimater, served a very delicious repast. Pastel hues were attractively used in the table appointments.

On December 4 the club will gather at the home of Mrs. Albert J. Tidball on North Crawford avenue which will be in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon.

LUNCHEON FEATURES BOOK CLUB MEETING

A beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon featured the gathering of the Highland Book Club members when they met with Mrs. Percy Smith on Wallace avenue Thursday afternoon. Following the menu, served by the hostess and Mrs. Herb McGowan, the ladies adjourned to the parlor where they enjoyed an hour of Bridge. The regular exchange of books occurred at this time.

On Thursday, December 4, Mrs. George Ribby of Lincoln avenue will be hostess to the club.

Correction

The meeting of the St. Joseph Weekly Card club will be held this evening at 8:30 o'clock instead of 8 o'clock as previously announced.

Brilliant Ceremony At Cathedral Wedding

A wedding of outstanding prominence to a wide circle of New Castle people, and one of the prettiest of the season, was solemnized in the Cathedral Thursday evening, November 20, at 6:30 o'clock when Miss Katina Karidis, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Karidis, of Blaine street and Louis Galanis, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Galanis of Erie, were united in marriage. The Rev. Jakeem Pappachristou, pastor of the St. George Orthodox church officiated using the double ring service.

For the occasion the ball room of the Cathedral was artistically decorated with calla lilies, palms and ferns, and was lighted with myriad cathedral candles.

As the wedding guests assembled three hundred in number, they were given their seats by the ushers. Preceding the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. Paul D. Weller sang "O Promise Me" with Mrs. James Callahan accompanying on the piano and Richard James Callahan on the violin.

To strains of the Lohengrin Wedding chorus, little John Manos holding two tall lighted white candles tied with bows of madine, led the bride party to the altar. The bride's attendants were exquisite in gowns made on the grecian lines, and of pastel shades. They carried arm bouquets of baby mums and pom-poms tied with flowing bows of madine of a blending hue. Mrs. William Lestas was chosen as matron of honor, while Miss Rista Karidis, sister of the bride, was selected as maid of honor. As bridesmaids, the Misses Catherine Phillips, of Buffalo, New York, Florence Chronis, of Erie and Tasia Klimas, of Youngstown, Ohio appeared in their gowns fashioned on the grecian lines.

The ushers, Thomas Galanis, Leo Galanis, John Touris and C. Patandrew all of Erie took their places at either side of the altar. The bride, a stately appearance, William Lestas served as best man. Preceding the bride, who entered on the arm of her father, George Karidis, three little flower girls entered and scattered the path leading to the altar with rose petals. They were Georgia Karidis and Maxine Freeman of this city and Matina Carvelas of Youngstown, O. and wore dainty frocks of varied hues.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was stunning in a gown of ivory satin, patterned on the grecian lines, made with a train and long fitted sleeves. She wore a double veil of white tulle one train five yards in length and three yards, with cap caught with tiny hand made orange blossoms. Her arm bouquet was of the large white calla lilies.

A chorus of young girls chanted all through the reading of the nuptials, and after the responses were made and the vows plighted, Mrs. Paul D. Weller sang "I Love You Truly" with piano and violin accompaniment. During the congratulatory period, selections speaking of love, life and happiness were played by Mrs. Callahan and Richard Callahan.

The bride party and guests entered the banquet room where an elaborate menu was served. The bride table was centered with a large wedding cake, consisting of four layers and was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Various baskets of baby mums flanked with green foliage were placed on the tables. Relatives and close friends were seated at the bride table. During the course of the dinner, music was furnished by a ten piece orchestra, and at a suitable time, Mrs. Gerson of Erie, who possesses a rich voice, by request, entertained by singing "Deep in My Heart" and "O Sol Mio." She responded to several encores.

Following the serving, toastmaster, Constantine G. Economus of Youngstown, introduced in a humorous manner, the following guests who responded most fittingly with remarks so appropriate to such an occasion. Senator George T. Wemmer and the Honorable Bart Richards of this city, Gust Olinonou of Youngstown, Ohio, Dr. Gearhart, pastor of the Lutheran church of Erie and Rev. Jakeem Pappachristou of this city.

During the evening, telegrams and messages were received by the honored couple and were read by the toastmaster, Constantine G. Economus. At this time, he also introduced members of the families of the bride and groom, and Wm. Lestas was then called upon when he read a poem in honor of the newlyweds.

Telegrams were received from St. Paul, Minn., Youngstown, O., Parkersburg, West Va., California, Ash-tabula, O., Washington, D. C., Oil City, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Mich., Toledo, O., New York City, Warren, O., Cleveland O., and Greece. Guests were also present from all these places.

The bride is a well known and popular girl in her circle of friends having graduated from the New Castle Senior High school class of '28. The groom is in the restaurant business in Erie. After an extended honeymoon, their destination which was not revealed, Mr. and Mrs. Galanis will take up their residence in Erie.

SECOND CHURCH TEA ATTRACTIVE EVENT

Most attractive were the church parlors of the Second United Presbyterian church Tuesday afternoon as another in the series of teas was given by the ladies of the church.

Palms, ferns and flowers of different varieties were used to beautify the rooms, one particularly beautiful bouquet was that of tinted Florida grass, which had been brought by one of the members from Florida, over these a soft light was shed from the lamps which were placed effectively about the rooms.

Miss Kathryn Newberry presented some beautiful piano numbers, playing "The Turkish March" and the "Irish Lullaby" and Mrs. Oscar Alexander pleased with a reading.

Games of various kinds mingled the crowd in a spirit of goodfellowship and tea and dainty cakes were served with Mrs. Robert Galbraith pouring.

The next tea will be held in January of the new year.

REUNITED LADIES LEAGUE ENTERTAINS

Thirteen members of the Reunited Ladies League gathered at the home of Mrs. Matthew Richards on Maryland avenue Thursday evening, with radio music and chat as the pastimes. Later a business session was in progress, a dainty lunch served by the hostess who had as her aides her grandchildren, Ruth Richards and Trevor Richards, brought the meeting to a close.

In two weeks Mrs. Mary Skidmore will entertain in her home on Mercer street.

Section F Meets

An enjoyable meeting of Section F of the Y. L. B. Class of the Third United Presbyterian church was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Longacre, 1512 Huron avenue with Mrs. R. J. Warnock as associate hostess.

Mrs. Nettie Foringer had charge of the devotional, and Mrs. H. L. Mortimer conducted the business session in an efficient manner. Plans for their Christmas party were completed at this time, and Mrs. Sarah Griffiths was taken in as a new member. Other business of interest was also discussed. Later a variety of games were played and prizes for stunts were awarded to Mrs. Jennie Hauser and Mrs. Sara McConahy. Music and chat also filled in the hours. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the entertainment.

The eighteen ladies who participated at this enjoyable meeting adjourned to gather again on December 4 with Mrs. James B. Kennedy, 1715 East Washington street, Mrs. L. M. Mershimer will be joint hostess.

YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY DINNER

An interesting event of Thursday evening was the tureen dinner held by the Young People of Highland United Presbyterian church in the dining room of the church building. Betty Houston was in charge of the dinner arrangements and the tables were attractive with chrysanthemums and appointments suggestive of Thanksgiving. Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gilkey and Dr. and Mrs. T. J. McFate were special guests.

At the conclusion of a delicious menu the young people adjourned to the parlors where Lucille Emery took charge of the entertainment. Various stunts and games were pleasant diversions, with Hazel Breneman's group winning the prize of the evening.

Lakewood Party

Members of the W. M. L. H. club and a number of guests enjoyed a party at Lakewood on Wednesday evening. Dancing and games were diversions of the evening and a mid-night lunch was enjoyed.

Those who helped serve the lunch were: Misses Irene Perry, Ethel Unger, Freda Ungar and Harley Maskrey and Wilbur Morrison.

Date of the next meeting will be announced later.

G. A. T. 1914 CLUB HAS REGULAR MEETING

The G. A. T. 1914 Club members were the guests of Mrs. George Hurn on Galbraith avenue, Thursday evening, when they assembled for their regular meeting. The session was opened in regular form, and business matters were transacted. A dainty lunch was served at a late hour by the hostess, with Mrs. Lewis Williams assisting. Mrs. John Hurn was a special visitor of the club.

As an added feature of the social program, the guests were delighted with a group of piano selections given by Mrs. Lewis Williams.

TEMPLE SISTERHOOD PLANS FOR SPEAKERS

Two visiting speakers will be heard in New Castle in December through the auspices of the Temple Israel Sisterhood.

Sixty members and friends of the Sisterhood attended the dinner held in the temple Thursday evening. A social period was enjoyed after the dinner.

JOLLY TWELVE CLUB ENTERTAINS THURSDAY

Thursday evening marked another social success when members of the Jolly Twelve club gathered at the home of Mrs. T. M. Moore of Park avenue. Business matters were discussed and a social hour was later in progress, with cards forming the main diversion. Lovely favors were awarded to Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. J. A. Brown and Mrs. T. M. Moore for honors. Radio music and chat also tended to while away the hours.

A dainty lunch was later served by the hostess, closing another successful meeting. In two weeks Mrs. George Jones of Edgewood avenue will extend hospitality to the club.

Chicken Dinner

The members of the George B. Borden class of the First Methodist church motored to Mahoning Valley Grange Thursday evening and enjoyed a delicious chicken supper with most of the members present.

Business was put aside for the evening and an informal social time filled the hours.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baer, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Steinbrink, Mr. and Mrs. William Shadwick and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Dean were hosts for the evening.

REAPPORTIONMENT NOW AN ISSUE

WHEN it meets on December 1 congress will be in possession of the reapportionment figures reported by the department of commerce. Legislation is not necessary. Unless congress shall repeal or amend the law under which the figures were made they will automatically prevail.

While the house had anticipated the distribution now announced of representatives among the states, nevertheless it comes in the nature of a shock to some of them. Thirty-one of the commonwealths, among them Pennsylvania, lose from one to three members. Eleven, including New York and New Jersey, gain. Several of the mid-west "bloc" delegations are hit. Nebraska, home of Senator La Follette swings a heavy political club; North and South Dakota and Minnesota part with a representative each. So does Kansas, although Kansas is not counted among the insurgent string. Iowa is reduced from eleven to nine. Some shrewd political observers calculate that the electoral college should show up, after 1932, with about fifteen more Republican members and fifteen less Democratic. They use states that are ordinarily Republican at presidential elections as the base upon which to form their opinions.

Naturally there is much dissatisfaction. There would be, considering the fact that for ten years congress had been quarreling over apportionment. It finally agreed to leave to the department of commerce the determination of each state's representation estimated upon the census population, the total membership of the house, 435, not to be disturbed. The distribution was to stand unless, before March 4 next, congress should interfere. It may not do so; probably will not, but there is every prospect of a heated controversy in both house and senate, with a promise of encouraging filibustering in the latter body. That there is a contingent in the senate that desires to force a special session of the new congress is obvious. To this contingent any discussion that will prevent the passage of the necessary appropriation bills is welcome.

If the reapportionment goes into effect thirty-two legislatures will be called upon to reclassify congressional districts. Pennsylvania, allocated thirty-four representatives instead of thirty-six, must meet its obligations. Failure to do so says the Philadelphia Inquirer, would mean that every member of the house would have to be elected at large on a general ticket. All candidates would first have to pass through the primaries. Unless, therefore, the legislature shall deliberately decide that a mad scramble for nominations is desirable, it must, at its coming session, reapportion the districts and cut out two of them.

BANKING LEADERSHIP

Before the war a European banker would have scoffed at the idea that his son could learn anything of importance to his profession in the United States. Today the sons of the most powerful bankers of Europe, and even the bankers themselves, learn from American banking methods. A number of them can always be found among our foreign student colony. Nor is it still necessary for building American bankers to acquire all their knowledge of banking in the great financial centers of Europe. The about-face is due to the great change that has taken place the last two decades in America's position in world finance. A large proportion of the investment capital of the world is now controlled from New York and Chicago and young bankers who hope to rise must go where money is.

These are trends of considerable significance. They portend America's leadership in the era of industrial and financial expansion may see just ahead. All roads lead to our capitals of finance.

Like the worldly-wise who tell the impetuous young man not to "marry money, but to go where money is," the money-wise in all countries today tell the future banker to go to America, where the money is said to be.

MATRIMONY SERIOUS BUSINESS

How serious is matrimony? All around are evidences that the vast majority of men and women regard it with traditional gravity. Whatever disappointments have come to one or the other party to the matrimonial partnership, they usually are concealed and so far as surface indications go all is serene in the average home.

An overriding sense of duty it may be that prevents the dislocation of many matrimonial bonds, causing wife or husband to endure the almost unbearable. The common impression given is that matrimony is regarded seriously.

It is well so, as may be concluded after reflection upon some of the conspicuous failures brought forth in the news. Yet we wonder when the seriousness of matrimony takes hold of a lot of people. Obviously in all too many instances it is not within the period of courtship when there is still time to avoid error.

If only after the wedding, wife or husband begins to learn about the other that which should have been ascertained before a matrimonial shipwreck is almost certain to ensue. How very serious matrimony appears from whatever angle the subject is examined. No special warning should be needed to impress this truth on any.

"Most of our educators are women." That's no news to married men.

People never try to force ideas on others; the things they try to force on others are prejudices.

Too many persons are on the way, but have no definite idea of where they want to go.

YOU'VE GOT AN EQUITY

Perhaps you've been buying a house. You didn't pay very much down. You didn't HAVE very much but you wanted a home of your own that you could "fix up", that belonged to you. A place for children to grow in, where you could make a garden if you wanted one. So you bought a house and moved in.

You thought you'd NEVER get it paid for. Each month you drew a check and sent it to the bank. And if you stopped to figure it out, you realized that most of that check was for interest on what you owed. . . . There are taxes, too. And if the roof leaks a little and stains the ceiling, you can't call up the landlord and tell him you want it repaired. You own the house, even though all you really possess is your Equity.

But that equity is precious. It gives you the right to say My House. You are not renting, you are owning. . . . Smart people can sit down before you with a pencil and a bit of paper and prove to you that it's cheaper to pay rent than to own, and convince you that you're foolish. But what if they can? You have a feeling about that check you sent that house that you own. Maybe that house IS depreciating in market value with the year, maybe you'll "never get your money out of it"—as the smart fellow says—but it has gained in value with those years. Your Equity has grown, and soon you will own that home of yours.

Houses aren't the only things you can build up an Equity in. Lives are like Houses. When you're young you haven't much of an equity in your life. You are clever, you are active, you are ambitious. You have friends, but you have tested neither their friendship for you nor yours for them. You are able, but your Character hasn't been fully tried. You haven't lived with yourself long enough to know just what you really are. Your Equity is very small. You don't even know you have one. And after a while you become so busy so many claims, so many responsibilities pile up around you that you doubt whether your life belongs to you at all.

But your Equity grows. You suffer and you bear your grief. You meet as many of those claims as you can. You find yourself able to bear the most important of those responsibilities. You test a few of your opinions and learn that some of them are Truths. . . . And whenever you test an opinion and discover a truth or examine a Talent and prove it is a Power, you add to your Equity. That Equity grows and you become a Man or Woman. You join up with humanity and win a place among People—and the bigger your equity the stronger you grow, until at least even Death can not take away what you have won from Life.

You have built up an Equity and you are proud of it.

You have lost many friends because of the demands you make on them.

You should not expect too much in favors from those to whom you are closer than to anyone else.

Friendship must be unusual to stand the strain you require of those who seem to enjoy your society.

Why should you think your friends should be ready at any time to forget self and personal interests in order to favor you?

Real friends will follow you a long way, but beyond a certain point they rebel.

The more friends you have, the more you desire and demand of them.

You look upon your friends as conveniences, don't you?

If you can't use your friends, why have any seems to be your principle. This being true, I don't believe friendship one-sided, always in your favor?

You seldom offer aid to those who need it, no matter what they have done for you.

You want someone to stand back of you and support you in your undertakings, but you are unwilling to assist those who list you as a friend. Then you are undeserving of friendship.

Chance To End Lame Ducks Seen In Change In Congress

Arguments In Favor Of Earlier Meeting Of Legislators Chosen In Elections Are Accompanied By Some Advocacy Of Present Method

Prospects of elimination of the "lame duck" session of congress are believed by the public to have been strengthened by the changes in the personnel of the legislative branch of the government, and the discussion is revived. Attention is given to the Norris amendment, providing for an earlier meeting of congress after election. The interval between the election and the assembling of the members is now 13 months. It is pointed out by some advocates of the change that it can be accomplished by legislation as well as by constitutional action. Opponents of the change believe that the long wait is conducive to well-considered action.

"From Dec. 1 to March 4," says the ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH, "congress will be in session—the biennial lame duck convention. Here will assemble all manner of members, to make laws for voters who have repudiated them and their works. Heflin of Alabama, Pine of Oklahoma, Allen of Kansas, Demens of Illinois, Simmons of North Carolina, Blease of South Carolina, Grundy of Pennsylvania and many others in both senate and house, rejected in primary or election—what a roll call it will be! Meanwhile their successors, in whom people have voted confidence, will mark time, powerless until December 7, 1931, save in the unlikely event of a special session, to execute the mandate given to them."

Stating that the Norris amendment, making the change, "has passed the senate five times since 1923, but has failed to obtain approval in the house" and that the change would be "vastly preferable to the present method, whereby campaign pledges may be forgotten in the long period intervening," the CHARLOTTE NEWS argues: "The length of time that must elapse between the election of representatives to congress and the convening of that body as constituted by the current action of the electorate is a grotesque anti-climax to the furor of the voting period. In the present case, wherein the outcome of the balloting amounted to nothing less than a recall of the present administration of legislative affairs, the situation approaches a deplorable travesty of franchise."

"One wonders," according to the WORCESTER TELEGRAM, "why there is not effort to obtain reform by simple legislation instead of amendment to the constitution. For congress under the constitution has the power to appoint a different date than the first Monday in December for the opening of its annual session. For example, congress could meet annually in the middle of March, take a recess through July and August or longer, and meet again in the fall, say in the middle of November. Thus would be abolished the evils of the short or 'lame-duck' session now occurring in alternate winters and ending by constitutional limitation on March 4."

"It is obvious," agrees the CHATTANOOGA, "could, if it had a mind to do so, provide for newly elected congress to meet on January 1, March 4, or any other convenient day after the November elections, and thus obviate the necessity for 'lame duck' sessions. There may be good reasons for a recall of the legislature's failure to exercise its power to remedy what many consider a grave defect in the federal government and to remove a cause of growing popular discontent. But if there are, it is not likely that citizens generally are aware of them."

Conceding that the coming short session, in view of present necessities, should do more than is expected of a "lame duck," the PORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM states as to its duties: "It has an opportunity to write a constructive record. It can speed the various measures that have been inaugurated for the relief of unemployment, by making appropriations immediately available, particularly the $125,000,000 appropriation for highway aid that ordinarily would not become available until July 1 and it will have before it, too, the necessity of legislation of some character that will permit aid to the drought sufferers of the various states through authorization of crop production loans. These measures can be accomplished in the short session and the effects of them will be felt during the winter months, when the need will be greatest. Any disposition to delay them until a special session would simply mean that the greater part of their benefit would be lost."

As an argument against the short session, the TERRE HAUTE STAR points out that "it is within the range of possibilities that laws may be enacted which the congress just elected may see fit to repeal." The RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER believes that "government by defeated legislators is bound to be contrary to that desired by the bulk of the people. As to the new congress, the JACKSON CITIZEN-PATRIOT holds that "there is a feeling that the long interval between election day and the convening of the members reduces the responsibility of the legislators to the popular will."

"In England," argues the TENNESSEE GAZETTE, "parliament meets within a month after an election; in France, the chamber of deputies convenes ten days after election; in Germany 30 days, Hungary six weeks, Australia 30 days. Tuesday after elections, it is a curious feature of the supposedly enlightened American government that a newly elected congress does not begin to function until 13 months after election."

The MONROE EVENING NEWS thinks that, as a result of the election, "the house will be so constituted that there is reason to believe the Norris amendment may at last succeed." The OAKLAND TRIBUNE emphasizes the fact that "all of the concern over the fine balance of parties in congress has no application to the session which is to convene in December."

"There is an argument both ways," in the judgment of the ST. LOUIS TIMES, and that paper wonders "whether, after all, the fathers didn't know, a hundred years ago, just what kind of material the nation would have to work with in 1930." Of this material it remarks: "The newcomers in the main would arrive at Washington full of ignorance and ambition to astonish the natives back at the fork of the road. Instead of having time wasted by lame ducks we would have it wasted by ducklings splashing around and getting nowhere. Under the present system, the new members have ample time to read the constitution, get acquainted with the congressional directory, figure out possibilities under the mileage allowance, and otherwise fit themselves for the job of saving the country. They will also do their strutting as successful candidates on their own time instead of at the expense of the government."

Voicing its opposition to any more changes in the constitution the GREEN BAY PRESS GAZETTE says: "Except for the impatience of the newly-elected officers to feel the reins of government in their hands, we do not know where the United States, even granting the merit in the Norris proposal, has suffered any substantial disadvantage from the present provision."

Coupees and roadsters are the types of cars preferred by students of the University of California at Los Angeles, according to figures resulting from an actual count. This count showed a total of 3029 automobiles parked near the campus. Of this number 1076 were coupes, 686 roadsters, 764 sedans and 520 touring cars.

Fords were found to be the most prevalent make of car, with 1029 counted. Among the larger makes there were twenty-seven Packards, seven Pierce-Arrows and three Lincolns. Eleven Austons were counted.

Final tabulation showed an increase of 645 autos over last year's total.

The writer counted more than 800 machines parked about the Los Angeles High School and then gave up.

"Ghost Town" May Stage A Comeback

Once Largest Town In Colorado Sees New Copper Find

(International News Service) CENTRAL CITY, Colo., Nov. 21.—This quiet little "ghost city," once the largest town of Colorado territory, promises to stage a comeback as a mining center as the result of a "strike" recently made near here. An ore body of very large proportions, running from $40 to $60 per ton in gold, silver and copper, has been opened by Denver mining men on the 800-foot level of ground on Quartz hill, half mile south of the town.

The strike is regarded by Colorado mining engineers as the largest for that quality of ore made in this old mining district since early days.

A reduction in freight rates on ore from Clear creek and Gilpin counties recently granted by the Colorado and Southern railroad is regarded as a boon to mining in this district. The rates are the lowest in the history of this state.

Ore is being shipped to a flotation plant in Colorado Springs.

(International News Service) GALLITZIN, Pa., Nov. 21.—How long would it take a man to climb out of a well if he slipped back one foot every time he climbed two feet?

Remember that one? Joe Israel, 50, knows the answer to that. He fell down a 50-foot well here. He started to climb out. Just as he reached the top, his hold slipped and he toppled back to the bottom again.

Joe gave up and began shouting. Neighbors summoned the fire department which rescued Joe, slightly bruised.

Statue Honors Mollie Walsh, Belle Of Yukon

Heroine Of Gold Rush In '98
To Be Remembered
By Lover

IS SPOKEN OF WITH GREAT REVERENCE

(International News Service) SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 21.—Mollie Walsh, belle of the North gold rush days of '97 and '98, who lives forever in the hearts of the people of the North, is going back to the Yukon. But she is going back in spirit only. A bronzed likeness of the laughing-eyed Irish lass, on a bronze pedestal engraved with a record of the romance and tragedy of her life, has been shipped from Seattle and will be set up in a park dedicated to her at Skagway Alaska.

Old-time Alaskans speak of Mollie with reverence. In a land that produced such women as "The Lady That's Known as Lou" and "Diamond Tooth Lil," she was a shining exception.

Unkempt bearded men whom she fed and befriended on the northern trails swore that her soul was "as white and pure as the snow that fell on her tent."

Mollie was a principal in a love story of the North, a romance that death failed to shatter. "Packer Jack" Newman, now a mild mannered middle-aged Seattle resident, who wooed and almost won Mollie in the Skagway trail is the donor of the monument as a tribute to the girl whose love has filled his heart for thirty-three years.

Mollie went north in her early twenties with the gold seekers and opened a grub tent on the trail near Lake Bennett. There she met "Packer Jack" Newman, one of the most famous packers of the trail. He stumbled into her grub tent one night with a frozen hand and she ministered to him.

After that "Packer Jack" started "keepin' company" with the queen of the trail, but he had competition. A faro dealer in Skagway, deadly with fists and guns, decided to shut it out with Jack for the girl. "Packer Jack" returned to Mollie and the faro game was shy a dealer.

Later Mike Bartlett, who ran a pack train, began showing Mollie attention. And because "Packer Jack" knew men better than he knew women, he overplayed his hand. He forbade her to let Bartlett enter her eating establishment. A quarrel ensued and Mollie's Irish nature prompted an abrupt marriage to Bartlett.

The scene shifts to Seattle. One night in October, 1902, a policeman saw a white clad, screaming figure running into a street followed by a man with a flame-spouting gun. It was Mollie who screamed. Behind her, with the pistol, was Bartlett.

Mollie died of the wounds she received that night. Her husband, however, was acquitted of murder, after he was judged to have been temporarily insane at the time.

Tells Why Shaw Doesn't Eat Meat

(International News Service) LONDON, Nov. 21.—George Bernard Shaw doesn't eat meat because just as people who spend their lives with horses grow in the end to look like horses themselves, so pork-eaters get to look like pigs; and Shaw has no desire to grow like any animal.

Peggy Wood, well-known English actress, vouches for the truth of this bit of information about the famous Irish playwright in her book "Actors—and People," just published here.

Shaw, according to Miss Wood, shares one human weakness with the rest of mankind. He sometimes exaggerates when telling a story.

SHOES BRING BAD LUCK TO MOONSHINER

(International News Service) SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 21.—Horseshoes may be emblems of good luck, but shoes worn by the horse's cousin—a mule—didn't bring good fortune—at least not to Nando Meli, alleged moonshiner.

Meli was arraigned before United States Commissioner Gould B. Blakely on a charge of operating a still. The still was located in Soldier canon, near Stockton, Utah. Federal agents arrested Meli in Stockton.

Defense counsel argued at the hearing that the agents had arrested the wrong man and the commissioner was inclined to agree until the federal agents told the judge of the Sherlock Holmes work that had led them to arrest Meli.

It was a piece of work that would bring joy to the heart of the cleverest correspondence school sleuth. When R. W. Morgan and W. L. Huff prohibition agents, and C. F. Preshaw "knocked over" the still they investigated the tracks leading to the liquor plant and found that they had been made by a mule with a broken shoe. Meli was riding a mule with a broken shoe when arrested.

Meli is being held on $750 bond for the next session of the federal grand jury.

Workman Visits Capitol He Once Helped To Build

Strolls Into Iowa Capitol Building After Sixty Years

(International News Service) DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 21.—C. R. Donner of San Diego, Calif., strolled into the Iowa Capitol building here, glanced around and then sauntered into an office where he again looked about and declared: "There's something wrong here."

Naturally public officials do not like to be told there is something wrong with their offices, so Donner was asked to explain himself.

"I helped to build this place fifty-nine years ago," Donner then said. "And this north wing has been changed."

It was explained to Donner, who is 79, that a fire had damaged the north wing of the Capitol years ago and repairs had been made which slightly altered the appearance of the interior.

Donner said it was his first visit to the building since, when as a young man he worked for five years on the edifice.

He found other parts of the building unchanged in appearance in the three score of years since he was last in it.

The Californian told many instances of the construction of the Capitol. He related how nearly all the wood originally put into the building was from Iowa. Walnut, Butternut, Cherry, Oak and Catalpa trees were used, Donner said.

Many of the designs in the building are the same as when I worked," Donner stated.

Find Temperature Changes Cat's Color

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Regulate your cat's temperature and you regulate its stripes.

Two professors of the Moscow Zoological Park reported to the American Genetic Association that they changed the color and markings of a Siamese cat by changing the temperature at which the hair of the animal grew.

Two Siamese cats, normally light cream in color, were taken from their warm parlors to the cold climate of Moscow where in a few months the fur changed to a dark chocolate color.

Not satisfied with this, the professors shaved the cats in spots and applied cotton bandages. Under the bandages grew colorless hair again.

Quaint Barrel In Ancient Homestead

(International News Service) NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 21.—When Howard S. Peckham was rummaging about the attic of the ancient homestead in which he dwells here, he came across a long-forgotten barrel that had been in the family since just before the year 1700.

He carried it over to the Old Mill, a structure that dates back to the settlement days and is used as a museum, and presented it as an added attraction.

The barrel was made from the wood of a button-ball tree, and its maker left the bark intact so that it shows up even today. The barrel is just a bit taller than barrels are made nowadays, and its bottom is held in place by wooden pegs. The whole affair looks serviceable as ever as it stands in the Old Mill.

Bessemer And Hillsville To Get Gas Service

Local Company Is Organized To Furnish Gas To Mahoning Township Boroughs

APPLICATION NOW BEFORE STATE BODY

Announcement was made by William Hedegore, president of the Bessemer Natural Gas Company, that plans are underway to furnish gas to the boroughs of Bessemer and Hillsville, and that active work on the laying of lines in the two boroughs and surrounding territory in Mahoning township would be started as soon as approval is given by the Public Service Commission. Application for a Certificate of Convenience has already been made to the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania, and a public hearing on the proposal will be held in Pittsburgh on December 3, 1930, where all persons interested may appear and be heard if they so desire.

It is the plan of the company to utilize the gas which is produced in the Bessemer field, there being a number of small producing wells in the district.

Some work has been done on the project already, Mr. Hedegore stated, but the work is being delayed at the present time, awaiting the approval of the Public Service Commission.

There is little question but that their request will be granted, as there are no competing companies in that district, and as soon as the sanction of the state body is given, work will be rushed on laying the pipe lines. It is hoped by the men interested in the company to have the work done by next summer.

Seek To Sell Old Leesburg Church

Petition Court To Dispose Of Property Of United Presbyterian Church

MERCER, Pa., Nov. 21.—The trustees of the general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of America chartered under Pennsylvania law have petitioned Judge J. A. McLaughry to permit them to sell the church building and real estate of the Leesburg United Presbyterian church to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cunningham for $600. The petition states that the church was organized November 2, 1866. The congregation disbanded July 20, 1930. J. Ralph Neale has been appointed by the court to function as a trustee and conduct the sale.

Peter's Adventures

PETER DEFENDS HIMSELF

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent
Peter plunged into the tunnel, and so low was its roof that for a short distance he had to crawl on his hands and knees. But as he went on, the tunnel grew larger. By and by the boy could stand on his two feet. He hadn't gone so very far when a dark shape loomed up in the dusk before him.

"Good night!" exclaimed the boy, started almost out of his senses.

"It is not night at all, and it certainly isn't a good one!" came the reply, solemnly spoken. "Who are you? What is your business here? None of your tricks now! I warn you!"

Peter's tongue clung to the roof of his mouth. Yet, even in his fear, he smiled at the stranger's rude greeting.

"I'm a human!" began Peter, but didn't get very far with his explanation.

"A human?" shrieked the stranger. "It can't be, and if it is, there's something wrong. Great beetles, I have it! I'll bet a cockroach that you are in league with the enemy, and sent here to harm us. I'll fix you! Off with your head, you spy!"

The form lunged. But Peter was on guard and held his trusty spike straight out before him. "Look out or you will run on my spear and that will make an end to you!" warned Peter. "Stay where you are until I explain and then you'll be sorry you took so much for granted. I don't want to hurt you, but I'm not going to be foolish enough to let you bite my head off. I believe in self-defense. There! What did I tell you. It is a sharp spear, isn't it? Sorry, I'm sure that I warned you."

Next: "Trouble in the Tunnel."

Salvation Army Does Wonderful Work For Girls

New Castle And Lawrence County Shares In Special Work Of Bellevue Hospital

There is one of the most helpful and interesting phases of the work of the Salvation Army, which is little seen or known about by the general public and is not known as are the open air religious meetings and the family relief work of the army, yet one of the phases of the work that probably does as much good or more than many other things that are done.

This fact was revealed today by Ensign V. Thomsen, officer in charge of the Salvation Army work. This work is that of the Maternity Home and Hospital conducted by the army at Bellevue.

During the past year, according to Ensign Thomsen, five girls from Lawrence county, three of whom were from this city, were admitted to this institution.

This institution is centrally located in the Western Pennsylvania district and co-operates with various Salvation Army Posts and through them with every county in this part of the state.

This work, according to Ensign Thomsen receives no state appropriation and is sustained solely through private and public subscription. The ensign also explained that a special amount is placed in the annual budget of the local corps, when presented to the Community Chest, a part of which would be allotted to this work when received. However, there have been times when objections have been raised to sending money out of town, which the ensign believes, would cease to exist, if this matter was properly understood because no one could object to supporting this work.

Mrs. V. Thomsen, wife of Officer Thomsen, a graduate nurse herself, served in this work for fourteen years and has had a wide experience in the care of infants and mothers. The institution is inspected by the state health department and kept up to the requirements of the law. There are other similar institutions all over the United States giving an equally valuable service to society, through the same medium and by the same methods of support.

At present, according to Ensign Thomsen, there are about twenty-five girls in the Hospital and Home at Bellevue and about forty babies. Co-operation is worked out between the Children's Welfare Bureau of Pennsylvania and many Children's Aid Societies in the various communities and the home. The children born in the home are boarded while occupation is found for the girls and after a position is found, sometimes boarded for as long as two years, during which a small fee is received, but generally the babies are being placed as soon as possible with relatives or adopted out and in a lot of cases encouragement is given to have the baby stay with the mother.

Pinchot's Majority
Minus Philadelphia
Set At 305,321 Votes

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—Governor Elect Gifford Pinchot's majority over John M. Hemphill, the Democratic nominee, was 305,321, outside of Philadelphia county, according to an unofficial compilation made by the state bureau of elections today. All the counties of the state with the exception of Philadelphia have now filed their returns with the election bureau. The compilation for the 66 counties showed Pinchot's total vote as 957,644. Of that total 928,230 were Republican, 29,126 Prohibition and 288 Independent.

Hemphill's vote was 652,323 of which 513,305 were Democratic, 139,761 Liberal and 257 Independent.

Hundreds At Music Concert

Benjamin Franklin Junior High School Students Present Musical Review

CONCERT PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

Students of the instrumental department of Benjamin Franklin junior high school presented a concert in the school auditorium, on Thursday night, before an audience of 400 or 500 people. It was a splendid concert—one in which credit should be extended to every student participating, to the instrumental department supervisor, Miss Evea Coulter, and to Benjamin Franklin junior high school.

Several hundred students took part in the concert. It went off smoothly from beginning to end and proved to be one of the most successful presentations ever given at the Franklin junior high.

"Never in my school experience have I met with such splendid cooperation from the people who so graciously assisted in last night's concert," Miss Coulter said this morning. "Everyone did their part well but I wish particularly to commend the boys who worked back stage. The orchestra set up was never achieved so quickly and accurately."

In future years many of the boys and girls who took part in last night's concert will in all probability be among noted artists of the day. Without a doubt, Salvatore Cresci, who gave a violin solo last night, will be one of New Castle's outstanding musicians.

Program of the Evening

Program of the evening follows: Welcome address—Elmer Gorman. Band selection—directed by Benjamin Franklin drum major, Wm. White. Clarinet solo—Robert Burchfield. The Dance—June Fisher. Vocal solo with harp accompaniment—Genevieve Thomas, soloist and Jane Knobloch and Dorothy Allen at the harp. Violin solo—"DeBariot's Concerto No. 7"—Salvatore Cresci. Xylophone solo and tap dance—

"The World is Waiting for the Sunrise"—Ruth Phillips. Vocal solos—Genevieve Thomas. Cello solo—Prof. Joe Repligle. Xylophone—trio—June Fisher, Ruth Phillips and June Forrenger. Violin duet with harp accompaniment—Dorothy Baldwin, Joe Wiesen, violinists and Dorothy Allen at the harp. Trombone solo—John Morgan. Vocal solo with pantomime—Genevieve Thomas, soloist, Leona Crane and Albert McCormick dancers. Violin solo and dance—Dorothy Baldwin, violinist, Ruth Phillips, June Forrenger, Leona Crane, Albert McCormick, Martha Coulter, Jane Bryan, June Fisher and Josephine Windish, dancers. Band selection—directed by assistant drum major, Ralph McCormick. Double bass—Leona Crane, Albert McCormick. Band selection—Ralph McCormick directing. Orchestral selections—"Cade's March" by Sousa, directed by student director, Eleanor Matt. "Maid of Parth" a military fantasia, directed by Evea E. Coulter. Announcer of the numbers was Evelyn Van Buren. Accompanists were Mrs. Phillips, Miss Mary Long, Mrs. Doris McClure Davies and Miss Evea S. Coulter. Colonial wigs used by the dancers last night were made by Josephine Bannan, assisted by Josephine Windish and Vivian Hamill. The purpose of the concert was to help secure funds for buying new instruments for the school.

CHURCH CHOIR PRESENTS PLAY

Humorous Entertainment Is Presented in Reformed Presbyterian Church

Father Time turned back a number of years Thursday night in the Reformed Presbyterian church as the church choir, under the capable directing of David W. Rees, presented a three act humorous entertainment, "The Pine Hill Ladies Aid."

As the curtain arose a titter here and a giggle there finally led to a gale of laughter as the audience recognized the women of the church in the costumes and chapeaux of years ago. A typical "ladies aid" meeting was presented, with all the gossip and backbiting that can be produced by a group of "catty" women, each wanting to have her own way in the presentation of some form of entertainment to finance the buying of a new church carpet. Each woman took her part exceptionally well, with solos interspersed here and there and chorus singing of the group keeping the moments from becoming dull.

A quartet composed of David W. Rees, Clyde Snyder, R. E. Speer and E. C. Montgomery, made a hit as they sang "Lucky Jim" and Mrs. Charles Christopher, impersonating Cara Nade, pleased with her song, "Mother's On A Strike."

The entertainment will be given again this evening in the church with the curtain arising at 8 o'clock. Those taking part were: Mrs. Ring Leader—Miss Anna Dadds. Miss Betty Money—Mrs. A. C. Gardner. Miss Faithful Penning—Miss Martha Dadds. Mrs. Orpha Talker—Miss Myrtle Riley. Mrs. Rorer—Mrs. C. A. Hollis. Miss Nora Marks—Mrs. David W. Reese. Mrs. Vera Ferme—Mrs. J. M. Blackwood. Miss Constance Screecher—Miss Olive Hook. Miss Effie Sharp—Mrs. J. D. Pattison. Mrs. Neva Dunn—Miss Marietta Daugherty. Mrs. Eva Green—Mrs. Russell Mann. Mrs. Pearly Gates—Mrs. M. D. Allen. The Widow Weeds—Mrs. S. L. Wilson. Miss Rosey Pippin—Mrs. E. C. Montgomery. Miss Aurora Borulis—Mrs. Harold Allen. Mrs. Tabitha Catt—Mrs. C. E. Tindall. Mrs. Thomas Catt—Mrs. R. H. Pattison. Ima Catt, Ura Catt, (the Twins)—Jean Tindall and Annabelle Tindall. Sara Nade—Mrs. Charles Christopher. Hiram Hicks—M. W. McClelland. Prof. Angela Catruso—Sloan Allen. Camp Fire Girls—Jean Tindall, Mildred Resse, Mary Bowes, Eleanor Allen, Annabelle Tindall, Sarah Kerr.

Hoover Heights Special Services

Superintendent C. L. Henson of the Hoover Heights Sabbath school will meet with the teachers and officers this evening at the close of the regular church service. Rev. W. S. McGarvey, district superintendent of the Eastern District will be a special speaker in the Tabernacle for the Sunday evening service only. Rev. McGarvey is well known in the city, having been here on a number of occasions, conducting meetings in both the Hoover Heights and the Gospel Tabernacle and his friends will be more than pleased to greet him at this service, which will begin at 7:30. Special music will feature the meeting.

Road From Mercer To New Wilmington On Paving Program

(Special To The News)
MERCER, Nov. 21.—The next hard surfaced road to be built in Mercer County will be the remaining eight miles connecting Mercer and New Wilmington. The road is already paved over 1 mile out of Mercer. The route is next on the county road program which the commissioners are following in their construction campaign. Until the meeting of the 1931 legislature and the appropriation of state aid money nothing can be done in planning any county roads which are built on a 50-50 county and state. Twelve miles of hard surfaced roads costing $600,000 were built this year on this plan.

Congregationalists Hear Woman Speaker

Members and friends of the First Congregational church will be greeted Thursday, November 27, Thanksgiving Day, at 7:30 p. m. by Miss Rosina Davies, a well known evangelist from Wales, who will preach for them at that time. Possessing great preaching and oratorical ability, Miss Davies has conducted successful evangelistic campaigns on both sides of the Atlantic and it is anticipated that a large audience will hear her on this, her only appearance in New Castle.

Surprise Party

Mrs. Viola Mitchell, Mrs. James Copple, and Mrs. Joseph DeDonata were associate hostesses on a recent evening when they entertained a group of friends at a surprise party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maske, honoring the latter on her birthday.

The hours were spent informally, and at a suitable time, a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Leo Orville, Mrs. Viola Mitchell and Mrs. Joseph Mamajek. The honor guest was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeDonata, Mr. and Mrs. James Copple, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Minick, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mamajek, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Orville, Mrs. Mary Vance, Mrs. Mary Montomak, Mrs. Martha Pluck, Mrs. Viola Mitchell and Tony Tino.

B. D. T. Club.

Misses Mildred Rodgers and Gladys Erwin entertained the members of the B. D. T. club in the home of the B. D. T. club on Thursday evening with the business session in charge of the president, Helen Hurst.

After the meeting games and music were enjoyed, the club prizes being awarded Gladys Gray and Maude Zeisler.

Bingo prizes were won by Belle Kennedy, Gladys Gray, Lucille Miller, Amanda Dandy and Mrs. Schroeder. The turkey drawing prize was won by Maude Zeisler.

A delicious lunch served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Rodgers, brought the evening to a close.

December 4 the club will be entertained by Misses Marie Haering and Jeanette Hughes at the home of the latter on the Youngstown road.

Entertain Class.

Barbara Nesbitt and Virginia Allen proved delightful hostesses on Thursday evening in the home of the former on Leasure avenue, when they entertained members of Mrs. William Sterling's class of the First Baptist church.

Games and music were pleasant diversions and a feature of the evening was a handkerchief shower for Beatrice Trentham, who has been a member of the class all summer while visiting in the city. Miss Trentham will return to her home in Alabama in the near future.

Julia Ann McCoy was a special guest. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour, the appointments being suggestive of the Thanksgiving season.

Bible Class Dinner.

The True Blue class of the Second U. P. church was pleasantly received Thursday evening in the home of the teacher, Mrs. Norman Patton, on the Harlansburg road for a 6 o'clock dinner.

A sumptuous menu was served at a table prettily appointed in yellow and white, tall yellow tapers in crystal holders, and a bowl of baby mums forming the centerpiece. Thanksgiving suggestions were used in the favors and the place cards, covers being arranged for ten.

After dinner the hours were spent in an informal manner with general conversation and piano selections by Julia Sidley.

Miss Alberta Reeber, County Line street, will entertain the class at their next meeting.

Bonhomie Club Meets

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bishop of Ray street were pleasing hosts to members of the Bonhomie Club Thursday evening when she entertained at their regular meeting. As special guests the members had Mr. and Mrs. John Gaston, Mrs. Naysmith and Mrs. E. Dean, the latter who was from McKeesport.

Cards formed the pastime of the evening, with the prizes for honors being awarded to Mrs. Carl Krishner, Mrs. E. L. Young, Carl McCracken and John Gaston. A dainty repast was served at the close of the entertainment by the hostess assisted by Mrs. E. L. Young and Mrs. Naysmith.

In two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Carl Krishner of King avenue will be hosts to the members.

Moonlight 500 Club

Mrs. Ben Black of Winslow avenue entertained in a pleasing manner, associates of the Moonlight 500 Club in her home Thursday, having as a special guest, Mrs. Carl Black. The usual routine was carried out, and later games were enjoyed. Favors for the evening were awarded to Mrs. William Lyons, Mrs. Eva Shaffer and Mrs. Carl Black. At a late hour, a tempting repast was served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. W. Telford on Sixth street, and will be featured with a six o'clock turkey dinner.

East Side Social Club

Mrs. Don Warnock of Winslow avenue was hostess to members of the East Side Social Club Thursday afternoon when she entertained at a prettily appointed 1 o'clock luncheon. Covers were laid for 14 guests at a table arranged in tones suggestive of Thanksgiving, where a delicious menu was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Earl White, Mrs. W. M. Pritler was a special guest of the occasion.

In three weeks Mrs. Cecil Gordon of Sheridan avenue will receive the club in her home for a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Current Events Class

Mrs. Edward Norris of Hazelcroft avenue will receive the Current Events Class in her home on Monday afternoon at their regular meeting.

Svastika Club

Mrs. R. P. Cummings, Dewey avenue, entertained members of the Svastika club in her home on Dewey avenue Thursday evening and a business session opened the evening with names being drawn for the Christmas giving.

Cards proved a pleasant diversion in the ensuing hours and at conclusion of play Mrs. Harley Crowe assisted the hostess in serving a dainty lunch, a color scheme of yellow and white being prettily carried out in the appointments.

Mrs. James Blain, Jr., will entertain the members December 4, in her home on the Butler road.

Ten Ivory Club

Miss Elizabeth Tardella of East Division street entertained the Ten Ivory club members in her home Wednesday evening, the program opening with a business session. A social hour followed, with games and cards as the feature. Miss Phyllis Aboone was the prize winner. A dainty lunch served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Joseph DeLillo brought the meeting to a close. Phyllis Cherol was a special guest.

In two weeks Mrs. George Ross of Luton street will entertain.

Guard California Residence Against Gangsters Threat

Capone's Agents Are Said To Be After Executive Of Grape Concentrate Firm

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Corons of police today guarded the home of Donald D. Conn in Hillsborough, suburb, following reported threats from men who are said to be agents of "Scarface" Al Capone, Chicago gang overlord. Conn is managing director of Fruit Industries, Inc., whose product of California grape concentrates has been made the prey of eastern gangsters recently.

Conn's home last night was filled with police officials from San Francisco, Oakland and Hillsborough in conference. On the lands were a dozen officers, while it was revealed that on the roof of the executive's home is a police siren.

Conn admitted that he had received threats from anonymous men who demanded a share in the profits from the marketing of the grape concentrates. He said he was first threatened in New York a month ago and that the threats had continued since his recent return home.

Veterans Bureau Calls In Claimants For Disability Allowance

Many local world war veterans who made application for disability allowance under the new law which went into effect the early part of July are now being called to Pittsburgh for examination to determine the extent of their disability.

Over 100 local veterans have made application for this disability allowance through the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, since the early part of July, and in many cases, are already receiving compensation.

There is still a scarcity of beds at Veterans hospitals, according to the report received by Secretary Potter of the Red Cross, and the situation is expected to continue throughout the winter.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

All Parents Have Same Questions

Child Problems Alike Country Over, Says Dr. Myers

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Last summer I lectured a week at the University of Tennessee before the parent teacher conference put on by that university. Recently I spent two days over in Tennessee, this time before the state P. T. A. convention, at Nashville. To see those 500 mothers was to get no suggestion that business conditions could be bad in Tennessee.

I did not have to make speeches; just had to begin a few, after which enough questions interrupted me to keep me busy answering them. Speeches are worth little anyway. I consider myself successful when an address of mine turns into a forum in a way that no one seems to observe the transition. By the second day I did not have to make a formal speech at all—merely answered questions. What kind of questions were they? The kind you write to me about, the kind I read and hear continually. Not a new one did I hear all the time I was there. I hear while ago I commented on this matter in relation to another state convention. Of course, there are always some new aspects of old problems bobbing up.

Because of such facts I hope to be able to answer those questions which are most common to parents, in my regular discussion in this column. If you want to make sure your problem will be discussed, write to me about it.

It is from your question and the questions which I meet in my university classes and my group and individual conferences with a good many hundred fathers and mothers, that I am led to choose the topics I discuss among "The Parent Problems." What I say is not mere theory, I hope, but an outgrowth also of my own failures and successes as a father, which I try to consider as if I were standing off as another person looking on. Needless to say that one's human frailties and shortsightedness make it impossible to be entirely objective. Anyway, I hope to be humble, sympathetic and charitable toward other parents. If I can, I'll be useful; if I can't, I won't.

I was impressed with the large number of mothers who asked how to deal with the timid child. At least a dozen individual conferences were on this subject, and every one of them about a boy from about eight to twelve.

Naturally, pre-adolescent boys are more disturbed by such matters than are girls. In every instance the described timidity was in relation to adults.

I have heard similar questions in Alabama, Virginia, Arkansas, Tennessee, Texas and North Carolina, and more often, I think, than I have heard them farther north. Perhaps the good old traditions and cultural interests emphasized by long line southern families has caused them to worry their children unduly early about matters of conventions.

Let us hope the southern mothers will hold to their fine traditions. Others ought to emulate them. But let us also hope that they will not, in their efforts to teach the social graces, make them too painful to their children.

One mother asked about her 13-year-old daughter who "lately has become so disagreeable that hardly anyone can live with her." The child has been physically checked by eminent medical experts of two large cities. When jealousy was suggested, the mother was sure it did not exist, but after a pause remarked, "When I come to think of it, the trouble came about the time her uncle, of whom she is a pet, got married." Any abrupt development of bad behavior ought always to make us suspect jealousy, once the physical possibilities have been ruled out. Then we will be more sympathetic, more careful to distribute attention equably and to help the child earn worthy approvals.

At a debate at McMaster university the speakers avoided vital issues, Mayor Peebles, one of the judges, said. It wouldn't be a debate if they didn't.—The Hamilton (Ont.) Spectator.

Soviets Do Not Intend To Import Foods And Shoes

Will Build Up Industry Instead Of Importing Articles Into Country

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Nov. 21.—The Communist party and the Soviet government have no intention of importing food, textiles, shoes and other articles of popular consumption of which there is a great scarcity at the expense of importation of machinery, said Stanislaw V. Kossior, member of the all-power Politburo and strong supporter of Joseph Stalin.

Great significance is attached to Kossior's statement, made at the recent conference of the Charkov city party, since it quashes views of thousands of communists, who hold that more food and clothing will placate the workers and increase productivity of labor. There is sufficient bread, potatoes cabbage and sugar to feed the population on the ration basis, but not sufficient of all other products and goods.

"It is strange to hear comrades prescribing such opportunistic measures for relieving the present crisis when a large beet crop assures us of an ample supply of sugar, when we do have the possibility of developing light industry for the manufacture of articles of consumption and when we have found a solution to the meat shortage," Kossior said in arguing against the importation of food idea. "We must stick to the line of the Central committee and the sixteenth party congress. That means a continuation of the policy of building up industry, extending the collective farms and smashing capitalistic elements in our midst."

"We can't retreat. We won't be pushed off our track. While developing heavy industry, we may also increase the production of light industry so as eventually to eliminate the shortage of direct necessities. Super-human efforts will be needed but I believe our party is capable of such effort."

Kossior then revealed that the party has found a method for rooting out and eliminating from society alleged saboteurs like the long string of professors and scientists whose arrest was recently announced. They include Professors Konradiev, Chayanov, Grohman and Suchanov.

This class will visit the zoo, museums, and other places of interest in Pittsburgh.

BEARS FEAST ON PAINTED TRAIL SIGNS

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.—Hand-painted trail signs erected by the United States forest service apparently have been put down as extremely desirable food by the bears of the Pacific northwest. Major John D. Guthrie, assistant regional forester, reports that more than $400 worth of signs have been chewed up.

Whether the bears are particularly fond of the government paint or the succulence of the straight-grain pine used for the signs has not been determined.

For your own use or for a gift, you will be interested in this assortment of the season's newest bags! Leather, silks, tapestries and in pouch or flat styles. Many may be selected in black and others in blue, brown, green, and wine. Lining, handle, and clasp details are all fashion approved.

University Has Refining Plant

Radium Is Salvaged From Dials Of Discarded Watches

(International News Service)
COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 21.—The University of Missouri has the only laboratory in the nation in which radium is being refined from the paint salvage from luminous dials of discarded watches and clocks.

The work is conducted by Dr. Herman Schlundt, radium authority, and by Dr. G. F. Breckenridge, assistant professor of chemistry.

Watch dial paint now is being shipped to the state university refining laboratory in large quantities. On each dial there is about 10 to 15 cents worth of radium, which is present in quantities of one hundredth part of an ounce to several hundred pounds of paint. By the process used, more than 95 per cent of the radium is recovered.

Woman Gets Dog After Jury Plays Role Of Solomon

Dog Overjoyed When Name Is Called In Court Room

(International News Service)
DENVER, Col., Nov. 21.—A three-man jury in a Denver Justice of the Peace court played the Solomon role recently in deciding the ownership of a valuable police dog.

Julia M. Marlowe, Denver stenographer, claimed the dog.

"I received the dog as a Christmas present from Elizabeth West in 1929," she said. "I know my dog just like a mother knows her own child. His name is Armin. He is about one year old."

Miss Marlowe said her dog disappeared and that when she spied him in the Sommers yard he was wearing a collar she had made for him. She took charge of the dog at the time.

William H. Sommers challenged Miss Marlowe's ownership of the dog.

"My dog had been missing from home and returned about the time Miss Marlowe's dog disappeared," Sommers said. "He came back home. That is all there is to it. It is my dog."

It was at this stage of the proceedings that the Solomon-like idea struck one of the jurors.

"You say your dog is named Armin," he said to Miss Marlowe. "You may prove it by calling this dog by that name."

"Armin! Armin!" Miss Marlowe called.

The dog almost knocked over two bystanders as he rushed up to her and began licking her face.

She got the dog.

TESTS SHOW BOYS ARE BRAINIER SEX

(International News Service)
WACO, Texas, Nov. 21.—Boys are just naturally more intelligent than girls, if repeated tests conducted at Baylor university here can be taken as an indication.

For the fourth time in six consecutive years, the male sex has registered higher in psychological tests conducted by members of the faculty of the university. The girls were an uncomfortable distance down the line.

The general average of intelligence was somewhat lower than it was last year, Dean W. S. Allen, who supervised the tests, said. The average for this year was 97.64 as compared with 113 last year.

BANQUET IS SET FOR COUNTY PESTS

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 21.—A feast of hamburger steak, with a special side dish of what is known as "red squill" weighing in at just three tons, has been prepared for 30,000 "guests" of Worcester county who were not expected to survive the bountiful repast. The rats of the district are expected to have but one helping.

Since Worcester has no Pied Piper the Worcester county extension service distributed the "food" for the rats to farmers of the county who have been pestered by the rodents.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

I have been waiting for two years for Henry Jeffers to get his rotary milking machine going. Now I've seen it running, and it has been publicly introduced, with the secretary of agriculture there and the governor of the state, and Thomas A. Edison pushing the starting button, and all that kind of thing.

What's remarkable about it? Only this, that with this big machine 10 men will milk 1,600 cows three times every day. Think that over.

I say milk, but as a matter of fact only two of the ten men do any milking at all. All the other men do is to wipe each cow with an individual towel, attach the milking cups and detach them when milking is finished and see that the machine keeps running smoothly.

Imagine a big room, all shiny tile, with a high ceiling, and in the center a circular structure, 10 or 12 feet high and 44 feet in diameter. Around the outside of this, at the floor, is a circular moving platform, like a merry-go-round, with iron rails for 50 cows. At one point a narrow tile runway enters the building, and leads up to the platform.

The cows come from their barns in single file, and the leading cow steps on the platform as it revolves slowly, putting her head through a stanchion that closes automatically. The second cow steps on next to her, and so on—about three feet to the cow, five cows to the minute.

Meanwhile things begin to happen to cow No. 1. A powerful spray of warm water washes her hind quarters and udder. Two men in white uniforms dry her udder with clean towels. Next a blast of warm air dries her off. Next the attendant applies the milking cups. And then for the climax of the revolution of the merry-go-round the milking goes on.

At the end of eight minutes more the milking is finished, the platform has made one complete revolution, and Mistress Cow finds herself opposite a door leading into the inside of the circular drum. The stanchion opens automatically, she is invited to step off, forward, and finds herself again in a tile runway that dips down, passes under the floor, and eventually takes her back to her own barn, all her sisters following her again in single file.

Could anything be neater? About 500 cows are now milked three times a day, 1,500 milkings, with ten men and some considerable kilowatts of electric power. Later the full capacity of 1,200 to 1,600 cows will be utilized.

The dairy farm where this newest machine marvel is operating is perhaps the last word in milk-manufacturing efficiency. It has one of the half-dozen de-hydration plants for alfalfa and other green crops in existence, four of the largest silos in the world, a famous research laboratory, and a highly modern system of labor management to intricate to be described here.

There is, I suppose, nothing like it in the world. Certainly there is nothing in the milk world like Mr. Jeffers' new "rotolactor," or cow merry-go-round.

Woman Flier Lands At Tokio Airport

Mrs. Victor Bruce, London Woman Flier Lands Safely In Japanese Airport

(International News Service)
TOKIO, Nov. 21.—Completing her long flight by several stages from England to Japan, Mrs. Victor Bruce of London landed her plane safely on Osaka airport today.

Barring a minor mishap when she was forced down on the Persian hills recently, the flight was made without difficulty.

Names Inspectors For Milk Control

HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—The Milk Control Bureau, Department of Health today announced the appointment of nine district milk control officers in as many districts of the State. They will represent the department in the inspection of dairy farms from which raw milk is sold to the consumer and all receiving stations and plants selling pasteurized milk. These men inspect at least 10 per cent. of the farms selling milk for pasteurization.

The district milk control officers are: District 1, A. J. Houser, 283 Walnut street, Meadville; District 2, C. G. Gifford, 203 Standard Life Building, Pittsburgh; District 3, W. S. Anderson, Ebensburg; District 4, W. C. Sterrett, 35 Eldred street, Williamsport; District 5, L. E. Bechtel, Lewisburg; District 6, H. E. Shroat, Harrisburg; District 7, D. A. McCarthy, 30 Shoemaker street, Forty Fort; District 8, G. P. Miller, Y. M. C. A., Norristown; District 9, C. E. Lewis, Smickstown.

Since September 1, 2130 permits have been issued by the bureau.

Vets Drum Corps To Meet Sunday

Members of the Bugle and Drum Corps of the Harry L. McBride Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a special meeting Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Legion Home Association Building.

Several important problems will come up for discussion at this time, and Captain George Candioti desires a full attendance of the corps. A practice session is also planned for Tuesday evening of next week.

The Corps recently lost their meeting place at the Armory and have been meeting at the homes of members for the past month. Prospects are very bright for securing a good auditorium for a meeting place in the near future.

Eagle Scout Rank Goes To Hawkins

Troop 18 Member Recipient Of High Recognition From Honor Court

SILVER EAGLE IS GIVEN BY FATHER

Number Of Other Scouts Get Advancement At Session Last Night

Scout Thomas Hawkins, member of Troop 18 of the Highland U. P. church, received the most distinguished honor Scoutdom has to offer, that of an Eagle Scout, at the November court of honor for scouts in the northern district of Lawrence county, held in the First Christian church last night.

The honor court, comprised of the Rev. G. S. Bennett, chairman; E. B. Hawkins, William Wheeler and Scout Executive Herbert Horion formally advanced the assembled candidates after the board of review had passed final judgment on them.

Get Recognition

Scout advancement made by the court were as follows:

From tenderfoot to second class rank: L. A. Trushel, troop 5; D. Allen, troop 13; Ed McKee, troop 15, and R. Gustafson, troop 17.

Scouts advanced from second to first class rank: Haskell Kitchen, troop 15, and Roger Rowe, troop 17. Merit badges were awarded as follows:

Jack Taylor, troop 5, handicraft, printing and fireman; R. Ray, troop 15, handicraft, lifesaving and Star Scout rank; R. Moore, troop 17, agriculture, horsemanship, leathercraft and poultry keeping; R. Rowe, troop 17, handicraft; John Stump, troop 21, photography and Eagle Scout; Hans Holm of New Wilmington 1, blacksmithing, reptile study, scholarship and architecture. When these badges had been presented, Rev. Bennett then called Tom Hawkins to the front, and presented him as a candidate for Eagle Scout rank. Hawkins had been awarded the following badges, necessary for this honor: basketry, poultrykeeping, leathercraft, horsemanship, bookbinding, carpentry, scholarship, first aid, lifesaving, personal health, public health, cooking, camping, civics, bird study, path-finding, pioneering, physical development, swimming and fireman. He was also one of the camp staff at Camp Phillips the past season, having served as chief of the Indian village. He is also a Hi-Y member and as assistant manager of the New Castle High football team.

Father Gives Badge

Mr. Hawkins was called on to present his son with the coveted silver eagle. Mr. Wheeler, member of the court and himself the father of an Eagle scout, presented the certificate from the National Council, with Rev. Bennett reading a letter from Chief Scout Executive Jas. L. West. Eagle Scouts are assets to any community.

Rev. Bennett then announced the next court of honor for Monday evening, December 29. As this comes during the Christmas vacation, it is expected that a large court will be held on this occasion.

Last Training Course Is Held

Girl Reserve Advisors Meet At Y. W. C. A. Last Night; Miss Withrow Instructs

Fifteen women, advisors of the city Girl Reserve Clubs, met in the office of the Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserve secretary on Thursday evening for their last advisor's training course.

For the past two months these training courses have been conducted at the local Y. W. C. A. in order to give the advisors instructions as to program planning, the carrying out of the programs, special activities, handicrafts, handling of interest groups, etc.

Miss Hazel Belle Withrow, metropolitan Girl Reserve secretary, of Pittsburgh, has been instructing the advisors and members of the Girl Reserve Committee each Thursday evening. The course ended last night.

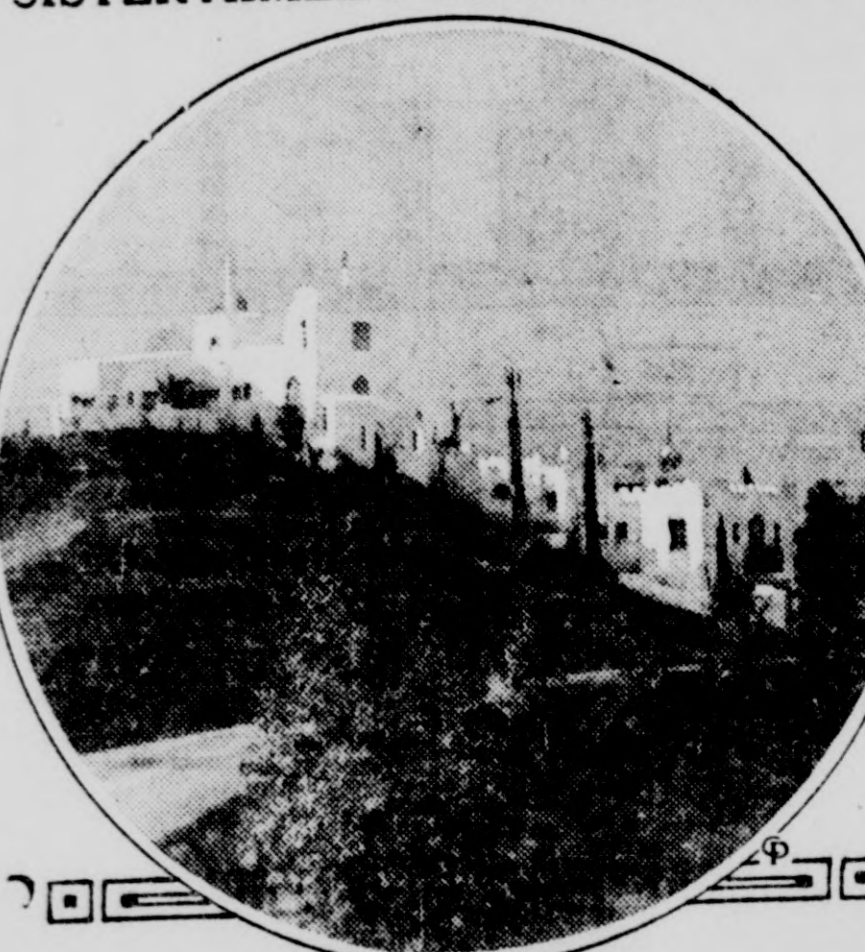

Among those present last night was Mrs. Helen Braun, acting secretary of Girl Reserves of the city.

Mrs. V. Thomsen Returns To Home

Mrs. V. Thomsen, wife of Ensign V. Thomsen, officer in charge of the Salvation Army work here, who sustained a fractured vertebra nine weeks ago, in an automobile accident on the Perry Highway near Harmony, returned home today from the Salvation Army hospital at Bellevue, Pa., where she has been for the past six weeks. She was accompanied by her infant son, John. She was brought home by State Captain and Financial Secretary of the Western Pennsylvania District C. Lockwood and Adjutant Ott, graduate nurse, and personal friend of Mrs. Thomsen, and who has been caring for her during the past six weeks. Mrs. Thomsen is recovering in fine shape from her injury but will be some months before she will be able to resume her duties.

Gangsters are eliminating one another. Now if only somebody can make peevish politicians mad at one another.

SISTER AIMEE DWELLS IN CASTLE

Floors of black glass and a bathroom of mother of pearl are said to be the outstanding features of this $50,000 mansion, the home of Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson, at Elsinore, Cal. It is a new Morro type castle, on an estate covering nine lots. Black velvet draperies and Biblical scenes decorate the 14 rooms. Neighbors say Mrs. McPherson passes much time there when she is not traveling. Mrs. McPherson has returned to the United States from a trip to Panama and the West Indies.

First Lady Visits Ailing Son

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Sr., First Lady of the Land, laid aside her official duties and journeyed to Asheville to visit her son Herbert Hoover, Jr., who is living at Asheville, N. C., while recuperating from a tubercular infection. With Mrs. Hoover is shown Fred L. Seely, Jr., son of Fred L. Seely, prominent Asheville citizen and friend of the Hoovers.

Wide Difference Of Opinion As To Value Of Property

Appeal By The County From The Award Of Viewers On The Barkay Property

Widely different valuations on the property of Mary Barkay were given in the case on trial before Judge Hildebrand, in which the county of Lawrence is appealing from the report of viewers in which they had awarded $4,000 damages, by reason of a change in the location of the Wurtemberg-Portersville road at Ellport.

Some of the witnesses thought the Barkay property was worth around $12,000 before the improvement, and from this the valuations were run on down to the value of the naked land. There is a brick storeroom on the property, and the change in the road would take several feet off the back end. While the storeroom is vacant at present it was claimed by the defense that this was not on account of the road change, but on account of local business conditions. The jury was taken down to view the premises in order that they might the more intelligently interpret the testimony.

Tossed From Auto, Blanket Saves Her

(International News Service) DENVER, Col., Nov. 21.—Two automobiles came together with a terrific crash at a Denver street intersection. A bundle of blankets flew through the window of one of the cars and struck the pavement with a soft thud. A woman screamed and leaped out of the car. She picked up the bundle. It gurgled a mild protest at the unusual treatment. In the bundle was Louella Carver, 3-months-old daughter of Mrs. R. H. Carver, Edgewater, Colo. The baby was uninjured. A heavy blanket in which she was wrapped saved her life, according to Police Surgeon Harry Culver.

(International News Service) NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Nov. 21.—The good old days when sheriffs and their posse galloped through town on horseback instead of using a modern motor car were recalled with the return of an old-fashioned cattle "rustler" to Tuscarawas county.

He began in a small way by "rustling" but a single Jersey cow from the farm of N. C. Goshorn, and has thus far evaded Sheriff Harry C. Smith.

Mystery Writer Once Newsvendor

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Edgar Wallace, famous writer of detective "thrillers," used to sell newspapers on street corners in London. Presiding at the annual dinner of the Newsvendors' Benevolent and Provident Institution he told the guests how in his early days he sold newspapers under the shadow of St. Paul's Cathedral. "I started work selling newspapers," he said, "and I have done everything a newsvendor could do as such except make false returns." "Newspaper selling is a hard business," he went on. "Thousands of men and many women work from dawn to sunset just scraping a living together. It is one of the most precarious methods of earning a living, next to being a poet or a writer of detective stories."

"Tear Down Tenements As Unemployment Aid!" Professor Tells Cities

By BONITA WITT
Central Press Staff Writer
CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Tearing down tenements as an unemployment relief measure is suggested by Professor C. E. Merriam, head of the department of political science of the University of Chicago, and author of many books on government. Professor Merriam likewise once was reform candidate for mayor of Chicago.

"This is not an immediate solution to the unemployment problem," Dr. Merriam says concerning his tenement suggestion. "Destruction of tenements must not be undertaken without a definite plan. If, however, a city has mapped out a far-seeing program of social welfare, this would be an excellent time to begin ridding itself of miserable dwellings. In the past there frequently has been a shortage of labor which made such a project impossible. If a master planner or a housing corporation with a limited income were to undertake the razing of the city slums with a definite goal in view I believe the present would be an auspicious time."

C. E. MERRIAM

Such a development could be more readily carried forward under a city-state than the present form of municipal government, Professor Merriam believes. "Municipal problems," he points out, "are greatly complicated now, since cities are surrounded by suburbs. In the past suburbs were rapidly annexed. Now, improved methods of transportation have made it possible for thousands to live many miles from the heart of the city where they work. Chicago has 1,800 separate governments in its metropolitan area. Often the best citizens live in the suburbs and cannot vote in the city, although they work in the city."

"Urban standards, urban practices, urban leaders will determine the position and policy of the United States. If these fail, America fails. If America fails, Democracy fails."

Clash of Urban and Rural

"Cities, at present, are unable to cope with many problems because they cannot get along with the state legislature. The legislature always is behind the times because rural life is fundamentally different from life in the city and cities find it difficult to put through legislation, which to them is vital, because rural representatives cannot see the necessity for it. If the city-state form of government were established they would be able to govern themselves."

"By the same token the state often is not big enough to supervise the city. Under a city-state set-up it would be under the supervision of the federal government, which is big enough to master the 'bad boys'."

"In Germany, Hamburg and Bremen are city states and there are also unions of city states, made up of the smaller communities. New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and several other cities are potential city states. Perhaps the next 30 years will see State of the City of New York, or the State of the City of Chicago. The consent of the state and congress would be necessary to change the form of government."

Hot Bath Is Stimulating, Not Inducive To Sleep Says Doctor Clendening

Lukewarm Water At Bedtime Sedative, Experiments And Questions Prove; Wet Pack Best Of All

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

To many types of people hot baths are too depressant to be comfortable. These are people with catarrh and chronic bronchitis or other chronic respiratory diseases. Individual variation to the effects of the hot bath is greater than to the cold bath.

For most people, contrary to general belief, the hot bath is stimulating. It is therefore a good thing to start out the day with. Most people instinctively feel that a hot bath is a good thing to take before going to bed and will put them to sleep. Many years ago I became convinced of the opposite, and my experience and questioning has led me to the conclusion that a hot bath at bedtime keeps most people awake and leads to a restless night. A cold or lukewarm bath is a much better sedative. Best of all is the wet pack.

The first effect of the hot bath is to contract the blood vessels of the skin. This phase soon passes, and a dilation occurs. This dilation is more prolonged in time than the secondary dilation following the cold bath. The time element in the use of water with the idea of its effect on health is no less important than the temperature of the water.

In hot weather, for cooling off, a lukewarm bath is much better than a cold bath. The secondary dilation of the skin blood vessels is so marked after a cold bath as to make the body soon feel warmer than before the bath. The European residents of tropical countries have discovered the lukewarm bath the most satisfactory.

The use of hot baths, or better, of hot electric light cabinet baths, for patients with kidney trouble has long been popular. The general theory is that the perspiration throws off the waste products which should be eliminated by the kidneys. Recent studies by Drs. Austin and Miller would indicate that the theory is more or less of a delusion. They studied the waste products in the blood before and after the sweat and found no change.

The Turkish bath should be indulged only by the strong and well-developed of full habit as the girls in "Rienzi" said of the English army officers.

Misprint. A misprint was made in the instructions in this column a few weeks ago as to the vitamins in milk. No serious consequence could have come from it, however, because the proper advice, which was to add orange juice to the baby's diet was given. The mistake consisted in calling the vitamin in orange juice vitamin "D." The statement should have read that vitamin C is often destroyed in boiled or autoclaved milk. Artificially fed infants should therefore have vitamin C added to the diet in the form of orange juice. Vitamin D should also be added to the baby's diet in the form of cod liver oil. Several inquiries have come in about Vitamin B which is present in cow's milk in larger proportion than in mother's milk. It is also present in an artificial food called Vitavase. My apologies for the error.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Four pamphlets by Doctor Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Infant Feeding," "Reducing and Gaining," "Instructions on the Treatment of Diabetes" and "Hygiene of Women."

Lawyers Fight Right Of Legal Suicide

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 21.—A man has no right to take his own life, even legally, attorneys for J. J. Maple contend in an application to the final criminal court here to save him from a murder case death penalty.

Maple refused to defend himself at his trial. He asked the court to sentence him to early electrocution. The court gave him the earliest legal day of death, November 18.

Attorneys appointed by the court proposed a new trial. Maple refused to ask it.

Now the attorneys are asking the higher court to order preparation of a record so they can appeal without Maple's consent. He killed two Houston police officers.

Carol's Face On New Postage Stamps

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 21.—King Carol II. of Roumania appears for the first time on the new Roumanian postage stamps which are now reaching London from the Balkans. The king is shown side face in a circle surrounded by scroll work.

Appearance of the new stamp renders obsolete the stamps showing the boy Prince Michael. These latter are great favorites among collectors, and now that no more will be printed will be even more eagerly sought after.

RUM RUNNERS NOW NEED ADDED SPEED

(Washington News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The company that builds the fast rum boats has a new assignment—to build for the government rum chasers fast enough to catch the runners.

Designers of the swift liquor ships have been in conference with naval architects to discuss the building of a fleet of boats to cost about $40,000 each. They are to be much like the submarine chasers built during the war.

NEW JERSEY ROBBER MYSTIFIES POLICE

(International News Service)
BAYONNE, N. J., Nov. 21.—Police here were mystified by a soft hearted burglar recently who took $516 and an automobile from two men and then returned $312 to one man and gave the automobile to a third.

The $312 was given back to a former city councilman after the robbery of the money and the car. Some time later police found the car with a strange man at the wheel. He said someone had given it to him.

WHO WAS Buffalo Bill?

Buffalo Bill was an American scout and showman, whose real name was William Frederick Cody. He was born in Scott county, Iowa, in 1846, and became one of the riders of the Pony Express when it was established in 1860. At the beginning of the Civil war he was a government scout and guide. In 1863 he enlisted in the Seventh Kansas cavalry, and at the close of the war he contracted with the Kansas Pacific railroad to furnish buffalo meat to its laborers building the line, in this way earning the name "Buffalo Bill." In 1872 he was elected to the Nebraska legislature. He served in the Sioux war, organized his "Wild West Show," a representation of actual life on the plains, in 1883, and in 1887 took the show to Europe for the first time. In 1891 he became president of the Cody Military College and International Academy of Rough Riders, established on his lands in Wyoming. He was the last of the picturesque frontier scouts of American history. He died in 1917.

Did Gene Stratton Porter write under her own or an assumed name, and what were some of her most popular novels?

Gene Stratton Porter, American author and ornithologist, wrote under her own name. Some of her most popular novels were "Laddie," "A Girl of the Limberlost," "Michael O'Halloran" and "At the Foot of the Rainbow."

Where is the Sargasso sea?
The region of the Atlantic ocean from about latitude 20 degrees to 35 degrees N. and between the Azores and the Bahamas is known as the Sargasso sea, because of the large amount of seaweed, particularly of the form "sargassum bacciferum," which it contains. It lies in the eddy of the great system of currents, so that the waters carry very little sediment and are remarkably clear and transparent.

How does a cat make a purring sound?

The purring sound made by a cat is caused by throwing the vocal cords into vibration, measured and regulated by the respiration, and this vibration is strong enough to make the whole larynx tremble. This vibration may be seen or felt from the outside.

What is meant when a radio announcer says, "This is an electrical transcription?"

By an electrical transcription the announcer means that the program is being broadcast from a phonograph record, the program not actually being presented before the microphone.

Swiss Invent Phone That Takes Message

GENEVA, Nov. 21.—Two Zurich inventors, Egon Zoller and Joseph Villiger have solved the problem of what to do when there is no response to a telephone call. They have invented a telephone apparatus that permits also of the transmission of a written telegraphic message. The apparatus employed is a dial telephone. When the subscriber does not answer, the caller by means of a plug can transform the dial into a telegraph printer.

HUSBAND-GIRL SECRETARY HELD

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.—A discovery of a blood-stained towel in the linen closet of the apartment where Mrs. Leone Bowles, society matron, was found dead of a knife wound last week today afforded another clew in the investigation of her death.

The woman's husband, Nelson C. Bowles, wealthy businessman and his former secretary, Miss Irma Loucks, are held on first degree murder charges in connection with Mrs. Bowles' death.

Bowles and Miss Loucks said Mrs. Bowles stabbed herself to death with a bread knife when she came to Miss Loucks' apartment to discuss her husband's relationship with his former secretary.

The towel was discovered by County surveyors who were making official measurements in Miss Loucks' apartment. It was discovered in a closet which had already been investigated by detectives it was stated. The towel was covered by a clean one of similar design, authorities declared.

Sixty-Seven At Westfield Fete Of Kiwanis Club

Success Marks Frolic At Grange —Wives Attend As Special Guests

Sixty-seven New Castle Kiwanians and their ladies attended the chicken dinner and general good time frolic of the club Thursday evening in the Westfield Grange hall, not far out of Mt. Jackson on the Enon Valley road. It marked one of the club's periodic Grange gatherings.

Serving of the delicious dinner was handled to perfection by a corps of Westfield ladies, assisted by their husbands. The Grangers sort of played the part of hosts during the evening.

Impromptu entertainment, games, group singing and comical chorus numbers marked the hours which followed. The Rev. C. J. Williamson, chairman of the committee heading arrangements, led the games.

Featuring were the melody selections sung by a chorus made up of Hans Drio, Lou Wallace, R. L. Wallace, P. A. Hover and L. G. Hall. What proved an outstanding hit was the Indian dance executed by William Mayberry.

Prizes were awarded to winners in the games. The program reached a finish at a late hour.

With Dr. Williamson handling the program were W. I. Clark, Sam Lewis, R. L. Meermans, Hans Drio and Thomas Blake.

Judge Rules That Criminal Born In Europe Must Leave

Joseph A. Schladzien, 31, Born
In Poland Becomes "Man Without Country"

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—A new and unique method of ridding the country of foreign-born criminals, was begun today by a ruling of the U. S. District court here.

Judge Oliver B. Dickinson, in handing down the decision, ruled that persons convicted of "breaking and entering" and "assault with intent to kill" can be deported. He ruled these crimes come under the general term of "moral turpitude."

The case of Joseph A. Schladzien, 31, of this city who came to America as an infant brought about the new ruling. He has a long prison record of nearly ten years in prison on charges of breaking and entering and assault with intent to kill Schladzien was ordered deported by Judge Dickinson, and virtually becomes a "man without a country" for he was brought to this country from Poland when but a few months old and is unable to speak the Polish language.

Westfield Church Sunday Services

Superintendent of the school and mission, Frances Fullerton of the Westfield Presbyterian church has requested that all the boys and girls of the mission band co-operate Sunday morning in bringing articles for the Christmas box, which will be packed and sent to the mission school in Arizona. Such articles as toys, balls, colored handkerchiefs, pencil boxes or books will be highly pleasing to these children of the West.

The pastor, Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, will use as his sermon theme, "In the Name of Jehovah" at the 11 o'clock service, which will be followed by the Sabbath school at 12:15. Guy Fullerton superintendent.

The Christian Endeavor program will be held at eight p. m.

In Religious and Fraternal Circles

Weaver Circle Meets
The Weaver Circle of the Epworth Methodist church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. W. J. Marshall, Court St., with "Through Temple Doors With I raise and Thanksgiving" as the subject of the devotional period, conducted by Mrs. Walter Morrison.

A demonstration "The Thrill of the Uninterested" was given in a pleasing manner by a group of the women. Mrs. Elmer Kemm and Grace Stitzinger taking the part of the American women and Mrs. Florence Cartwright, Mrs. Earl Hoag, Mrs. V. D. Hartzell, Mrs. J. M. Edwards and Frances Boyd, representing women of the foreign countries.

Mrs. F. P. Andrews gave an instructive talk on the work for the coming year and the business session was presided over by Mrs. Harry McCurdy.

Closing the meeting Mrs. Marshall, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. William Lewis, and Mrs. F. P. Andrews served a dainty lunch.

December 18 will mark the date of the next meeting at the home of Lillian Boyd, Winslow avenue, at which time the Christmas offering will be lifted.

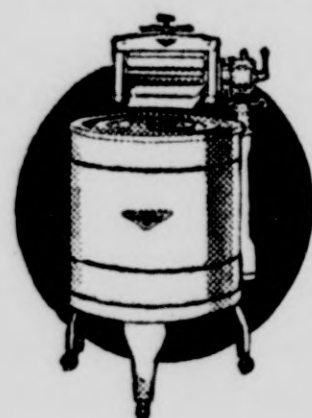

World Detectives May Convene Here In 1931, Is Belief

Indications that this city will be considered favorably by the board of directors of the World Association of Detectives for the annual convention in 1932 were expressed today by William Glodblatt, who leaves New Castle in a few days to motor with Mrs. Glodblatt for the meeting of the association directors, to be held in New York City on November 29 and 30.

Receives Sprains In Auto Collision

While driving a team hitched to a wagon on the Perry highway at Harlansburg last night, the wagon was struck by a car owned by W. N. McConaghy and demolished. Shupe was tossed into a field and sustained a sprained ankle and leg. The horses ran away, but were uninjured. Shupe resides along New Castle R. F. D. and McConaghy is a resident of State street, Sharon.

Baer, and Mrs. H. C. Weaver read a pamphlet on "Jesus in His Own Clothes."

The December meeting will be held in the church, at which time the election of officers will be held.

Two new members were enrolled. Mrs. T. J. Smith and Mrs. Emma Wheeler. Echoes from the Corry convention were given by Mrs. J. C. Miner and Mrs. J. E. Drake, delegates, telling of the honor given Mrs. J. L. Stratton and Mrs. J. E. Drake, who were made perpetual members, in recognition of their more than 25 years of service.

A delightful thank offering program was presented by Mrs. J. C. Miner, after which a social period was enjoyed by the women.

December 18 will mark the date of the next meeting.

Class Names Officers.

Members of the Willing Workers class of the First Congregational church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Coughlin Hamilton street, with Mrs. Ben Fowler leading the devotionals.

Officers chosen for the coming year were: President, Mrs. Harry Long; vice president, Mrs. Harry Price; secretary, Mrs. Henry T.

Jones; treasurer, Mrs. Harry Davies; reporter, Mrs. Dan Richards; flower fund, Mrs. Dave Matthews; business committee, Mrs. William Johns, Mrs. Griff Thomas and Mrs. Charles Henry.

Following business a social period was enjoyed during which the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Reese Price and Mrs. David Matthews, served a lunch, carrying out Thanksgiving suggestions in their menu and appointments.

December 30 the class will have a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Annie Williams, Mahoning avenue.

BE PRESENTED

Pennsy M. B. A. Stages First Of Season's Dances

Informal Ball At Headquarters
Last Night Is Opener;
Sixty Attend

Thirty couples, composed of members of New Castle local No. 55, Mutual Beneficial Association of the Pennsylvania railroad, their wives and employee-friends, participated last night in the first of the organization's informal dances, held in the social room at the company's west side freight house.

Later in the evening a light lunch was served to the guests. The committee in charge included C. I. Wetmore, chairman; J. S. Richards and C. R. Hopper.

Orchestral music during the evening was furnished by Richard's Pennsylvanians, an orchestra made up of company men.

Theft Reported At Gasoline Station

County Detective H. M. Lee reported today that he had been informed that the Jones gasoline station, New Castle-New Bedford highway, had been robbed of a drum of oil after midnight last night. An investigation is under way.

A report also was received here that bandits had staged a holdup at a Coatsville, O., gasoline station in which between $15 and $20 was stolen.

Bag Five Birds With Five Shots

(International News Service)
CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 21.—It isn't every hunter who can make his shots count like Motorman Claude Dewey and a gunner friend of this city, who bagged five partridges with five shots in ten minutes here.

Dewey and his friend were working through a patch of brush when a huge cock partridge left the ground. A shot from Dewey's 12-gauge dropped the bird and also startled five others who offered a fine target to Dewey's friend, who fired four times with an automatic shotgun, killing three.

When Dewey went to pick up the bird he had shot, he found another stone dead, beside it.

AURORA BRIDGE CLUB

Aurora Bridge club held its regular meeting at the home of Miss Frances Moresky of West Long avenue on Wednesday night. Five tables of bridge were in play. Prizes for high score went to Mrs. Bertha Wachs and Miss Mina Waldman.

After a short business meeting and card playing the members enjoyed a delicious luncheon, served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Joseph Moresky, and Mrs. Ben Moresky.

The honor guests on Wednesday were Mrs. Sam Rose and Mrs. Zakuta. The next meeting of this organization will take place on next Wednesday night at the home of Miss Florence Weinberg of South Mercer street.

Stolen Baseball Equipment Found

Stolen Articles Are Recovered
Through Action At Squire
Gilmore's Court

There was unusual excitement in the Neshannock township court of Justice of the Peace A. L. Gilmore, also in some sections of the city, on Thursday, when A. L. Mooney, colored, president of the Colored A. C. baseball club, preferred charges before the squire against Isadore Jordan, colored, well known resident of the city, charging him with the theft of a pair of shin guards, a first baseman's glove, twelve uniforms, a breast protector, a mask, five new bats, "St. Louis Sluggers," set knee guards, and other articles on November 12.

Jordan was apprehended by Constable Elmer Kurtz on Thursday and on being taken before Squire Gilmore pleaded guilty. A search warrant was issued and the constable located the stuff secreted in the cellar of the Jordan home to the home of the owner. One uniform was missing. After the entering of the plea, the principals went into a conference and on the return of the stolen articles, Mooney withdrew the charges on payment of the costs by Jordan.

Local Artist Gives Painting To The News

During the morning The News was presented with an oil painting, "Moonlight," the work of Joe Fandazzo, of 908 South Jefferson street. The scene is well done, and the color harmonizing looks good. Mr. Fandazzo has done a large number of paintings in recent years, and displays natural talent for the work. He has been painting for the past 13 years and has been a resident of New Castle for the past eight years.

FATHER SIGNS BAIL FOR SON'S RELEASE

Ben Harlan was released from county jail this morning after his father, Oscar Harlan of Harlansburg R. D. 4, signed a bail bond in the sum of $1,000 before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton. The son was arrested Thursday evening on an information made by the Shenango Motor Company last May, charging him with fraudulent embezzlement and fraudulent conversion of $610. A hearing will be held in the alderman's office Tuesday morning.

Verdict Awarded Plaintiff In Suit Over Auto Damages

In the case of Anton Werhnyak against Frank Dujmovic, growing out of an automobile accident which was tried before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $154.50.

The accident happened near the railroad crossing at the eastern limits of Bessemer on the Mt. Jackson and Bessemer road. Werhnyak claimed that he was driving on his own side of the road, when the Dujmovic car failed to make a curve west of the tracks and crashed into him. Principal damage was to the plaintiff's machine.

Little Contagion Here In September

According to the September report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Pennsylvania Department of Highways, few contagious diseases were reported from the county, and deaths from tuberculosis were comparatively small.

The report shows five deaths from tuberculosis, two from diarrhea and enteritis under two years of age, and but three deaths of early infancy.
Three cases of diphtheria were reported, one of measles, none of scarlet fever, 12 of typhoid fever, and three of whooping cough.

BUILDING PROGRAM FISHER'S PRIDE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—The building program carried out by the state during his four years as chief executive of Pennsylvania today stood revealed as one of the principal prides of Gov. John S. Fisher.

"Not as a monument to my administration nor myself but as a symbol of the greatness and ideals of Pennsylvania do I take a pride in the building program carried out in the past four years," Gov. Fisher told the Harrisburg Kiwanis club at a banquet given in his honor here last night.

"As a matter of fact, I want to apologize for my lack of forethought and my timidity in not completing the fifth building in the capital group," the governor said. The fifth projected building on Capitol Hill is the revenue building.

Fisher Praised

The chief address of the evening, Dr. Hubert Work, former secretary of the interior and former chairman of the Republican National Committee paid high tribute to Governor Fisher's public service.

"When a man serves his state devotedly for a lifetime, as your governor has done, bringing to many positions of public trust the pride of ancestry, fearless, educated, seasoned intelligence Gov. Fisher has done—"there was a man."

Gov. Fisher was presented with a silver service at the banquet, in recognition of his service to the state.

Letters and telegrams of praise and congratulation to the governor were received from President Hoover, Vice President Curtis, Senator David Reed.

NOTES OF TROOP "F"

OF NEW CASTLE

Meeting of troop officers in armory at 7 o'clock this evening. The extension course, "Care of Animals" will be studied. This study period, scheduled for Thursday, was postponed until this evening.

Lieut. Mitchell and St. John are making a complete audit of the troop property for the inventory that is to be finished by the end of this month.

Two horses have already been clipped at the stables. The work is being done by Sergt. Miller and Sergt. Stewart.

The troop is making preparations for the forthcoming federal inspection, the date of which has not been announced. Supplies are being ordered for the inspection.

Captain Smith Is Club Professional

An Assistant Professional Will Be One Of Field Club
Features Next Year

Captain V. Arthur Smith, who has been golf professional at the New Castle Field club, will again be in charge of the golf activities of the New Castle Field club next year and is looking forward to one of the biggest years in golf that has yet occurred at the Field club course.

One of the changes made for the coming year, is the advancement of Angelo Monsey, the caddie master of the club for the past three years, to the position of assistant club professional. He has been at the course for eight years, first as a caddie and then as caddie master and is well versed in the game and will make a very capable assistant to Captain Smith.

His advancement will mean the selection of a new caddie master, whose appointment will probably not be announced until about the beginning of the golf season next year.

Wesley Methodists Organize Choir

The choir of the Wesley Methodist church met Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Flannery for a business meeting, at which time an organization was formed. Twenty-five members were present.

Mrs. W. E. Flannery will continue in her position as choir director and J. L. Grittle was elected chairman with Mrs. Ralph Sellick as librarian and Mrs. A. L. Davies chairman of the social committee.

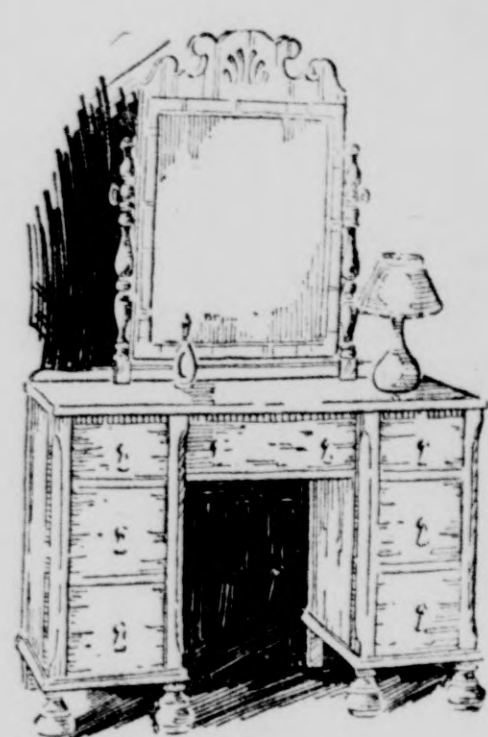

In taking the chair Mr. Grittle made an appeal to the members to continue their present enthusiasm and feel free to express their opinions, affecting the policies of the choir.

The social part of the evening was made enjoyable with various games, music and refreshments, served by Mrs. Flannery, assisted by Mrs. H.

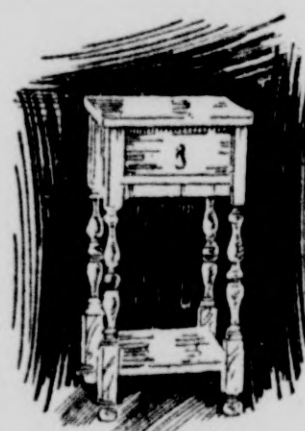

A. Donaldson, Mrs. C. E. Flannery and Miss N. J. McGrath.

The next business and social meeting of the choir will be held at a time to be set by the social committee. The choir will continue to hold its practice sessions Sunday evenings following the worship service.

Historic Coach Sold At Auction For Storage Fee

Carriage In Which Horace Greeley Made Western Trip Put Under Hammer

OLD VEHICLE HAD VARIED CAREER

By RICHARD W. RANDOLPH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LAS ANIMAS, Colo., Nov. 21.—The stagecoach in which Horace Greeley made his famous trip west, and in which General Grant, Mark Twain, Bret Hart, and hundreds of other travelers on the long-forgotten trails of the old west rode in state recently was sold under the hammer to J. T. Elder, local garage man, for $4,500. The coach has been in Elder's possession for many years and he secured a legal title to the famous vehicle by bidding it in for storage charges.

Built in Concord, Mass., about the middle of the nineteenth century, the coach was put into service on the western stage routes and had a long and varied career as a carrier of passengers and valuable mail.

In 1859 Horace Greeley rode over the Santa Fe trail on this stagecoach. It has long been known as the Greeley stage from the ride of this famous personage.

On the Deadwood trail in 1875, it was attacked by bandits, and three of the passengers were killed. Jim Quinn, driver with his team of six long-winded cayuses under the lash, finally out-distanced the pursuers and arrived in Deadwood with the mail and the surviving passengers.

Built of the very finest materials, the old coach is still in good condition. It was said to have cost $1,100 at the time of its construction.

The trip from the Missouri river to Denver occupied six days and nights and horses or mules were changed every ten or twelve miles. To reach California by stage required 37 days of continuous travel and cost $500. The fare from Leavenworth to Denver was $100.

During its long career the old stagecoach has borne many different names, being known as Morning Star, Prairie Flower, White Fawn, Little Pittsburgh and the Old Overland. It is as the Greeley coach that it is most popularly known to the old-timers.

As Little Pittsburgh it was the first stage coach to run into Leadville, Colo. Its name was taken from one of the famous mines in that camp.

Years ago the old coach was purchased by the Bent County Fair association for use in the celebration of the Santa Fe trail, which was one of the big events of this part of the state and was held here each year. The celebrations were discontinued and the old coach was left with a farmer living just south of town.

A few years ago it was brought out of retirement and used in a celebration here, after which it was left standing behind Elder's garage. Elder cleaned it up and placed it in his storeroom. Recently Elder submitted a bill for $4,500 for storage and foreclosure on the vehicle.

The Greeley stage accommodated 14 passengers and required six horses to pull it.

Foresee Radio Wave Are Wartime Weapon

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—A radio device that could stop all airplane and automobile motors at once is a theoretical possibility in war machinery, the Bureau of Standards here states.

The Bureau is working already on an "ignition harness" to shield ignitions from such a device, although no remote control for motors has yet been perfected.

This remote control to stop all engines by broadcasting with enormous power on the same wave length as the ignition system would allow a lone figure in a bomb proof laboratory to stop all enemy planes and all motor transportation with a twist of a dial.

Such a device would require enormous sending power, but a European physicist says an automobile has actually been stopped by transmission of ether waves corresponding with those of the ignition system of the car.

Mississippians Don't Go To Dartmouth

(International News Service)

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 21.—The average Dartmouth freshman is 18 years old, claims New York as his home, chooses business as a favorite vocation, and comes to Dartmouth not because of its great sport tradition, but because of scholastic standing, location, and the environment which the college offers.

Statistics released by acting dean of freshmen, Prof. Charles R. Lingley, reveal these facts and a few more.

The youngest freshmen is 15 years and 9 months old; the eldest 26 and one month. This gives an average of 18.01 years to the freshmen class.

New York State sent 153 first year men while Massachusetts, formerly the leader in this respect, sent 143.

Mississippi, which has never had a representative at Dartmouth, continued in the tradition.

Deb Elopes With Mellon's Nephew

The former Miss Grace Rowley, prominent Pittsburgh debutante, has been the secret bride of William L. Mellon, Jr., son of the noted banker and nephew of Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, since last November, it has just been revealed. The young couple eloped and were married in Wellsburg, W. Va.

Report Less Tourists Visited Gettysburg

(International News Service)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Nov. 21.—Tourists no longer flock to the Gettysburg battlefield as of yore, it is indicated in a report made public here at the office of the Battlefield Commission.

According to the report, 62,972 persons were accompanied over the battle ground by guides during the three month period ending September 3—a decrease of 17,077 from the figures for the same period a year ago.

On the estimate that but one person in four visiting the battlefield obtains services of a guide, it is calculated 251,488 persons visited the scene of the great Civil War struggle during this year's tourist season, a drop of 63,368 from last year's figure.

Gold Recovery Work Renewed

(International News Service)

DENVER, Col., Nov. 21.—Visions of a renewal of Colorado's oldest industry, gold mining, floated before the eyes of mining men here recently when J. A. Hinds, president of a gold mining company, exhibited a bar of gold valued at $2,600, obtained from recovery processes in the gold dump above Idaho Springs, 35 miles west of here.

The valuable bar represented five or six days' recovery work. The recovery mill, opened May 25, after an expenditure of $112,000 is working night and day, Hinds said. He estimated that the company would obtain $175,000 by the end of the present year.

We trust that these ferocious bandits, after they have obtained the loot, manage to elude the installment collector. Otherwise they wouldn't have a chance.—The Charlotte News.

Penn. Girl Made Happy

MANY times a child has everything to make her happy and still is dissatisfied. This may not be the youngest's fault. Often it is due to a condition easily corrected.

Take the experience of Mrs. Gertrude Sees, 216 Roberta Ave., Philadelphia, who says: "Nothing seemed to please Georgianna. She was fretful, feverish, wasn't sleeping right. She was constipated."

"We saw California Fig Syrup advertised and got some. It relieved her trouble promptly; made her bright and happy again. We have used it for three years."

Mothers by thousands praise this pure vegetable product. Children love it. Doctors recommend it to relieve constipation, feverishness, fretfulness, headaches; to open the bowels in colds or children's ailments.

Appetite is increased by the use of California Fig Syrup; breath is sweetened; coated tongue is cleared; digestion and assimilation are aided; weak bowels and stomach are strengthened.

For your protection, the genuine always bears the name California.

"No Papers, No Ride" Insists Paris Jehu

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 21.—"No papers no ride." This is what a Paris taxi-driver might say to you some dark night when you're far from home and want very much to go there.

Owing to the alarming number of daring hold-ups, the French police have found that they must protect the poor chauffeur.

Mr. Paul Guichard, Director of the Municipal Police, has just given orders to the effect that chauffeurs may demand to see the identity papers of any "fare" when it is late at night and the passenger wishes to go a long distance, for instance into the suburbs.

If the person who hails the taxi refuses to submit this requisition, the driver may also refuse to take him to his destination.

RUNS FOR FIREMEN BUT FIRE WON'T WAIT

(International News Service)

SHARON, Conn., Nov. 21.—Joseph Lawrence drove his auto truck into his door yard here recently and then found it was on fire. Lawrence ran almost a mile to the nearest telephone, and firemen found nothing but the charred remains of the car when they reached the Lawrence farm.

Pasteur Health Institute Doctor Reports Wonderful Quick Results From New Flaxolyn Discovery

School Exploitation Subject Of Address By Superintendent Green

Exploitation of the schools and the students was brought to the attention of the members of the New Castle school board in a forceful manner Thursday evening when Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, addressed the board at an informal meeting held in the Mahoning school building. The meeting was preceded by a dinner served in the school room.

The purpose of this meeting as of other informal meetings was merely for discussion purposes. In a regular meeting the routine of business is usually so great that it is not possible to get in anything except business until adjournment time around midnight. This informal method of meeting gives the board members the advantage of getting facts concerning the school system which while not calling for formal action, yet allows the directors with what is going on.

Hindrance to Schools.

The various forms of exploitation all of them usually with a grain of merit in them were brought out by Dr. Green, and following the meeting the board members discussed the question. It is probable that at a later date some action may be taken by the board, barring the use of the schools to any form of outside activity. Speaking on the subject of exploitation, Dr. Green said in part:

It is axiomatic to state that the public schools are operated for the education of the children of the state and for no other purpose.

The local and state educational authorities have defined what shall be taught. Through the influence of various groups of citizens many subjects have been added by the state legislature to the curriculum beyond the original program of studies designed to give children a thorough foundation in the rudiments of an English education. It is the judgment of educational leaders that the proper administration of a curriculum built upon the present program of studies required by law demands all the child's time and attention.

Advance Hobbies.

However, there are to be found in every community many well meaning individuals and groups of individuals who believe that they see in the public schools an opportunity to advance their own special panacea for the ills of the body politic. Usually such persons don't know that the prescribed courses of study do include specific instruction and projects in such matters as civic duties and responsibilities, character training, personal hygiene, safety, aesthetics, thrift, patriotism, manners and morals, etc. Then, by some strange operation of the human mind there are persons in every community who discern the frailties of children and immediately place the responsibility upon the schools, forgetting that during a child's entire public school career the schools have him under their nominal control only 12½ per cent of his time if he attends school regularly. We repeat that this control is only nominal for there is the ever present counteracting influence of the street, in some instances of homes with conflicting ideals, and in other instances of parents and others who do not appreciate the importance of cooperation in the training of children.

Welcome Criticism.

In a sense it is a compliment to the schools when other fundamental institutions turn to them in despair when they recognize their own failure, but the fact remains that the schools have all they can do to perform well the duties prescribed by statute and regulations of the local authorities. This does not mean that constructive criticism by well informed people is not welcome. Questions raised in good faith and through worthy motives by any citizen must be welcomed at all times. It is a fact well known by any school administrator or teacher of considerable experience that if all requests were granted for special attention to special interests of individuals and groups of individuals the distractions would be so frequent that efficient teaching would be impossible and the time required so great that it would be utterly impossible to administer any course of study. To accept some and reject others naturally causes dissatisfaction and gives rise to the charge of favoritism and unfair discrimination. Furthermore, the special interests of individuals differ and at times sharply conflict with one another. Hence, it frequently happens that propaganda favored by one group is violently opposed by another group. The only safe plan is to place a ban upon all propaganda in the schools and the attempted exploitation of school children.

Let 'em Alone.

Prize competitions are sponsored by well meaning and generous hearted citizens who are desirous of encouraging pupils in the schools. This feature is so firmly established that few people stop to consider whether it is a valuable practice or whether it actually defeats its own purpose.

An educator once facetiously suggested that there be added to the many special days and weeks a "let 'em alone week" with the hope that the custom might be extended to a "let 'em alone year" to be proclaimed by the president of the United States for national observance.

There is another type of attempted exploitation which would require little consideration were it not for the fact that it is most insistent. Many subtle schemes are devised to advertise commercial projects through the schools. Many of these are cleverly disguised under the cloak of community loyalty, character training, etc.

Many times during every school year we are importuned by individuals who wish to sell something to the pupils. Others wish to instruct or entertain them, charge a small admission fee or receive a free will offering. Many of these people have something worth while to offer but the school is not the proper place for them to operate. Even the Holy Scriptures are not exempt from this type of commercialism.

Nets May Save Bridge Jumpers

Would Curb Tendency Of Attempts At Suicide

PASADENA, Nov. 21.—Police are pondering a plan to install acrobats safety nets on each side of the Colorado street bridge here as a deterrent to would-be suicides, following the 32nd attempt at self-destruction here recently.

The bridge is 150 feet above the rocky gorge of the Arroyo Seco, at its highest point, and in all but a few cases the jumpers have gone to an instant death.

Hardly a week goes by that traffic officers do not spend hectic hours untangling traffic which has become tied up when motorists have thought they saw someone leap from the railing.

Mrs. Margaret White, 64, was the 32nd would-be suicide, but she dropped only 25 feet into heavy underbrush and received no injury except a broken ankle.

The only comparable instance in which some one has survived the bridge leap occurred two years ago, police relate, when a young man proved his courage to his fiancée by leaping into the top of a eucalyptus tree.

Although the tree top was only eight feet distant from the bridge railing, it towered 150 feet above the stream bed.

The youth made the leap, and after pausing in the topmost branches to quiet his pounding heart, he climbed down to safety.

William Finley Speaks Thursday At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 21.—William L. Finley, noted naturalist, author, explorer, and lecturer, delivered a lecture on "Wild Animal Outposts" to the students and faculty members of Westminster College last night in the Community House.

Excellent motion pictures of animals shown by Mr. Finley covered the fauna of both North and South America, and included animals from both the temperate and the frigid regions. The pictures, taken by Mr. Finley, were in themselves masterpieces of stalking wild game in its native haunts.

Mr. Finley contributes to a number of well-known periodicals and magazines, his articles in the National Geographic being among the best from the standpoint of nature study and of photographs.

With three million men willing to work cheap, this would be the ideal time to discover whether crime is caused by lack of cops.

Robbins, American physician who was sent to Italy by the Red Cross. Heroic little Greece took them in and the American Women's hospitals carried on the work of saving thousands of lives when diseases attacked the starving people. After the armistice Dr. Robbins worked near Prave to save the lives of children during the influenza epidemic.

HAIL, KING OF KINGS

Real Home Run-With His Cup of Welcome

After hanging up a sizable number of home runs during the past baseball season, Lewis R. (Hack) Wilson, Chicago Cubs' star, made this home run to his home town of Martinsburg, W. Va. He is shown with the beautiful 20-inch trophy which was presented to him by his proud townsmen.

HOME TO RESTORE BETTER DAYS

"Unmarried women of refinement and culture and accustomed to a life of affluence, who, by reason of financial reverses are no longer able to continue the life to which they have been accustomed" was admitted to this home, at York, Pa., as soon as it is complete. The late Anna L. Gardner set aside an $800,000 endowment for the home in memory of her mother, Anna Hahn, of Pittsburgh.

READY TO BURN, NOT DISTILL

To prove election propaganda false, jailers at the Williamson county jail, Marion, Ill., placed hundreds of confiscated stills around the jail, thereby refuting charges that Sheriff Oren Coleman, inset, had turned the devices over to bootleggers. Now a court order has been issued permitting their destruction at a city dump. Despite the display, Brady Jenkins, Coleman's candidate for sheriff, was defeated. Photo shows the stills in front of the jail.

America's finest washer—
The No-Wringer
EASY WASHER

The new EASY Washer with its centrifugal Damp-Dryer offers these matchless advantages over old-fashioned wringing.

It takes out more water than wringing does—leaves clothes evenly damp and free from deep hard-to-iron creases. It puts no strain on fabrics—no torn clothes—no stretched woolens or cracked silks—no broken buttons. It washes, rinses and damp-dries at the same time. It is safe—no exposed rolls. A free trial in your own home will show you why this modern washer is safer, faster, easier, gentler than any other washer.

EASY offers the widest range of washer models at lowest prices. In the EASY line you'll find exactly the washer you want—and it will be a matchless value at the reasonable price asked.

Surpassing all others as a labor-saver is the famous no-wringer EASY Washer (illustrated at the left). This marvelous new-type washer presents time and labor-saving features found in no other washer in the world. Yet it costs only a little more than wringer-type washers.

But EASY also makes a wringer-type washer selling as low as $79.50—a price which anybody can afford.

And—mark what every EASY owner knows—the name "EASY" on your washer is a guarantee of long life and lasting washing efficiency—regardless of its cost. For EASY permits no skimping of quality to meet price.

This machine also can be equipped with an ironer at slightly additional cost. Come into the store and see this great value.

The Most for Your Money!

Compare this new EASY at $79.50 with other washers selling for $20.00 to $50.00 more. Nowhere will you find such super-value.

Genuine EASY Quality. Full six-pound washing capacity. Beautiful, durable jade green porcelain enamel tub. Big, efficient EASY agitator. Quiet gear drive—all moving parts enclosed. Big, soft, balloon wringer rolls.

Institute Aids Tree Owners In Correcting Ills

Furnishes Detailed Information To Those Interested In Forestry

HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—The Pennsylvania Forest Research institute, established less than a year ago by the department of forests and waters on the Mount Alto state forest, has become a sort of free clinic to which the citizens of the commonwealth are bringing their tree troubles for diagnosis and cure.

As knowledge of the service rendered by this institute spreads over the state, more and more requests are being received for information about "What is wrong with my trees," according to Willis M. Baker, director.

"It is worth while observing that the interest of forest tree planters has not ceased with the planting of their trees," Forester Baker said today. "It is evident that they are not only observing their growth but are watching them for possible insect and fungi attacks."

"When the average layman attempts to identify tree troubles it frequently happens that the wrong diagnosis is made. A forest owner who reads about white pine blister rust in the newspaper and then finds something wrong with his white pine trees hastily concludes that they are attacked by this rust. He writes to the Pennsylvania Forest Research institute for specific information on how to protect his trees from blister rust, saying that he has recently discovered it on his pines. But to make sure this is the trouble he suggests his forwarding a sample for identification. More often than not we discover the trouble to be something entirely different."

Drought Responsible. Many correspondents who wrote for recommendations upon the control of various fungous and insect troubles during the prolonged dry season of the past spring and summer, were informed that the trees were not suffering from either of these causes, but from lack of moisture.

Among the more important tree diseases upon which the institute has been called to advise forest owners have been chestnut blight, white pine blister rust, damping-off of seedlings, leaf blights on hardwoods, sweet-fern rust of hard pines, and "witches brooms."

Inquiries to the institute regarding important insects on trees included canker worms, chestnut borer, white pine weevil, forest tent-caterpillar, LeConte's sawfly, woolly aphids, scale insects, spruce cone gall, bag worms and mound building ants.

While all the foregoing troubles are not extremely serious ones, they are apparently the troubles giving tree owners the most concern. In-furnishing merely miscellaneous information, an attempt has been made from the beginning to give the particular and specific kind of information that will be most helpful and practical in solving the applicant's tree troubles.

UTILIZE MACHINE GUNS ON GANGSTERS
(International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 21.—Machine gun practice is now a part of Seattle police force routine as this northwest metropolis plans to meet gangsters on their own ground and beat them at their own game.

Picked squads of patrolmen are sent to Port Lawton where they are learning the rudiments of the rapid fire weapons and the use of the tear bomb.

"Get the drop first and shoot to kill," is lesson number one drilled into the machine gun recruits.

Proper armaments to cope with the new bandit threat is being added to the armory of the force, police officials declared.

Another paradox is that it may be difficult in choice language and still remain the naked truth.—The Florence (Ala.) Herald.

The Great Refusal

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.—Luke 9:23

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
The rich young ruler, as we familiarly call him, is at once one of the most winsome and most pathetic figures in the New Testament. "Jesus beholding him loved him," and so do we love him. As he passes out of the picture we read, "And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful," and so are we.

This young man came to Jesus so hopefully, as he runs and kneels in reverence with his question, "Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?" He was truly interested in the higher spiritual things of life, as his question implied. The Lord referred him to the commandments, particularly the second table of the law setting forth his duties to his fellowmen: "Do not commit adultery. Do not kill. Do not steal. Do not bear false witness. Defraud not. Honor thy father and thy mother." If it is "doing" this young man wants, here it is set forth.

Very glibly he responded, "Master, all these have I observed from my youth up. What lack I yet?" Now he thought he had kept this law which Jesus summarized in "Thou shalt love thy neighbor. He did not love his neighbor as himself. And just to prove it to him, Jesus put him to the test: "One thing thou lackest; go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure to heaven; and come, take up the cross and follow me."

This was the acid test of his professions. Would he be willing to match them with his possessions? What would he let his religion cost him? How had he been keeping these commandments that pointed out his duty towards his neighbor? It is not that Jesus meant to teach that riches are in themselves inconsistent with the quest for eternal life, but only to show this young man how devoid his life was of that true love to his neighbor which he professed to have from youth up. He was unwilling to sacrifice or to deny self. Christ was only pointing out to this young man that the center of gravity of his life's interests was not in eternal life, not in the good Master, nor in his needy neighbor, but in his riches. Trusting in these rather than in God, he made the great refusal. "And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieving: for he had great possessions." The pull of Christ's personality drew him one way and his money another, and he betrayed the same spirit of the one who refused, when he asked "What shall we have therefore?" Let us learn to ask, "What can I put into my religion?" rather than "What shall I have therefore?"

(The International Uniform Lesson for Nov. 23 is Mark 10:17-27. The subject being "The Rich Young Ruler; Refusing a Life of Sacrificial Service," and the Golden Text, Luke 9:23. "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily, and follow me.")

CLAIMS HE CAN MAKE DAMASCUS STEEL

(International News Service)
AKRON, O., Nov. 21.—A demonstration in support of the belief that he has discovered the secret of making steel of the same quality as that which was used to make the famous swords of Damascus famous centuries ago has just been made here by Dr. W. Stuart Carnes, of Canton, Ohio.

Using a sword of his own making, Dr. Carnes sprung the sword blade until the point touched the hilt. This is the test that was made on the famous blades of Damascus.

Rolling up his sleeves, he proved the ability of the steel to hold a keen edge. Shaving some hairs from his arm, he placed the cutting edge of a large butcher knife on a nail and hammered the blade through the nail. Then he shaved some more hairs from his arm, to show that the edge was not damaged.

Dr. Carnes said he experimented 23 years before finding the formula.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Ran across an item fifty years old recently, that was re-published as one of the interesting happenings of half a century ago. The item said that the "editor had his doubts about it." The story concerns a John Dugan of Croton and follows: "A man named John Dugan who lives in Croton a suburb of New Castle, on Thursday last found an iron pot full of gold coins. They are all Louis d'ors (gold Louis) of 1665 to 1736, being coined in the reigns of Louis 13 and Louis 15. The coins seem to have been buried for a great many years. They are worth $2975. The queer part is they were dug up at midnight by Dugan who found the place where they were buried by means of a 'divining rod' obtained from an old Indian. This is Dugan's story and as the coins are unquestionably genuine it is hard to find the real manner in which they were found."

Which seems to indicate that Croton was on the map of interesting things as far back as 1630. On the face of it sounds like a story emanating from Winstead, Conn., where more fake stories have started than perhaps any other city in the country.

Back in the old days of journalism, the boys were not above faking a story now and then and according to Coroner James P. Caldwell, the dean of journalism in this county, they faked some dandies. There was the one about the cow that swallowed an umbrella, a story that attracted a lot of papers and inspired the staff artists to draw pictures of bossy swallowing a fancy parasol.

This coin finding story sounds about the same type. Perhaps Mr. Dugan did find a pot of gold coins and perhaps they were gold Louis' but until some old timer who remembers something about it, and saw the coins, steps up with a little proof, the story will still sound fishy.

Tom Hinkson should know something about it. But even if it is true, the question still arises, who first buried the money? Did New Castle have some descendants of Captain Kidd, or did Marquis de Lafayette get mixed up in a little game when he passed through New Castle on his way to Mercer.

Or perhaps some of George Washington's men buried them. Washington and his men camped at the confluence of the Neshamook and Shenango Rivers in 1733 and one of them may have decided to come back and live here and left a little money to pay the grocery bill.

A good yarn, but we would like some proof of it before believing it. Up at the Castleton the boys have been parking all around the hotel, to the annoyance of guests coming in. In order to remind drivers that the space is a non-parking area, a yellow band has been painted along the curb, and what a yellow.

Not that orange tinted shade that the city uses, but a screaming yellow that simply shrieks at you as you pass by. A yellow that needs no lights or bells to announce it, and the only lad who parks there unlawfully now will be color blind.

PARASITES HIRED
TO DO $100,000 JOB

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 21.—Connecticut used parasites, during the past summer, to combat the Oriental peach moth which in 1929 caused thousands of dollars of loss to peach growers, and as a result cut the losses by $100,000, according to an estimate made by the state agricultural experiment station here.

The parasite is the trichogramma, which attacks the eggs of the peach moth. To meet the pest the state raised and distributed six million trichogramma to 140 peach growers. Next year the state expects to release twelve millions of the parasite.

Kiwanis Club Scores Hit In Musical Comedy Benefit Here

Lincoln Auditorium Filled With Laughing Audience
For Opening Night
Of Show

Harold Burns And Supporting Cast Put Over "All Aboard" In Professional Manner

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—One of the most successful amateur comedies ever produced in Ellwood City is that of "All Aboard," a musical comedy presented in the Lincoln auditorium last night by the Kiwanis club to raise money for a Dental clinic in the high school.

The cast seemed to have been selected with fine discrimination, as each character molded itself into the play with professional ease.

The action revolved hilariously around "Billy Brady" (Harold Burns) a famous foot-ball star, who had some teeth knocked out in a game, and had to wear false teeth.
In order to accustom himself to these new molar condition he takes a trip on a boat. Of course he meets his sweetheart Dorothy Brady, (Mrs.
Richard Hawk) and in making mad love to her, a sudden jolt knocks out his false teeth, which he recovers without her noticing. But a misunderstanding ensues and it takes the balance of the play and some side-splitting situations, before all is cleared up and Billy and Dorothy are re-united.

The supporting cast is worthy of special mention: "Beatrice Sloan" played by Miss Ruth Blocher, and Johnnie Thomas, (Norman Reardon) contributed greatly to the comedy on board ship, as also were the efforts of J. J. McLaughlin and Paul Winter who were deck hands. The comedy lead was Bill Kegal, who played to perfection his role of "Alexander Seaford" a colored porter.

His interpretation showed a keen understanding of his role. John Preston as the ship's captain and Miss Josephine Hartzell as the Swedish stewardess were also clever.
There were 150 young high school girls in the choruses and all worked like a machine. Another important feature was that the curtain arose promptly at 8:30, which is unusual for an amateur performance. Tonight is the last night of the play.
Some of the song hits are: "At Last My Dreams Come True" sung by Mrs. Hawk, and "Bashful Bumble Bees," "A Sweetheart in Every Port" and "Overalls." The performance is well worth viewing, and will provide an evening's entertainment, as well as donate a sum of money toward a worthy cause.

Former Resident Entertains Friends

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—Mrs.
L. E. Sawyer, a former resident of Ellwood, entertained several local women informally at luncheon on Thursday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Foxall's birthday anniversary, at her new home in Glenview.

Covers were laid for six and a delicious menu was enjoyed. The afternoon hours were spent socially.
Those enjoying the event from Ellwood were Mesdames D. R. Williams, S. P. McKim, H. H. Young and J. L. Goodwill.

at the home of his parents, after a short illness.

Besides his parents, Anthony is survived by five sisters and three brothers. Funeral service plans are incomplete.

Special Music At Slippery Rock For Revival Service

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—The Revival services which have been going on in the Slippery Rock church this week, are continuing to attract large crowds. Tonight a special musical feature will be a Male Quartette from Polk, Pa. The sermon will be delivered by Dr. S. A.
Kirkride of New Wilmington, and the night is "Homecoming Night."

Last night there was choral singing, and solos by Homer Welch.
Rev. Elliott delivered a fine sermon on "A Spiritual Invalid."

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—Sixteen members of the A. W. Class of the U. P. church enjoyed a monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Gamble on Bell avenue Thursday evening.

This was the regular monthly meeting and routine business was dispensed. Gifts were brought which will be sent to the U. P. orphans home in Valencia.

Later a social period and lunch were enjoyed by the class and Mrs.
Anna Wilson assisted the hostess.

Spanish Americans Auxiliary Meets

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—The regular monthly meeting of the auxiliary of the Spanish-American War veterans took place Thursday night in the fire station.

A business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Lawrence Stevenson, president, and routine business transacted. Plans for winter work were made, after which followed a social period and lunch, in charge of the refreshment committee.

Rotarians Enjoy Song Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—The

Football Season Closes Here With Saturday's Game

Ellwood High Gridders To Clash With Bridgeville High School Saturday Here

(By TONY PASTA)

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—Tomorrow afternoon the Ellwood City High gridders will bring the 1930 football season to a close on the local field when they clash with Bridgeville High. Ingle hopes to win the last contest and has his charges whipped into good shape for the tilt.

Very little is known of this opponent and they seem to have gotten very little publicity in the football circles. This eleven was scheduled on the second open date of the season.

In spite of the hard battle last Saturday with Rochester, the Tubers are in fine shape and hope to bring the season to a close with a glorious victory. Frisk and Neff formed a pretty passing combination and by this method scored two of Ellwood's touchdowns, the other was also chalked up by the air route with Wheeler carrying the ball, on last Saturday.

C. A. Martin Class To Sell Red Cross Seals This Year

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—Members of the C. A. Martin class of the First Presbyterian church will have charge of the sale of Christmas Red Cross seals this year as is customary with the class. They will be assisted by members of the Margaret Pugh Missionary society in putting the sale across. Committees will be appointed to have charge of the various wards, and the sale will start in the near future.

Pageant Depicting Thanksgiving At Lutheran Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—A special pageant will be presented in the Trinity Lutheran church Sunday night by the members of the Womens Missionary society.

This will be in connection with the annual Thank Offering service which is given each year in the church under the auspices of the society. The name of the pageant is "To Lighten the World's Darkness."
It will be given in costume, and the choir will sing the musical score.

Missionary Body Tours The World

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 21.—Through the clever routing of Mrs. John Hough and members of Group 4, thirty members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist church embarked on a descriptive tour of the world Thursday night which was very enjoyable. During the first crossing Mrs. Hough played ed a violin solo accompanied at the piano by Miss Sallee Hazen.

As each port was visited, salient points were given by different members of the program committee.

There followed a social hour with refreshments served by Mrs. George Moyer, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Abbott.

METHODIST REVIVAL

Wednesday evening was known as church school night and was one of the most interesting meetings of the campaign. A large congregation was in attendance, many of the classes showing a 100 per cent attendance. The evangelist was at his best and delivered a powerful and convincing sermon to the young people at the close of which an invitation was given to accept Christ and build a Christian life. The open space around the altar was filled in response to the invitation. In some cases the entire classes with their teacher came forward. The music numbers by Misses Owey and Ricket were received with evidences of enjoyment and appreciation.

Thursday night, "home night," Archie preached on the home, and another large congregation greeted him. Many raised their hands in response to become Christians and some were at the altar. The afternoon prayer meetings were well attended and great interest is shown.
Today's prayer meetings were held in the homes of Mrs. Nicholson and Mrs. Charles Galbraith. Tonight

Evangelist Gibson will preach on "Short Beds and Narrow Covers."
Owing to the entertainment at the Presbyterian church, the meeting will commence at 7 o'clock sharp.
One of the special features tonight will be a piano solo by Miss Virginia Clark of Centerville, Pa.

WAMPUM NOTES

Miss Margaret Owey, musician and worker in the revival meeting, 609 Bell avenue, New Castle, was an overnight guest Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. George Veon.

Mrs. Archie Gibson, Spartansburg, Pa., will be the guest over Sunday of Rev. and Mrs. Will H. Fenton.

CHEWTON

Members of the Jolly Girls Club were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Martha Soklos-ky. The evening was spent with music and sewing. At a late hour a delicious lunch was served by the hostess. The club members will be entertained at the home of Mr.
John Monesky next Tuesday evening, November 25th.

Mrs. W. P. Guy Sr. of Chewton and Mrs. Chas. Davis of Wampum were entertained Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Guy of West Pittsburg.

The Ladies' Aid of the Chewton Christian church held an all day's meeting in the basement of the church Thursday. There was a good number present and dinner was served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Guy and family of West Pittsburg spent Wednesday with friends at Chewton.

Mrs. Robert Davidson spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. S.
Fosnacht.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown and family were callers at South New Castle Boro recently.

Mrs. Tom Murphy visited with friends here recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Guy and daughter Elmer of New Brighton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W.
P. Guy Jr.

Home Of J. B. Tyler Leveled In $10,000 Blaze At Conneaut!

Former New Castle Man,
Brother Of Ex-Councilman
Loses Valuable Property

Only a small bit of clothing was saved in a $10,000 blaze which destroyed a building serving as a garage, auto service station, home and grocery store, property of Jess B. Tyler, on the east side of Conneaut Lake Thursday.

The owner is a former New Castle man and a brother of Walter Tyler, ex-councilman. News of the fire was learned here today.

"The Queen's Husband" To Be Presented At Little Theatre
Next Month

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 21.—"The Queen's Husband," Robert Sherwood's three-act play, which is now being made into a talking picture at Hollywood, will be presented by the Westminister College Masquers dramatic fraternity, in the local community house December 4. Professor A. T. Cordray, director, announced.

This full length play, the second presentation of the Little Theatre repertoire, will have a cast of 15 students, most of whom have taken important roles in other dramatic productions at the college. Leads will be taken by Kenneth Hemer, New Kensington; Fred Blaha, New Castle; Paul Gamble, Sharon; Helen Cushman, Sharon; Queen Martha; Helen Baerman, Pittsburgh. Princess Anne; Edward Montgomery, Tarentum; Fellman; Willis McGill, New Wilmington; Major Blent; Geoffrey Sowash, New Wilmington; Phipps; Robert Wallace, Coraopolis; Sergeant and Edward Dunlap, McKeesport; Prince William.

The complete cast includes—Kenneth Hemer, New Kensington; King Eric VIII; Donald Parkinson, Ellwood City; Granton; Fred Blaha, New Castle; General Northrup; Paul Gamble, Sharon; Lord Birten; Helen Cushman, Sharon; Queen Martha; Helen Baerman, Pittsburgh. Princess Anne; Edward Montgomery, Tarentum; Fellman; Willis McGill, New Wilmington; Major Blent; Geoffrey Sowash, New Wilmington; Phipps; Robert Wallace, Coraopolis; Sergeant and Edward Dunlap, McKeesport; Prince William.

The cast of the three-act production has been holding daily rehearsals in the Little Theatre for the last three weeks. Scenery and properties for the production are being made by students assistants and by Professor Cordray.

POLLOCK IS ON BUSINESS STAFF COLLEGE YEARBOOK

Clifford G. Pollock of East Gardfield avenue, a student at Washington and Jefferson college, is one of the five freshmen who have been elected to positions on the business staff of the "Pandora," the college yearbook.

Pollock and the other men elected will start immediately on a competitive basis, with the position of business manager for 1932-33 in view.

Phalanx Outlines Boys' Work Plans

Busy Winter Schedule Contemplated For Scioto District;
Map Programs

A two months' program for educational work among the Scioto street neighborhood house boys was formulated when Boys' Work Secretary W. A. Thomas of the Y. M. C. A. and members of the Phalanx fraternity conferred at the "Y" on Thursday evening.

For two years the Phalanx has sponsored boys' club work in the district during the winter months. Clubs this year have already been launched, with attendance averaging 50 to 75 each Friday night.

The Scioto street activities of Phalanx are handled by a service committee, assisted by the membership in general.

Scores Are Injured In Chinese Wreck

Believed Work Of Plotters Who Thought That Chang
Hsueh Liang Was Aboard

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Nov. 21.—Scores were injured today in the derailment of a fast train near here in what is believed to have been a plot against the lives of Chang Hsueh Liang and other high government officials.

Investigation revealed that part of a rail had been removed from the track. Apparently the plotters thought that the Mukden warlord and his party were aboard the express, which plunged off the track and deep into the roadbed and for a time interrupted train service between Nanking and Shanghai.
Chang decided to return directly to Mukden, thereby avoiding Shanghai.

Washington Cast To Give Operetta

Close To Hundred Will Take Part In "The Lady Says
Yes" Next Week

"The Lady Says Yes" is the title of the operetta which a large cast of George Washington junior high school pupils will give in their auditorium next Monday and Tuesday evenings, under the direction of faculty supervisors.

Cooperating to make the presentation a success are Miss Elizabeth Owens, music department; Miss Elizabeth Glover, dramatic department; John E. Paton, instrumental music department; Miss Helena Burckart, art department; and Miss Helen Dougherty, domestic art department.

The cast includes a group of nearly 100 boys and girls.

Children's Room Is Attractive Part Of Local Public Library

Children's paradise it should be called, for rarely is a room arranged in a way that is so pleasing to children's eyes.

The new children's room in the basement of the New Castle free public library is complete and is ready for the first story hour on Friday evening.

Walls are green and cream, and three charming figures from fiction have been painted on the walls by Gilbert Hoffman, one of the library pages. Gilbert took but a short time to paint the figures but he did such a good job that it doesn't take a wild imagination to wonder if they don't have souls of their own.

One of the pictures is that of the Pied Piper, dancing along, with a crowd of mice following. Then there is the Little Red Hen and on another wall, Black Sambo, with an umbrella over his head and a wide grin on his face.

Several more pictures will be painted on the walls in the near future—and in all probability Pinocchio, that mischievous little marionette who has delighted thousands of boys and girls by his adventures in Italy and Africa will be one of them.

SOWS VEGETABLES REAPS GOLD WATCH

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Nov. 21.—Carl Manerow, local cobbler, intends devoting most of his spacious yard to beet raising next year. He planted the vegetables in his back yard this year and when he harvested them, he found a man's gold watch in one of the beets.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY "Uneeda Bakers"

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

ANNUAL MEETING TO BE HELD
Miles Horst, Eastern Editor of the Pennsylvania Farmer is scheduled as the chief speaker for the Annual Meeting of the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association. The Executive Committee of the Association have arranged for their Annual Meeting to be held at the Liberty Grange Hall, Friday November 28th.

There will be both morning and afternoon session. The morning session will begin at 10:30 at which time the election of officers and other routine business of the Association will be conducted. The ladies of the Liberty Grange will serve lunch at noon.

During the afternoon session reports of the Extension Work for the year will be made by members of the Extension Committees, Project Leaders, and the Extension Representatives.

The Meeting is open to all persons interested in Lawrence County Agriculture.

SAVE YOUNG SEEDING

Lawrence County Farmers should examine their young seedling closely before deciding to plow the fields for other crops.

Many fields seeded to grass and clover in oats and wheat last spring have a much better set than is apparent on casual examination. Close inspection shows that the plants are there although they may be small. Plants going into the winter under the present conditions stand much more cold than they would ordinarily at the same size. It may be expected, therefore, that they will come through the winter in good condition unless the weather is unusually severe.

PROTECT POULTRY HEALTH IN INSURE FLOCK PROFIT

Problems facing Lawrence County Poultrymen arise from unnatural conditions.

It is unusual and unseasonable for birds to lay eggs during the cold months of the year. It is just as unnatural to produce eggs in the winter as it is to grow plants in the hothouses or to have ice skating in the summer.

Some of the most outstanding artificial conditions in poultry husbandry are breeding, housing, feeding, and the number of birds in a flock. In the poultry industry, market eggs are the largest individual source of income and most of the time, capital, and efforts of the poultry business are spent directly or indirectly toward the production of eggs.

Warm the Drinking Water
Heated drinking fountains are a good investment for cold weather. Chickens will not drink icy water, so egg production will fall. If the water is heated to warm, this will also check the consumption.

Lights are popular among the poultrymen because they permit the hens to get in a longer day. They eat more that way and are able to produce more eggs. Morning lights are the most popular and they are turned on early enough to give the birds a 12-hour day. The system of all-night lights is used mostly on birds after they have passed through one or more laying years.

Winter egg production is limited by a shortage of light, but certain feeds carrying vitamin D are sunshine substitutes. Alfalfa, clover, carrots, most greens, and cod liver oil contain this vitamin. Eggs are heavy carriers of vitamin D and, for this reason, are often referred to as sunshine.

Feed Egg Shell Material
Birds also must receive sufficient material to build up the shells for the eggs they are laying or they will drain the mineral out of their bones. This makes the bones soft and weak and the skeletons frail and distorted.

Many types of epidemics annually take a heavy toll. Some of these diseases are highly contagious and, although they may not cause death, they cause economic loss because they throw the birds out of production. Chicken Pox, Intestinal troubles, bronchial disturbances, and other ailments visit poultry flocks. For many there is no direct preventative or cure, but the best insurance against them is to keep the surroundings clean so as not to invite disease and parasites and to feed complete rations to keep the bodies of the birds well-nourished.

COMPLETE SPRAYING BRINGS CLEAN FRUIT

That fruit growers who spray consistently harvest uniformly clean crops is revealed by the results of a survey conducted by W. T. Henery, entomology extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

Ten western Pennsylvania orchardists who applied complete sprays, as advised by the extension entomologists, had only slight variations in the amount of clean fruit harvested during the past three years, the figures show. The widest variation any grower had was four per cent.

For the three years no grower had less than 92 per cent clean fruit. That was in 1928 when the highest mark was 98 per cent. Last year the lowest was 95 per cent and the highest 97. This year the greatest amount of clean fruit was nearly perfect, 99 per cent, and the lowest was 93.

STATE SHOW TO PROVIDE LARGER STOCK EXHIBIT

Livestock exhibits at the 1931 Pennsylvania Farm Show in Harrisburg next January will be limited to breeders of the state.

Additional space in the new show building, just completed, will permit larger livestock exhibits than any previous show has had. There will be room for 45 horses, 350 sheep, 110 breeding beef cattle and 120 gilts. Entries in the 4-H department, of the livestock show will include 75 baby beavers from Dauphin, Cumberland, and Lebanon Counties and 100 fat lambs from Centre, Clinton and Northampton Counties.

Exhibitors will share a handsome prize fund of approximately $11,500. This will be divided as follows: $1600 for swine, $3000 each for horses and sheep, and $3900 for beef cattle.

ACTIVITIES

Activity groups met in regular schedule on Tuesday afternoon. In the What-to-do Club they discussed the "snob," who is she, what is she and why. They discussed means of eliminating her, and started the study of Bridge playing.

Committees were appointed to make book ends, in the Travel Club. They also read their book, Around the World in 80 Days, and planned a hike for their next meeting.

A program pertaining to Roman Homes as to furniture, etc., was the topic of discussion in the Latin Club.

The Nature Club went on a hike in the quarry.

In the History of Physical Education Club they discussed physical education and early colleges.

A practice of shooting was the work of members of the Archery Club, and a regular practice was held in Orchestra Club.

The Junior Sea Rab Club members have started to color their wall hangings.

The members of the Novelty Club were very much pleased as they received their pins. They also started working on patterns for their glass paintings.

In the Dramatic Club, several reports were given on the drama, and a special report on the stage by Florence Anderson.

Courtesy Club members are working out a play dealing with their first topic on Table Manners. This play will be in the form of a pantomime. They are starting a new topic, that of Manners in the Family.

Several experiments were performed in the Science Club by the appointed committee, Patsy Sfara, Tony Mechoch and Charles Cantlebury, an experiment on conduction of heat, convection and expansion of solids.

It was decided in Journalism Club, that members of the same, would publish two numbers of the Be-Hi. The first of these will be the Christmas number which will appear about December 18. A new reporter to assemble the news was elected, Gordon Nelson. Also the staff of the Be-Hi as follows:

TASTY CEREAL HELPS STOP CONSTIPATION

Did you know that you can overcome constipation by simply eating a delicious cereal each day? Read this enthusiastic letter from Mrs. Kiell:

"I have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN a sure-cure for constipation, and know it is a remarkable regulator for the stomach. After using it a number of times, I certainly will not be without it. I have even gone so far as to send some of it to my mother in Poland, Europe."

Mrs. Anna Kiell, 77 Wolcott Terrace, Newark, N. J.

How easy to prevent constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Two tablespoonfuls daily. In stubborn cases, serve with each meal. Do this and banish pills and drugs from your life.

Delicious with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Cook into bran muffins, breads, omelets, etc. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also adds needed iron to the diet. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

State Loses Two Electoral College Votes

Loss Of Two Representatives In Congress Also Cuts Two Presidential Votes

REPUBLICANS MAY FEEL LOSS KEENLY

Expect That State Will Favor Republican Candidate In 1932 Election

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
Of The New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The loss of two Republican votes in the presidential electoral college in 1932 seems certain to result from the reapportionment program just announced by the White House under which Pennsylvania will be entitled to elect only 34 instead of 36 Representatives two years from now.

The reapportionment program, which becomes effective in the elections of 1932, will reduce the Pennsylvania delegation in the House of Representatives from 36 to 34. This means that the number of electoral votes which Pennsylvania casts for the President will likewise be cut from 36 to 34, since the State is allowed one electoral vote for each House membership.

Must Consolidate

Normally Pennsylvania by popular vote favors the Republican presidential candidate and there is no reason to expect that it will do otherwise in 1932. Under the present apportionment of the House, Pennsylvania is entitled to cast 36 electoral votes for the presidential candidate, as the State did in 1928 for Herbert Hoover. In 1932, however, the Commonwealth will be entitled to only 34 votes in the electoral college, and since it is a foregone conclusion that the State will endorse the Republican presidential nominee in 1932, the reduction of the Pennsylvania power in the electoral college from 36 to 34 is regarded as a loss by the Republicans of two votes for their presidential and vice presidential standard bearers.

Reduction of the Pennsylvania membership in the House means that the present 36 congressional districts will have to be consolidated into 34 districts. This re-districting job will be conducted by the State legislature and may result in loss by the Democrats of one or more of the three House seats won by that party in the election this year.

Pennsylvania has had 36 seats in the House of Representatives since 1913, when the State's membership in that group was increased from 32 to 36 upon the basis of the 1910 census.

Begin Survey Of Water Resources

HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—Under direction of the sanitary water board a corps of six field men began work today on an investigation of all the tributaries of the Conestoga Creek above Lancaster, Lancaster county, looking toward the classification of the streams by the board and to the improvement of the streams, which constitute a part of the Lancaster city water supply.

A similar survey of the Delaware River has just been completed in Pike and Wayne counties. While sufficient data for publication has not yet been collected, satisfactory progress is reported in the elimination of industrial waste pollution of the Delaware and Lehigh Rivers.

State Aid Boon To Crippled Children

Legislature Appropriates Freely To Help Handicapped
Youngsters

So that orthopedic centers in scattered sections of the state might be developed, and hundreds of crippled children in turn benefited, the Pennsylvania state legislature, at its last session, appropriated a total of $55,000 into its state welfare department funds, the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children emphasized today.

The society, a part of the International Society for Crippled Children, Inc., is sponsoring until Saturday a state-wide crippled children's week. Rex L. Patch represents the society here and will welcome any contributions to the cause.

In its desire to cooperate, the state health department has opened the Crippled Children's hospital at Elizabethtown, Pa. Nineteen centers are receiving aid, and in addition the department has placed four physiotherapists, or follow-up workers, in the field. They visit the homes and tell mothers how to fulfill doctors' orders.

The Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children was the first to undertake the betterment of crippled children movement in the state, it is said.

HIGHLAND TROOP 18

A meeting of the Highland church troop No. 18 was held recently in the Highland caves. Scout Commissioner Ralph E. Davis was in charge of the meeting, assisted by Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Bill Offutt and Senior Patrol Leader Tom Hawkins. Committee member Martin was present. Thomas Smathers, physical education instructor at the George Washington junior high school, was a visitor.

Three patrol leaders were chosen and patrols selected as follows: Panther patrol—T. L. May, leader; Howard Rumbaugh, assistant leader; Arthur Kohn, scribe, and the following members: Martin Hoffmeister, James Manor, Joe Fisher, Dick Hoffmeister and David Mathews.

The Fox patrol—Bob Howe, leader; John Thompson, assistant leader; James Hartland, scribe, and the following members: Tom Lucas, Alfred Sadler, Bob White and David McBride.

The Eagle patrol—Robert Emery, leader; Edwin Harper, assistant leader; Chester Bivin, scribe, and the following members: Ralph Davies, David Garvin, Robert Boyd and Charles Slack.

At the next meeting there will be the inauguration of the point contest between the patrols. The scouts with the best uniforms will be chosen as color bearers and guards for a month. At the end of the month new bearers and guards will be chosen.

Mr. Smathers will act in the capacity of assistant scoutmaster at the next meeting.

Bud Gordon was chosen as patrol leader for the new scouts coming into the troop.

All scouts are urged to be present at the next meeting.

Scribe, Edwin Harper.

TRINITY TROOP 55

The meeting of November 18 was held at the church with eight scouts. Scoutmaster Trevor Gwyn Lewis and Assistant Scoutmaster L. J. Lewis present. Rev. P. C. Pearson, chairman of the troop committee, was also present.

Instructions were given in signaling. Patrol meetings were held. Three scouts were in uniform. Two visitors were present. The boys practiced for the play lanternsides. Scribe, Bob Johnson.

TEN HERBS HELPED HER IN MANY WAYS

Claims Herb Medicine Put Her On Road To Health

Ten Herbs, the famous herbal compound, not only give amazing relief to sufferers from stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders, rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness, but cleanses and tones up the whole human system.

MRS. MARY OLESZYCKI

"Ten Herbs certainly has helped me in a wonderful way," said Mrs. Mary Oleszycki, 1902 Penna. Ave., New Castle. "Before using your medicine I was in a badly run-down condition. I felt weak—seemed to be aging before my time. Indigestion caused considerable pain. My appetite failed me completely and I dreaded to eat. What little I ate filled me with gas and a substance as sour as vinegar would come up in my throat. I became so nervous that the slightest noise annoyed me. Severe headaches came on me and I would get very dizzy. There were sharp pains in my back and loins. My rest was broken by having to arise several times during the night. After reading about Ten Herbs I tried your medicine and was soon on the road back to health. My digestion has improved and gas and nauseated feeling have been greatly relieved. My appetite is improved and I can retain food. Dizzy spells have passed away and headaches are not so severe as they used to be. My nerves are in good condition and the pains in my back and loins have been relieved, so that I can enjoy a good night's rest. I shall continue using Ten Herbs as I feel sure it will give me glorious health. I gladly recommend Ten Herbs to other sufferers."

Ten Herbs is sold at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington St., and by all leading druggists throughout this entire section.

Dick Turpin Styles Return In England

(International News Service)

LONDON, NOV. 21.—Highwayman coats, with "masks" and hats in the true Dick Turpin style have made their reappearance in the fashionable dress salons here.

The coats, made in smooth cloth with the fitted waist and long graceful flare, predominate among the new season's models.

Some have a circular cape, and are worn with hat to match and a tiny veil suggesting a mask.

The sleeves are finished with gauntlet fur cuffs, to balance the flared fullness of the skirt.

The full effect of the coat is added to by the frock, which, to be fashionable, should also have a long bodice and flared skirt.

Paris Woman Has Lion Cub For Pet

(International News Service)

PARIS, Nov. 21.—One of the most curious pets to be seen around Paris these days is a little lion cub with which a smart Parisienne strolls on fine afternoons. He walks along the streets almost like any ordinary pet-dog, scarcely appearing to be out of his element and when his mistress takes him to visit a shop he plays about with the shopgirls and has a very gay time.

Just the other day, however, his owner casually remarked that he was getting a bit unmanageable and she feared she would be obliged to return him to the zoo. Suddenly, the girls remembered they had important work to do in the other part of the shop and the poor little cub could not understand why he had been left alone so suddenly.

Spanish Have New Jail Alarm System

(International News Service)

VIGO, Nov. 21.—The jail authorities announce that their wards will find escape quite a difficult matter now that every door and window in the prison has been wired to a central system of alarm bells and lights, which will function the instant a door or window is opened.

Every section of the prison is represented on boards placed in a room in which a man is constantly on watch, and who will be sure to notice the sound of the bell and the light indicating the particular door or window that has been opened. Some sections are disconnected in the daytime, but the entire net is switched on during the night.

Now it is said the World war was won by France, and that Germany, England and the United States lost. It must be remembered that Italy won Mussolini.—The Duluth Herald.

County Federation Of Women's Clubs

To every club woman who is thoughtful as to what she will receive into her own life and what she will give out of her life, through her club associations, to the life of the community, state and nation there is ever the question, "It is worth while?"

Often, we have been selfish in our club affiliation and pointed the question mark to self alone. "What will we receive in social and mental activities?"

Gradually, the unfolding of women's influence, through the activities of the club, has led her away from the thought of self and turned the question mark, with her own influence poised upon it, toward welfare movements.

Gradually, too, that question mark has become a search light, sweeps through the community, state, and nation into international life.

Today, reaching far beyond that first question as to self and the outpouring of self which is more easily answered now because of the discernible results of these activities about us, is another question mark searching for truth.

It is turned upon the many movements that have germinated from woman's desire to serve and is flashing upon the horizon of each organization's sphere, "Is it worth while?"

So many have these organizations become that each must prove its worth in order to enlist and hold the support of the women through whom its work is to be accomplished.

It is quite natural and commendable at the beginning of the club year, that the women of the federated clubs turn the search light upon a goshawk shipments made to the Game Commission indicate the slaughter of many beneficial birds.

Since the $5 bounty became effective November 1, sixty-five hawks of various species have been received. The total included only seven goshawks.

Included in those sent in for bounty were several dozen red-tailed and red-shouldered hawks. Examination of their stomachs upheld the Commission's contention that they are beneficial to farmers. Only mice, insects and one red squirrel were found.

Commission officials to-day again reminded bounty seekers that goshawks are almost two feet in length, are blue-gray in color and fly rapidly close to the ground instead of soaring as most species of hawks.

The Press is at a disadvantage in fighting a public enemy. It can't go to the hospital to win public sympathy.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Annual Supper In Christian Church
Most Successful

Fine Crowd Attends Supper Event; Other News Notes
Of Seventh Ward

Thursday evening the annual supper and bazaar was held in the Madison Avenue Christian church. A large crowd was in attendance. Supper was served to a large crowd in the church dining room. For the occasion the tables were decorated in a color scheme of yellow and green. A delicious menu was served.

In the auditorium of the church a bazaar was conducted. Fancy-work, aprons, candy were on sale and there was an orange tree. Various committees in charge of the arrangements for the event comprised of the following persons:

Supper committee: Mrs. C. J. Bernhart, Mrs. L. W. Taylor, Mrs. W. I. McCartney, Mrs. E. A. Jones, Mrs. I. D. Wagner, Mrs. Carl Houk, Mrs. A. S. Eberhart, Mrs. J. M. Bevan, Mrs. J. W. McHattie, Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. William Crain.

Dining room, general chairman was Mrs. W. I. McCartney. Bazaar committee: Mrs. J. B. Bumbach, Mrs. Kenneth Walter, Mrs. Harry Boyd, Mrs. R. G. Clark, Mrs. E. M. Jones.

Chairman of the candy booth, Mrs. C. H. Clark.

The annual supper and bazaar proved very successful. A nice sum was realized from the sale of supper tickets and bazaar articles.

SERVICE TONIGHT

The usual benediction service will be conducted this evening at 7:30 in St. Margaret's church. Rev. Fr. A. P. Scholtz, is pastor.

SET OUT HEDGE

Hedge is being set out now in the public park on North Liberty St. Hedge will be set out on three sides of the park. The public park is being greatly improved.

O. R. C. LODGE

Ladies Auxiliary to Order of Railroad Conductors had their lodge meeting Thursday afternoon in the City Hall. There was a good attendance of members present. During the routine lodge meeting was conducted and lodge business transacted.

Plans were made for the next meeting of the lodge for first Thursday after noon of December. On this day there will be a turkey dinner at noon preceding the lodge meeting. Initiation of new members will take place during the meeting. Committee named in charge of the dinner, comprises Mrs. Harold Bird, Mrs. Alice Guy, Mrs. John Dripps. Members are to bring table service.

PRACTICE TODAY

Another rehearsal is being held today after school for the Christmas program at the Mahoning Presbyterian church. Rehearsals for this program were begun recently.

BLUE STAR CLUB

As yet there are no Blue Star club members at the branch library in the seventh ward. But, several children readers are nearing their goal and will soon have the coveted blue star on their borrower's card, denoting they are members of the Blue Star Club.

This club idea was only started within the past few weeks at the local branch. When children bring in ten new books as clean as when they took them out, a blue star will be pasted on their borrower's card, denoting they are members of the Blue Star club. Children are very much interested in this new club and striving to become members by keeping their books clean.

Suggestions Seem Practical

(Contributed)

If unemployment means sheer idleness, then it is indeed a calamity, but if it means a change of occupation, it is less deplorable. Sixty years ago a famous woman lecturer declared from the platform that there were just one hundred ways by which she could earn her living.

While perhaps very few of us can claim such versatility, yet there are many who have sufficient ingenuity to do something to keep the wolf from the door. There are many men who could make tops for children, which would sell to those who are able to buy. There are a great variety of ways of making rugs, out of the old clothes in the attic, which could be sold.

Even the Prince of Wales, set his fellow men a good example recently, by doing an excellent piece of knitting. Knitted rugs, cushions, wash cloths, dish cloths, and many more, if well done can be sold.

Heavy card board costs very little, yet can be made into doll's houses, doll furniture, doll's dishes, any many other articles, if nicely painted, will bring a good price.

Dressing dolls for Christmas, and making the many pretty trifles which are so eagerly sought for at holiday time, will all bring in a little and a little is better than nothing. Expert cooking is always in demand. Home made pies and cookies and candy will find a market.

Suppose we all ask ourselves, What can I do?

Rooster, Trying To Be Sociable, Swims

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 21.—You may not be able to teach an old dog new tricks, but Captain E. A. Swift, a boathouse resident on the lake Union Canal has taught a rooster how to swim.

Many visitors have made the trip to Captain Swift's boathouse to watch "Swiftwater Bill" do his daily paddie.

According to Captain Swift, the rooster's only companions of the feathered variety have been ducks and in order to be "one of the boys" has had to take to the water.

"You see" the skipper explained, "Old Bill was kind of lonesome here on the raft. He used to watch the ducks swooping down and swim about and apparently wanted to be sociable. So one day he just jumped into the canal and found that it was no trouble at all for him to swim."

That's the skipper's story and he sticks to it.

And Supreme Officer Expected

One of the biggest meetings yet held by Rinascenza Lodge No. 19

Sons and Daughters of America will be held Sunday, November 23 at 2:30 p. m., in Umberto Primo Hall on Division street.

Over twenty new members will be initiated and it is expected that one of the had officials of the Supreme Lodge at Pittsburgh, will be able to help with the proceedings.

At the present time, the lodge has 140 members and Venerable, Angelo Flala, hopes to increase the number of members to two hundred within the next few months.

The progress of the new lodge has been remarkable and with this co-operation of the present membership, it is expected that the membership will be greatly increased in the next few months.

Bo Broadway
by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—A gentleman in the Bronx, who runs a graveyard for automobiles, appropriately enough employs as a service wagon on old, gray, horse-drawn hearse. The doors at the rear have been removed, otherwise the vehicle is intact, with even the brass name plate on the starboard quarter bearing the auto wrecker's name in place of that of the mortician.

FROM FARM TO CITY.

Some day somebody is going to write the romance with which the real estate story in New York is interwoven. The yarn itself, without the romance—merely facts, figures, names and dates, is invested with fascination.

For example, years ago the parcel of land that is now bounded by the north side of 43d St. and the south side of 47th St., and from Broadway west to the river—160 acres in all, was known as the Medford-Eden farm. Later it became part of the Astor estate and from the hotels, office buildings, theatres and other important structures erected there, the Astor family has netted in excess of $100,000,000.

DEMOCRACY FADES.

For the benefit of those who are impressed by figures:
It requires 900,000 cows, scattered among 82,000 farms, to supply New York with the 3,500,000 quarts of milk it consumes daily.

In addition to this there are a number of dairy "farms" scattered throughout the city, distinguished by usual rustic characteristics.
On these "farms" 3,000 cows are housed. The animals know nothing of natural grazing. Their food is a compound of the laboratory, highly efficient. High grade milk is produced in normal quantities, but these dairies are overlaid with that hard, unpleasant atmosphere that permeates any scene where Science is called upon to substitute for Nature.

The cows that live on these "farms" are clean, well-tended and carefully sustained; but they are not "contented cows"; and when, once in awhile they are led out into the sunlight and feel the yielding turf beneath their hooves, the frantic delight they evidence at their momentary freedom is a very pathetic spectacle.

CONFUSION OF VALUES.

An East Side baker having heard that modern "efficiency" and "progress" were, for the moment, in the discard and that thousands of his fellow men were in need of bread, took the term "bread" literally and baked 1 - don't - know - how-many loaves, loaded them on a truck and one day last week fared forth to put a crimp in Famine.

He couldn't get rid of the bread.
Nobody wanted it. He visited several bread-lines, naturally supposing that his truck would be mobbed. Instead of mobbing the vehicle, the Hungry Brothers stood off at a distance staring at the Good Samaritan with that lazy collapse that usually attends frustration.

They were hungry, many of them, but they hadn't reached that point in want where they leaped wolfishly at a stray loaf of bread.

At the tail-end of one bread line the baker encountered a Celtic dame with her brood of three clinging to her draperies. The baker tendered his loaves and they were rejected thus:

"What good's bread w'out butter?"

The demand of the woman in the bread-line for butter with her bread would be funny if it weren't so pathetic.

And the pathos lies in her confusion of values.
In demanding butter with her bread she is clinging to a fundamental tenet of democracy, oblivious of the fact that true democracy and bread-lines do not exist side by side.
When the first bread-line appears the last vestige of democracy fades.

NOBLE PRIZE WINNER.

Old "Red" Lewis, the Lit'ry Photographer of Sauk Center, Minn., has been awarded the Nobel Prize for literature.

No matter what they say about Lewis's stuff in this day of standardized mediocrity, it's nothing but tawdrily clever.

It would be decidedly helpful if someone would show us Main Street and Mister Babbitt, on a background of standards.

Standards are precisely what the Gentlemen from Sauk Center lack.
He, himself, is part of the disease he attempts to define.

"Womanless Wedding," Is Staged Before Big Crowd
In High School Auditorium

Presentation of "Womanless Wedding," in the High School auditorium last evening, under the auspices of Cathedral Chapter, No. 440, O. E. S., attracted a large throng, who were delightfully entertained by the laughable farce.

President and Mrs. Hoover were in the cast, as were also Col. and Anne Lindbergh, and a host of prominent persons, present to console the weeping mother and congratulate the comforting father. The play was most capably presented and revealed some latent theatrical talent which has been much neglected.

It was a scream from start to finish, and will be presented again this evening.

The mystery of the groom was solved, when those in attendance recognized him as none other than David J. Daniels.

The program will be repeated tonight.

The cast of characters in the play follows:

Butler—Herman Hess.

Punch Girls—Andy Dodds, Michael Babovsky.

Present Takers—Miller Henley, W. D. Stewart.

Generous Donation Made To Milk Fund

Service Station Proprietors Give Cent A Gallon To Buy Kiddies Milk

Appeal was made recently by the Health Committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs for funds with which to make possible the purchase of milk for needy undernourished school children of the city. The necessity of furnishing some nourishment of this kind was most apparent and no funds available for that purpose.

Among those who responded was N. L. Gardner and Son, gasoline service station proprietors, who offered to give one cent a gallon on all gasoline sold during a period of a week.

The offer was accepted and last evening N. L. Gardner turned over to the committee the proceeds for the first two days, amounting to $8.26, which represents one cent a gallon for each gallon sold during the first two days of the week.

This generous donation will continue for the balance of a week and as the service station is open on Sunday, this period will run over into the first of the coming week.

With this nucleus, the Health Committee hopes to secure sufficient funds with which to carry on this work during the period of the emergency which has necessitated this appeal for funds.

Eighth Graders In Program At Union; Playlet Is Feature

An interesting program was given in the regular chapel exercises at the Union high school this week under the auspices of the eighth grade class, directed by Miss Lois Keteer. The program follows:

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

11. George Rogers Clark—Taking The Powder To Harrodsburg

IN THE AUTUMN OF 1776, CLARK, GABRIEL JONES AND FIVE OTHER MEN LEFT PITTSBURG AND FLOATED DOWN THE OHIO IN A FLATBOAT WITH A SUPPLY OF GUNPOWDER FOR THE KENTUCKY SETTLERS. ENEMY SPIES CARRIED WORD TO THE HOSTILE INDIANS, AND A LARGE BAND STARTED IN PURSUIT OF THE FLATBOAT.

DISCOVERING THAT HE WAS BEING FOLLOWED AND KNOWING THAT HIS HANDFUL OF MEN WOULD BE QUICKLY OVERWHELMED IF ATTACKED, CLARK LANDED SECRETLY AT NIGHT, HID THE POWDER KEGS IN THE BUSHES, AND TURNED THE FLATBOAT ADRIFT TO FOOL HIS PURSUERS.

THE PARTY THEN STRUCK OUT ACROSS COUNTRY TO GET HELP FROM HARRODSBURG. CLARK WITH TWO MEN RACED ON AHEAD, LEAVING JONES AND THE OTHERS TO FOLLOW. JONES RASHLY ATTEMPTED TO GO BACK FOR THE POWDER, BUT RAN INTO THE REDSKINS AND WAS KILLED.

REACHING HARRODSBURG, CLARK RAISED A STRONG FORCE AND RETURNED TO THE OHIO WITHOUT ENCOUNTERING THE INDIANS. FORTUNATELY, THE HOSTILES HAD NOT FOUND THE PRECIOUS POWDER, AND CLARK BROUGHT IT SAFELY TO THE SETTLEMENT.

Boost Alumni As Attraction In Benefit Game

Old Grads Believe Former Stars Now In Various Schools Would Attract

SCHOOL AUTHORITIES WILL BE SOUNDED OUT

Many old grads of New Castle high school, who have been discussing the proposed benefit game for the relief of school children in the city, would like to see a team composed of former New Castle high school stars oppose the local grid-dens in the coming contest.

It is argued that the expenses for such a contest would be far less than if a first class high school team from the district were booked, and it would also give fans an opportunity of seeing the boys who once thrilled the fans here with their stellar work in action again.

Boys like Harper of Penn State, Reider and Cuba of Pitt, DeCarbo, Ciccone, Millison, and Thomas at Duquesne, Glenn Shaffer at Westminster, Myler of Westminster, Alexander of Grove City, Alex Fox and a host of other local boys who are now making good at surrounding colleges or are coaching teams.

Enthusiastic alumni members are going to present the proposition to the school authorities within the next few days to determine their attitude on such a game.

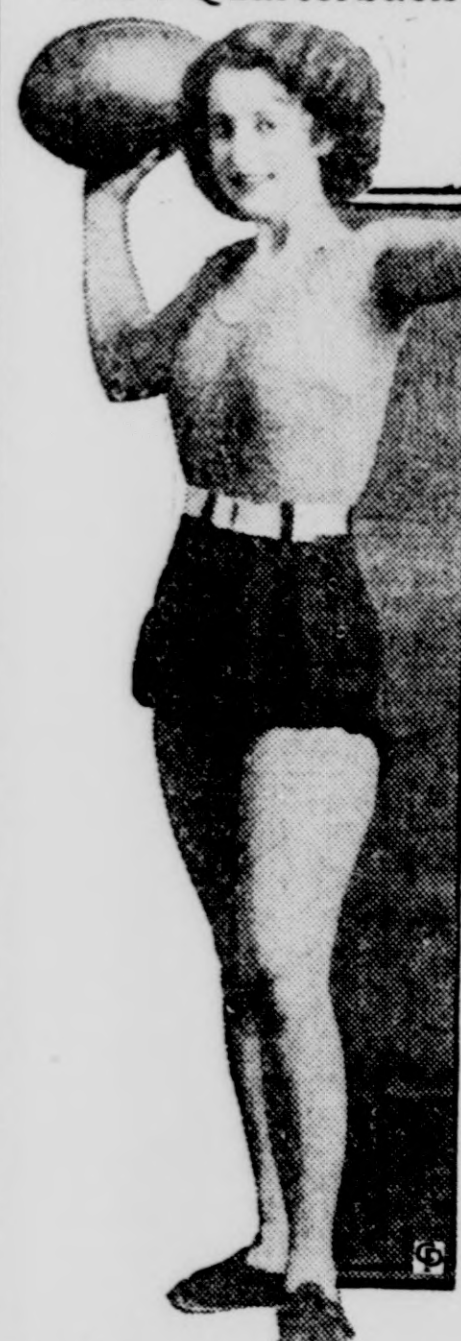

It is felt that the contest would attract many more local fans to the game because of the interest which would be aroused.

It is believed that the boys would return here and in many cases would be willing to pay their own expenses, just to boost the cause along.

If such a game is arranged, the Alumni members interested would be willing to boost the contest, and would arrange to have every alumni member of the school possible to bring out at the contest. They are ready to go to work to round up their team at once, if the school authorities are willing to stage the game.

Many of the former local grid-dens have made enviable reputations in college circles during the past year or two, and to see them in action locally would be a treat, it is argued.

She's Quarterback

Weber college co-eds, attempting to prove that girls can play football, too, have issued a challenge to any other girls' team in the country. Miss Blanche Heed, above, quarterback, shows how she throws a pass.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jim MacMurdo and Rip Collins. Pitt ends have been shelved as the Pitt-Penn State game is concerned. Failure to attend classes caused the temporary ban.

Willie Hoppe beat Welker Cochran 350 to 300 but still trails Cochran by 950 points in their contest in which Hoppe is defending his world's 18.1 balkline billiards title.

Bill Hanna, veterans sports writer of the New York Herald-Tribune died yesterday. He suffered a stroke last May while covering a baseball game. Hanna specialized in baseball and football.

Jimmy McLarnin is picked to win from Billy Petrolle, the "Fargo Express" in their bout tonight at Madison Square Garden, New York. The betting is 3 to 1. McLarnin will weigh about 140 and Petrolle about 142.

With the cold weather loitering around the corner the wrestling fraternity is becoming active and in many cities the wrestlers have already been booked for bouts. Wrestling will be staged at Public Hall, Cleveland, November 28.

Marcella Team Schedules Four Hard Grid Contests

Will Meet Colored A. C., Ellwood, And Mahoningtown, Before Meeting Croton

Before meeting the Croton A. C. football team for the independent championship of the city, the strong Marcella grid team meets three opponents in the next few weeks.

On Saturday afternoon at Centennial Field the South Siders meet the Colored A. C. eleven at 3:30. On Thanksgiving Day, the local aggregation of independent players will step out of their class to feature the Turkey Day classic at Ellwood City by meeting the strong independent team from Ellwood.

The Ellwood team is composed of former ex-high and college stars. Most of the 1925 high school players who saw action in the game in which Ellwood City defeated New Castle High will play. Tom McDermid, Fitzgerald, DeMas, Bob McDermid, and Sanders are grid-dens who enacted their part in the Ellwood City high victory over New Castle.

On Saturday November 29 the Marcellas clash with the strong Mahoningtown eleven at Centennial Field. The fourth and most important game is carded for Friday night, December 12 when the Independent Championship eleven game will be played at Taggart Field for the benefit of the unemployed, between the Marcellas and Croton. Officials of the school along with officials of the two teams involved, came to an agreement on Thursday night to play on December 12 at Taggart Field.

The Marcella team has been holding practices for over one week in preparation for the four contests and will be in the peak of condition to meet the Colored A. C. team in the first of the four games.

Football Season Draws To Close

Many College Grid Teams To Play Final Games Tomorrow Afternoon

WEST VIRGINIA BATTLES W. & J.

By SYDNEY H. EIGES
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 21.—Despite the fact that football teams in the Pennsylvania-West Virginia district are battling along at the rag end of the present season, several thrilling contests are carded for the current program tomorrow.

While Pitt remained idle in preparation for the Thanksgiving Day game with Penn State, the Tartans from Carnegie Tech took their departure for the Quaker City where they meet Temple University tomorrow in a charity game for the benefit of the unemployed. The Techs, with Coach Bob Waddell in charge, established headquarters at the Penn Athletic Club. The game will be played on Franklin Field.

At Morgantown, two speedy, lightweight teams, evenly matched and endowed, allowed followers little to choose between the traditional rivals, West Virginia University and Washington and Jefferson. Gloomy reports emanating from the Washington camp of the Presidents that Maury Rush, one-man Tom Thumb football team, may not enter the game against the Mountaineers failed to weigh down the spirits of either team.

Titans vs. Bisons. Westminster will close its season tomorrow with the game against Bethany on the West Virginia field. Four Titans, Captains Russell Boone center; William Armour, of Sharon, tackle; Emmett Tweedy, end; and Ben Haldy, half-back, all but Armour from Turtle Creek, will hang up their meekskins as college football players after the game. They were expected to display another spectacle of "four-horsemen" strategy in every period of the game.

West Virginia Wesleyan's grid-dens trooped into town today for the game with Elmer Layden's Duquesne University Night Riders at Forbes Field tomorrow. Cliff Battles, towering halfback on the Wesleyan squad, proved to be the big worry for the Catholics who have concentrated their practice on attempts to find an adequate defense for his plunging, slashing runs.

Coach Cebe Roar, of the West Virginians, expects one of the hardest battles of the season at the hands of the Duquesneites. He has exhorted his men to play their hardest in the attempt to score a victory against the Pittsburgh grid-dens. Kass Kovalchek was slated to return to the Duke lineup which in no way eased the anxiety of the Wesleyans.

Allegheny-Geneva. Entering the game with excellent records on both sides, Geneva and Allegheny were slated as even contenders in their game tomorrow. Coach Harpster has worked the Geneva grid-dens faithfully the past week in preparation for the game. The two teams have lost but one game apiece in the season and are both anxious to triumph tomorrow. Captain John Knapic, of Geneva, hurt on the fourth play in the Duquesne tussle last week, was not expected to play the entire game.

Carnegie Team To Hold Floor Meeting

On Friday evening in the Carnegie auditorium, the Carnegie basketball team will hold a practice for the purpose of making plans for the coming basketball season. Last year, Carnegie won the city and county midnet title and hopes to repeat this season.

The following are asked to report for the meeting: Ross, DiGennaro, Vignali, LaRocco, Gallagher, Campbell, Briggs, Venditto, and those who wish to try out for the team.

Turtle Creek High Season's Hardest Foe

Two of the best and smoothest football eleven turned out this season in schoolboy circles around this district will be seen on Turkey Day at the Taggart field when the New Castle high school combination clashes with Turtle Creek in the final game of the 1930 schedule. Both teams with plenty of time to train, are taking things easy until the final days, when the practice sessions will be strenuous.

Both teams will lineup on the field with good records for the season. New Castle to date has been successful in turning back something like nine elevens. Washington high was the only team able to defeat the locals. The score was 7-6. Turtle Creek comes here with seven victories, two ties and no defeats. Where New Castle failed, Turtle Creek succeeded. The locals met with defeat at Washington but Turtle Creek took the Little Presidents into camp. The records speak for themselves.

The Unionites possess one of the best aggregations in the history of the school. New Castle too boasts of a good eleven. Both teams will continue training until Wednesday afternoon, the day prior to the contest, when the grid-dens will go through the final workout. The rivalry between the two schools is strong and fans from both towns are looking forward to a good game. Turtle Creek will send a big delegation of rooters here.

According to Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, plans are being made to take care of one of the biggest crowds ever to witness a Turkey Day attraction at the local stadium.

Franklin-Sophs Tied For Honors

Inter-Class League Ends With Franklin And Sophomore Elevens Tied

William L. Klee head of the Inter-class football league announced this morning that the final game on the schedule was played on Thursday afternoon at Washington field with the Sophomores defeating George Washington, 20-0. The victory for the Sophomores gave them a tie for first place with Franklin.

The Seniors should have been awarded the title but played with an ineligible player, thus losing all its games on forfeit. The Senior team was undefeated. When Franklin and the Sophomores played, the game ended in a scoreless tie. Both teams won the remaining games on the schedule. Franklin was defeated by the Seniors but the loss was turned into a victory by forfeit.

With the grid season now over, William L. Klee is busily engaged preparing a floor schedule for the Inter-Class league.

Kozicki, Michaels, Both Lost To Titans For Bethany Contest

MICHAELS—QUARTER

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 21.—Announcement was made yesterday afternoon that Walter Kozicki, stalwart tackle, and Harry Michaels, fullback, will not make the trip to Bethany tomorrow to close the season against the Bisons. Both men were injured in the Thiel game and will be left at home to have their injuries nursed. This means that Armour, Cleland and Rehfs will have to handle the tackle positions, while Perrin and Hannas will have to take care of the fullback post. Armour, playing his last game for the Titans, may get the call to start the game and Perrin may start at fullback.

Sophs Triumph In Grid Finale, 21-0

Washington Aggregation Fights Hard, But Loses; Game Is Exciting

Game as they were, Washington Junior high school's gridiron warriors went down to a 21-0 defeat at the hands of the Sophomore class team from senior high school when the two teams tackled each other at the Washington field, Thursday afternoon.

The heavy sophomore outfit, more experienced than their lighter opponents, outclassed Washington in almost every way. The victors scored in the first, second and fourth periods, with Mackey, quarterback starring. Lane played best for Washington.

The game was the last for both teams.

The summary:
Sophomores 21 Washington 0
Nocera L. E. Rodgers
Joyce L. T. Workman

National Amateur Will Be Played On Course At Chicago

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The 1931 amateur golf championship will be held on the links of the Beverly Country Club in Chicago from August 31st to September 5th, the executive committee of the United States Golf Association announced, Thursday, following its meeting here.

No Opponent Has Yet To Be Secured

Faculty Manager Gardner Hard At Work Trying To Secure Opponents

According to Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of the Senior high school, he has not as yet been able to schedule an opponent to play the New Castle team on December 6, at Taggart Field in a post season game for the benefit of the unemployed.

Among the opponents selected was Martins Ferry, Ohio. Martins Ferry Ohio is playing a post-season contest with Wheeling, West Virginia. Mr. Gardner has been trying to secure an opponent for the past week but has been unsuccessful.

Eight Games Already Approved For Titan 1931 Grid Schedule

Four Games At Home And Four Away; Another Pending

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 21.—Eight football games have already been carded for Westminster for the 1931 season, the faculty committee on athletics announced Thursday. Graduate Manager Andy McDonald arranged the card over a month ago and submitted it to the faculty committee yesterday.

Waynesburg, a Tri-State Conference opponent which has not been met for two seasons, replaces Bethany on next year's schedule. Other contests are with the same teams which are on this year's Titan grid card. An open date, Saturday October 3, will be filled within a few weeks, Graduate Manager McDonald said. Negotiations are being made with a number of schools to arrange a game for this date.

Home attractions for the Titan fans include games with Grove City, Slippery Rock, Juniata and Edinboro. Contests on foreign fields are with Allegheny, Waynesburg, Thiel and Geneva. The Grove City game, annual homecoming day attraction, will again occupy the most important place on the schedule.

The schedule: September 26, Slippery Rock at New Wilmington; October 3, Open date, game pending; October 10, Allegheny at Meadville; October 17, Grove City at New Wil-

MacMurdo-Collins Off Pitt Eleven

Star Ends Are Declared Ineligible By Pitt Faculty Committee

Inability to attend classes with any degree of regularity has spelled doom to two of the Pitt football stars. Jim MacMurdo and Rip Collins will not play against Penn State on Thanksgiving Day, according to an announcement from the Pitt Faculty Committee.

MacMurdo and Collins have been cutting their classes too much lately and unless they square themselves with their respective deans they will view the annual Pitt-Penn State game from the bench in "civies."

Coach Suteland is not even using the two boys in practice. Hirschberg and Dailey have been assigned the terminal positions.

Both can be reinstated when their scholastic work becomes satisfactory to the deans.

Buy Me For Less Than "Half Price"

I can just feel it in my bones that I'll not be loafing around this garage after tomorrow. The facts of the case are, I've just been here a few days and people don't know that I'm for sale. Someone is going to get the bargain of a lifetime. I'm a 1929 Studebaker Dictator Victoria, in other words, a 4-passenger coupe, I can hardly be told from new—I've got new tires all around, paint and mechanical condition in wonderful shape. Now, I cost $1495, but they're going to sell me for $650—Think of it! That's $845 less than I brought 12 months ago. See me tomorrow without fail.

HAPPENINGS IN WORLD OF SPORT

Eligibility Of Star Gridders Is Questioned

Five Backfield Stars Out Of Game Due To Various Misdeeds

COACHES ARE GETTING GREY

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—As the football season draws to a close, many a coach is losing sleep over the possibility of his team being ineligible for the championship game.

Not in many years has such a furor been kicked up over eligibility rules. Five backfield stars, four of them candidates for all-American honors, have been involved. Jumping Joe Savoldi, the Notre Dame thunderbolt; Cy Letzelter of the Army and George Kirkwood of the University of Southern California were barred for good and sufficient reasons.

The other two luminaries who came under fire were Len Macaluso, Colgate battering ram and the east's leading high scorer, and "Tartan Jim" Bausch of the University of Kansas. These two were still in uniform but the smoke of the controversy lingers over the gridiron horizon.

Mid-term examinations, the usual cause of ineligibility, did not play a part in any of the five cases. Savoldi, lacking the tactfulness of Red Cagle, was unable to keep his marriage a secret. Bausch, the stormy petrel of the Big Six conference, is virtually responsible for the University of Kansas being ruled out of the conference at the end of the present season.

Coast Up in Arms.
Letzelter couldn't remember when he was born. Macaluso, accused of having played in two games as a freshman at Colgate, which would make him ineligible under the three-year rule, gave the explanation that a team mate had borrowed his sweater, resulting in an error in the summary.

But it remained for Kirkwood, the U. S. C. halfback, to turn the furor into a bath. Kirkwood, it seems, was merely the young man's nom de gridiron, he having been christened Spencer Kirkwood Purvis. He has been identified as the Purvis who played football for two years at the college of Puget Sound.

The hullabaloo of the U. S. C. California squabble is the greatest aroused on the coast since charges were made several years ago that Washington coaches were recruiting football stars from longshoremen and lumberjacks. And such rattling of skeletons in the gridiron closet is doing the sport practically no good.

In the east the controversy over Letzelter and Macaluso is the noisiest since the barring of Bruce Caldwell, Yale ace, on the eve of the Princeton and Harvard games.

PERFECTLY NATURAL.
"If you haven't a doctor," said the tourist at the hamlet inn, "what happens when anyone is taken seriously ill?"
"Oh, they just die a natural death," Hummel, Hamburg.

Spying On Sports

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor.

The 1930 football season which has now reached the stage where it is picking the coverlet has produced the usual number of unbeaten teams, the usual list of stars, the usual arguments pro and con about "overemphasis" and a MORE THAN USUALLY amount of player probe.

The football player probe has become almost as regular and important a November institution as the Yale-Harvard game. And sometimes gains larger headlines.

Football player probes began decades ago. But in those days they were sporadic, spontaneous affairs. There was no system at all. One year might see a probe launched. The next season there would be none.

However, times and opinion of what constitutes news have changed. Today a football season without at least one player probe can no more be conceived than the spectacle of a school alumnus urging a high school star to attend some other alma mater than his own.

For instance, the season of 1927 was drawing to a close without a single outstanding probe being launched. Football followers were puzzled. Was the grand old game dying out? Was 27 to be known to posterity contemptuously as the year grid talent was so poor there wasn't even a teeny, weeny little probe?

But no! Somebody announced they had discovered that Bruce Caldwell, Yale star, had been a freshman for at least a few days before coming to Yale at which school he was in '27 a senior. The report rocked the football world and Bruce turned in his uniform.

Miniature Football's Colorado Debut

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Nov. 21.—And now it's pee wee football! Bud Buster, of Colorado Springs, has constructed a half-size gridiron on which miniature teams can play.

The field is just half the size of the regulation fields. It takes only five yards to make a first down. Goal posts are just as big and the white lines are just as dazzling, however, as on the larger fields.

A Tom Thurlo league is being organized with players averaging about 100 pounds.

The only thing about the game that is not diminutive is the names of the teams in the league. The Wolf Pack, Wildcats, and Roughnecks already entered, with more junior elevens expected to enter during the season.

Notre Dame Is Favored To Win

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Notre Dame has not yet been forced to its full power as a collegiate football team. The chances in this writer's opinion are that Northwestern will not violently extend the Irish in their struggle at Evanston, tomorrow.

It would not be a smashing surprise to see Notre Dame defeat Northwestern by a healthy score if the Evanston players fail to show more in the first half of the game than they did in the opening quarter by a roady margin looks more likely than a purple triumph by a single point. We think the margin of victory scored by Notre Dame may be extremely impressive.

Harvard-Yale.
The Irish stand out as the most probable winner in the entire country's card of major battles tomorrow, for at New Haven an apparently underdog aggregation from Harvard has a chance to thrill to tradition and pass itself to victory over what looks like a more powerful Yale eleven. If the New England classic is strictly an air game, the Crimson should win.

In another memory-hung battle renewal, Stanford is rated superior to California but the crushed Golden Bears may grid themselves with reborn strength and show a paw of unexpected fierceness in the bout in Berkeley Bowl.

Michigan is picked to win over Chicago, Ohio State is figured better than Illinois and Wisconsin versus Minnesota, Purdue versus Indiana and Iowa versus Nebraska are the day's guessing contests. Kansas may win from Missouri, although the latter team has showed fine development as the season progressed.

Fordham-Bucknell.
Down south the Vanderbilt eleven is ranked considerably above Auburn and Southern Methodist should turn back Rice.

Army gets a well timed rest before its terrific fight with Notre Dame by taking on Ursinus and Navy should win from Maryland.

Fordham, smarting from its first defeat in two years—St. Mary's of California did it last week—has another tough opponent in Bucknell but should win, along with New York University, opposing Rutgers.

Carnegie Tech will find a splendid machine in Temple and Georgetown, maddened by an unlucky defeat by the New York U. Violets last Saturday, will give Villanova no time for day dreams.
